Rhee Calls For Great Assault On Red China With U.S. Air, Sea Aid

AIR ACADEMY HEAD — Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon (above) has been appointed superintendent of the new Air Force Academy. He was a special assistant for Air Academy matters since December, 1949. Harmon, who retired in 1953, but was recalled to active duty, was a member of the two special commissions which considered special sites for the school. He was a 1915 Military Academy classmate of President Eisenhower.

Congress' Reaction To ROK President's Proposal Is Silence

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, in a fighting speech to Congress, proposed today that the U.S. Navy and Air Force join in an attack by a two-million-man Asian army against Red China.

Silence was the main reaction to this proposal, voiced to a joint session of the Senate and House.

Otherwise, the lawmakers broke into applause six times for Rhee, indomitable still in his old age.

"You have to admire that old man tremendously," Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a typical comment later.

"Great Speech," Wiley Says

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was asked particularly about Rhee's call for help from the American Navy and Air Force. Wiley limited himself to saying:

"Listened with great interest to a great man and a great patriot who made a great speech for his country."

"A million and a half young Koreans ask for nothing better than to fight for the cause of human freedom, their honor and their nation.

"The government of the Republic of China also has offered you 630,000 men of its armed forces and additional reserves.

"The Communist regime on the mainland of China is a monster with feet of clay. It is hated by the masses. Red China's army numbers 2,500,000, but its loyalty is not reliable.

No U.S. Foot Soldiers

"A blockade of the China coast by the American Navy would produce chaos in its communications.

"The American Air Force as well as the Navy would be needed to insure the success of the counterattack of the Red Chinese regime. But, let me repeat, no American foot soldier.

"The return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world would automatically produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina, and would swing the balance of power so strongly against the Soviet Union that it would not dare to risk war with the United States."

French Get Aid Of Reds In Mine Clearing Chore

HANOI, Indochina, July 28 (AP)—A French patrol got unexpected help today in clearing road mines near Trung Ha, 35 miles northwest of Hanoi. Soldiers of the Communist-led Vietminh pitched in and worked with them.

Troops Pull Back

Throughout the Red River Delta, French and Vietnamese pulled back from their outposts toward Hanoi in accordance with the cease-fire which began in North Viet Nam yesterday. At several points, Vietminh commanders went up to the posts and quietly watched the withdrawal.

The Vietminh generally appeared eager to speed the parting French Union military, with whom they fought an exhausting jungle and rice paddy war for nearly eight years. They took a much more active interest in anti-Communist Vietnamese civilians trying to quit the Delta with the French before it falls fully under Vietminh in another 10 months.

Evacuation Roadblocks

A French briefing officer said Vietminh supporters had tried to block evacuating civilians at Phu Lang Thuong, 30 miles northeast of Hanoi. They put up roadblocks and tried to cajole, argue, or scare the civilians into staying behind, the officer said. No physical violence or casualties were reported.

At Dong Trieu, 20 miles northwest of Haiphong, Vietminh supporters tried to persuade Vietnamese soldiers also to stay. To emphasize their appeal, the Vietminh put up loudspeakers on street corners and proclaimed there would be no reprisals against any who chose to remain after the French withdrew.

U.S. Aid To Egypt Will Begin Soon

CAIRO, Egypt, July 28 (AP) — American military and economic aid will soon begin flowing into Egypt in quantity as a result of Britain's agreement to evacuate the Suez Canal zone, informed sources said today.

An unwritten U. S. commitment to help build up Egypt's economy and military establishment was a big factor in persuading Egypt to accept terms agreeable to London whereby the British will pull their 83,000 troops out of the zone, the informants said.

The United States is expected to put chief emphasis on economic aid to this country, since problems of irrigation and industrialization have a high priority with Egypt's governing Revolutionary Council. Anawar El Sadat, a member of the Council, said last night Egypt also expects U.S. aid to double the strength of the Egyptian army within five years. But other informed sources discounted talk of such a buildup.

Omnibus Housing Legislation Sent To White House

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed and sent to the White House an omnibus housing bill reducing down payments on homes bought with government-insured mortgages and setting up safeguards against "windfall" profits on big rental projects. The vote was 59-21.

The legislation generally follows President Eisenhower's recommendations but falls short of what he asked for in low-rent public housing units subsidized by the government.

Compromise Measure

A compromise between differing House and Senate measures, the bill is designed to insure continued high-level home building at a rate greater than one million units annually.

Its public housing feature of 35,000 units in the next year, restricted to families actually displaced by federal slum clearance activities, compares with Eisenhower's request for 140,000 units over the next four years.

Lehman, Ives Critical

The Senate had approved the President's public housing program. The House refused to authorize any new public housing authority. A conference committee agreed to the 35,000 compromise.

Senators Lehman (D-Lib) and Sen. Ives (R), both of New York, blasted this compromise provision in identical language — "a sham and a delusion."

Butler Voted For Bill

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The 59—21 roll call vote by which the Senate tonight passed and sent to the White House a compromise omnibus new housing program included:

Democrats for:
West Virginia—Neely.
Democrats against:

Balkan Defense Pact Meeting Opens Aug. 6

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 28 (AP)—Yugoslavia announced today that a "Little Three" Foreign Ministers meeting to sign a Balkan military alliance will start Aug. 6 at the Yugoslav resort of Bled.

The Greek, Turkish and Yugoslav Foreign Ministers were to have met July 17 to conclude the proposed mutual defense pact, but the meeting was postponed at the last minute.

Ike Reassures Allies, Cautions Chinese Reds

President Says U. S. Will Defend Rights, Won't Be Truculent

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower, denying that U.S. warplanes provoked the recent clash with Red Chinese craft, declared today this country will defend its rights but won't be truculent.

His remarks at a news conference evidently had the two-fold purpose of cautioning the Peiping regime against further attacks and reassuring this country's allies, some of whom reportedly feel the United States has been too belligerent in the Far East.

The President said the American planes which shot it out with Chinese Red aircraft, and downed two off Red-ruled Hainan, had a right to be where they were. He added that they will be withdrawn now that their mission of searching for survivors of a British airliner destroyed earlier by Red fighters is drawing to a close.

Two Carriers Search Area

Two American aircraft carriers, the Philippine Sea and Hornet, have been searching the region after the Chinese fighters blasted the British airliner last Friday, killing 10 persons, including three Americans. Hope of finding any more survivors has ebbed, and the Navy said the search may end within 24 hours.

The United States charges that during this search, planes from Hainan attacked American planes from the Philippine Sea outside the territorial waters of Red China and two of the attacking craft were shot down.

Ike Rejects Chinese Charge

The President rejected the Red Chinese charge that the American planes violated Chinese sovereignty by flying over Hainan. He said the American carrier task force had a right to be where it was, that it was there on legitimate business and would defend its rights.

Told that some dispatches from Paris expressed uneasiness over the American attitude, the President stressed that this country has no thought of being impulsive or truculent. Americans will not provoke any incident, he said, but will take necessary measures to defend themselves.

Death Of Woman, Neighbor Probed

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 28 (AP) — Police questioned a photo shop owner today about the pistol slaying of his next door neighbor and the mysterious drowning of his own wife a few hours later.

William Demand, 35, the photographer, told police his memory of last night's events was hazy. He was held in jail for investigation.

His neighbor, Vernon Donn Frederick, 38, a city councilman and service station owner, was shot through the heart as he sat watching a television program in his living room.

Then, shortly before midnight, Demand's wife, Faye, 29, drove her car down a road in nearby Scottsdale. It was seen to weave along the highway at about 10 miles an hour, miss a bridge and plunge in Grand Canal. Mrs. Demand's body was found in the vehicle. Demand drove up shortly afterward in his own car and told officers he had been attracted to the spot by the sound of police sirens.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Robertson searched Demand's car and found a .38 caliber pistol and a .32 caliber pistol.

House Approves $5,208,000,000 Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP) — A bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program through June 30, 1955, was passed by the House today on a 266-128 roll call vote.

The House approved $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 to be drawn from carryover funds appropriated in previous years. This is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested for the current 12 months.

Now the measure goes to the Senate, where it will join a bill authorizing the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 in new money for foreign aid during the current fiscal year.

Senate Debates Measure

Senate debate on the authorization measure, which does not deal with old, unobligated funds, began today. After the authorization bill is passed, separate legislation is necessary to appropriate the old and new money.

Foreign aid is designed to strengthen allies of the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. Most of it goes for direct military assistance, aircraft, tanks and other weapons, but a portion is invested in building up the economies of friendly nations.

Democrats gave the greatest support to the bill on final House passage, 144 voting for it, together with 121 Republicans and one Independent. Opposing it were 85 Republicans and 43 Democrats.

712 Million For Asia Defense

In seven hours of debate yesterday, every effort to change the aid bill as recommended by the House Appropriations Committee was defeated.

The bill allots 712 million dollars in new cash for defense aid in Southeast Asia, a reduction of 88 million from Eisenhower's figure.

For special economic assistance, it provides 115 million of the 130 million requested for the Near East and Africa, 60½ of the 85 million asked for India, and the entire nine million requested for American republics.

Thief Sends Back 'Unlucky' Wallet He Stole In 1951

MANITOWOC, Wis., July 28 (AP)—George Massman who lost his wallet at a White Sox baseball game in Chicago three years ago has it back. It was returned by a pickpocket who said it brought him bad luck.

Mrs. Massman opened a package that arrived by mail under a South Chicago postmark and was amazed when her husband's wallet was inside. Her amazement grew as she read an enclosed, unsigned letter.

"I have picked many pockets and I have kept the wallets for souvenirs but ever since I picked yours I have been having bad luck so I'm sending it back," declared the message.

All papers and identification were there in addition to a return ticket to Manitowoc and one $10 and one $20 bill.

Sergeant Freed Of Abuse Charge

FT. DIX, N.J., July 28 (AP)—Sgt. 1.C. Richard J. Witbeck was acquitted today of charges that he inflicted "cruel and unusual mass punishment" on a company of trainees by making them stand at attention for an hour in 92-degree heat.

A three-man court-martial deliberated 40 minutes before freeing the 24-year-old acting first sergeant from Wellington, Ohio.

Several witnesses testified that 225 soldiers were made to stand at attention on June 21 in wilting heat as a disciplinary measure and that those who passed out were doused with cold water.

But the defense contended that Witbeck was not in command of the company at the time of the incident, that he acted on orders of superiors, and that he did not give the orders that water be thrown on the men on his own authority.

1st Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Witbeck's company commander, who was charged with dereliction of duty as a result of the incident, was tried by a court-martial board Friday and freed.

OTTAWA, July 28 (AP) — Canada formally agreed today to be a member of the three-nation commission that will supervise the Indochina armistice.

Flanders Says McCarthy Faces "Judgment Day"

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is a "desperate man" who is likely to lash out at any senator who supports the censure motion Flanders proposes to raise against McCarthy in the Senate Friday.

The Wisconsin senator is "facing his day of judgment," Flanders said in a Senate speech.

"It's a showdown he would like to avoid, and he is likely to lash out in any direction with irrational attacks to divert attention from himself."

Ready For Counterattack

The 73-year-old Vermonter added that he is facing the prospect of a McCarthy counterattack confidently.

Both he and Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said the Senate should face up to the McCarthy issue no matter in what form it is voted on.

In another speech to the Senate, Lehman accused McCarthy of having "tragically abused and perverted" power given him by the Senate.

McCarthy Unusually Quiet

He has not replied to the latest attacks made on him and has, indeed, been unusually quiet during the course of Flanders' whole campaign. Aside from calling Flanders "senile" and suggesting "they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place," McCarthy has taken virtually no public notice of the campaign against him.

It may be different when the issue comes to the Senate floor.

Majority Leader Knowland of California has announced he will try to kill Flanders' resolution by having it tabled under procedure which does not permit debate. Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) says he will seek to amend the resolution to censure Flanders for unbecoming conduct in attacking another senator.

Move To Bar Dividend Levy Cut Defeated

Senate To Act Today; Compromise Doesn't Change Major Rates

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final House passage today, 315 to 77.

Only Senate approval—scheduled tomorrow—is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The House defeated, 227-169, a last-ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the Senate.

Major Rates Unchanged

The compromise bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

Cuts Effective Last Jan. 1

Most of the tax cuts would take effect as of last Jan. 1 and would show up in returns filed next spring. The revenue reductions would mount in future years. No overall estimates of future effects are available, although some Democrats argue the revenue loss will mount above two billion dollars.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, told the House passage of the program would signal "a green light" for expansion of the national economy.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn), senior Democrat on the tax committee, insisted "it is wrong" to give more favorable tax treatment for dividend income than for workers' income earned in wages and salaries.

Dr. John "Statement" Broadcast By Reds

BERLIN, July 28 (AP)—Communist radio Berlin broadcast tonight another statement it said was by Dr. Otto John, West Germany's missing security chief, calling for reunification of Germany.

"I have followed the voice of my conscience and I am convinced that I have chosen the right way," the statement said.

John, 44, disappeared in Communist East Berlin eight days ago. The Reds later said he went to the East on his own choice. The West German government and the U.S. High Commission have said John was trapped into going.

Hospital Technician Admits Intimacies With Sheppard

CLEVELAND, July 28 (AP)—Susan Hayes, a pretty suntanned girl with a string of freckles across her nose, has admitted intimacies with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and also that she received a number of expensive gifts from him, County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan said today.

In going over a signed statement she gave police, he told newsmen the 24-year-old hospital technician had reported intimacies in "addition" to the ones last March during the handsome osteopath's stay in California.

Her story conflicts with the one Dr. Sheppard gave at a coroner's inquest into the killing of his 31-year-old pregnant wife, Marilyn. He said their relationship was casual.

Contents of letters she told of exchanging with the husband were "behind the Iron Curtain," Cullitan declared in refusing to release them.

The prosecutor said gifts she reported receiving included a gold signet ring, a suede jacket and a wrist watch. The watch was previously mentioned.

Miss Hayes, wearing no makeup except lipstick, flew into Cleveland with two investigators last night. She volunteered to help police who are investigating the death of Mrs. Sheppard, killed by 25 blows on the head in what Coroner Samuel Gerber called a crime of "fury."

Brought up in nearby Rocky River, Miss Hayes once worked at Bay View Hospital where Dr. Sheppard practices in suburban Bay Village. She left there early this year to take a job in Los Angeles.

Byrd Forces Say Mahoney May Cause Absentee Ballot Snag

CENTREVILLE, Md., July 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney's bid for court examination of primary election ballots brought a charge today from H. C. Byrd forces that this would keep the Democratic nominee for governor off absentee ballots in the general election.

Judge William R. Horney promised a decision on Friday.

Mahoney, seeking to upset the Byrd victory, has asked court examination of ballots in Queen Annes County.

Mahoney petitions contend election boards did not follow prescribed rules for rejecting ballots in the recounts of ballots in the June 28 primary to name a Democratic candidate for governor.

Mahoney Declares He'll 'Stand Or Fall' On His Ballot Suits

CENTREVILLE, Md., July 28 (AP)—George P. Mahoney said today he will "stand or fall" on court efforts to throw out ballots in Queen Annes and Talbot counties and upset H. C. Byrd's Democratic nomination for governor.

Mahoney's statement brought the end of the unprecedented election contest within sight.

In Queen Annes about 500 ballots were challenged and in Talbot the total was about 250.

Mahoney forces hope to have the challenged ballots reviewed in court and thrown out, thus giving demurrer today, said the time necessary for the courts to examine the vote would extend past the Sept. 7 deadline for preparation of absentee ballots.

If the Byrd forces objections to the Mahoney mandamus action are sustained by Judge Horney, Mahoney lawyers say they'll go to the court of appeals.

Court action by Mahoney has held up work of the State Democratic convention. It went into recess Monday after naming a permanent chairman and handling Mahoney both counties and consequently the Democratic nomination.

Attorneys for Byrd, in asking a some other routine business.

Chairman Michael Birmingham said delegates would be asked to reconvene by "the middle of next week" and nominate a candidate for governor.

Big Chunk Of Falls Plunges Into Niagara River Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 28 (AP)—A big chunk of Prospect Point, a favorite spot of honeymooners, roared into the yawning Niagara River gorge today.

Thousands saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The whole point was roped off early this morning when a series of deep cracks opened just upstream from the cataract.

The rock fall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide and 150 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission estimated. About 200 feet of the falls crestline collapsed to a point about 70 feet down the face. At that point, the falls are 160 feet high.

The rockfall, largest since a huge section of the American falls toppled into the gorge Jan. 31, 1931, gave the falls a new look—a deep crevice—along its flank.

The drop, which took nearly 10 minutes, started when crevices widened in the pavement and lawn at Prospect Point. Wire and iron fences along the edge of the escarpment gave way, the point seemed to settle, then broke into huge pieces and crashed into the gorge.

Riverbed sections followed, with tremendous slabs breaking off the crest and tumbling to the mist-shrouded rocks below.

Further but smaller rockfalls were expected. Officials said one piece, with a tree growing on it, would have to be blasted off if it didn't fall.

Ike Rejects Chinese Charge

The President rejected the Red Chinese charge that the American planes violated Chinese sovereignty by flying over Hainan. He said the American carrier task force had a right to be where it was, that it was there on legitimate business and would defend its rights.

Told that some dispatches from Paris expressed uneasiness over the American attitude, the President stressed that this country has no thought of being impulsive or truculent. Americans will not provoke any incident, he said, but will take necessary measures to defend themselves.

Death Of Woman, Neighbor Probed

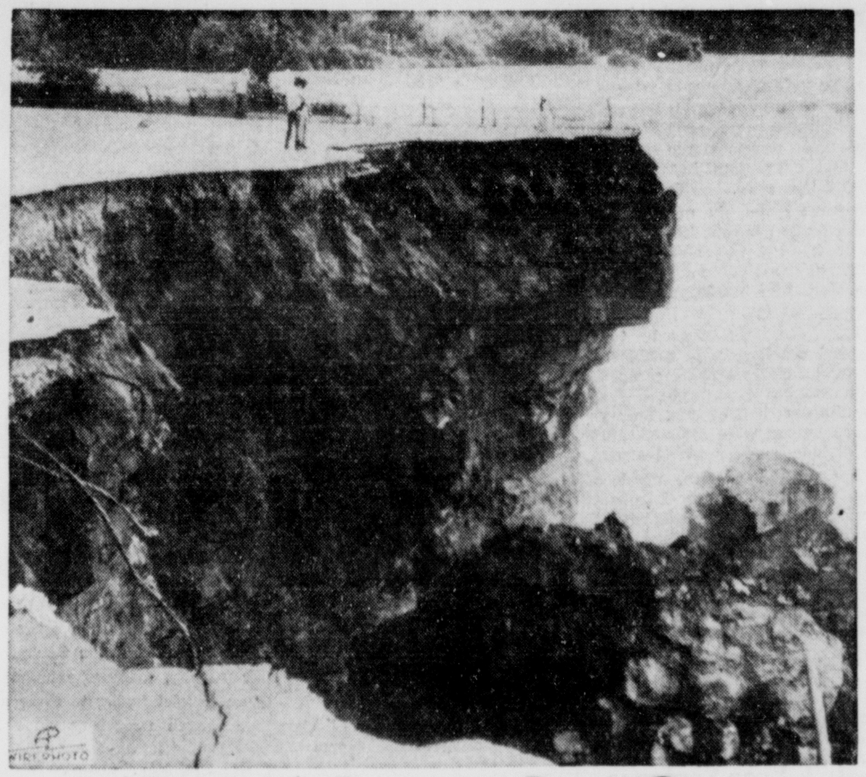
PHOENIX, Ariz., July 28 (AP) — Police questioned a photo shop owner today about the pistol slaying of his next door neighbor and the mysterious drowning of his own wife a few hours later.

William Demand, 35, the photographer, told police his memory of last night's events was hazy. He was held in jail for investigation.

His neighbor, Vernon Donn Frederick, 38, a city councilman and service station owner, was shot through the heart as he sat watching a television program in his living room.

Then, shortly before midnight, Demand's wife, Faye, 29, drove her car down a road in nearby Scottsdale. It was seen to weave along the highway at about 10 miles an hour, miss a bridge and plunge in Grand Canal. Mrs. Demand's body was found in the vehicle. Demand drove up shortly afterward in his own car and told officers he had been attracted to the spot by the sound of police sirens.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Robertson searched Demand's car and found a .38 caliber pistol and a .32 caliber pistol.



Niagara's Prospect Point Gone

House Approves $5,208,000,000 Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP) — A bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program through June 30, 1955, was passed by the House today on a 266-128 roll call vote.

The House approved $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 to be drawn from carryover funds appropriated in previous years. This is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested for the current 12 months.

Now the measure goes to the Senate, where it will join a bill authorizing the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 in new money for foreign aid during the current fiscal year.

Senate Debates Measure

Senate debate on the authorization measure, which does not deal with old, unobligated funds, began today. After the authorization bill is passed, separate legislation is necessary to appropriate the old and new money.

Foreign aid is designed to strengthen allies of the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. Most of it goes for direct military assistance, aircraft, tanks and other weapons, but a portion is invested in building up the economies of friendly nations.

Democrats gave the greatest support to the bill on final House passage, 144 voting for it, together with 121 Republicans and one Independent. Opposing it were 85 Republicans and 43 Democrats.

712 Million For Asia Defense

In seven hours of debate yesterday, every effort to change the aid bill as recommended by the House Appropriations Committee was defeated.

The bill allots 712 million dollars in new cash for defense aid in Southeast Asia, a reduction of 88 million from Eisenhower's figure.

For special economic assistance, it provides 115 million of the 130 million requested for the Near East and Africa, 60½ of the 85 million asked for India, and the entire nine million requested for American republics.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., July 28 (AP)—An explosion of leaking gas blasted a downtown business building into rubble during the noon rush today, killing two men and injuring 13 others.

Thief Sends Back 'Unlucky' Wallet He Stole In 1951

MANITOWOC, Wis., July 28 (AP)—George Massman who lost his wallet at a White Sox baseball game in Chicago three years ago has it back. It was returned by a pickpocket who said it brought him bad luck.

Mrs. Massman opened a package that arrived by mail under a South Chicago postmark and was amazed when her husband's wallet was inside. Her amazement grew as she read an enclosed, unsigned letter.

"I have picked many pockets and I have kept the wallets for souvenirs but ever since I picked yours I have been having bad luck so I'm sending it back," declared the message.

All papers and identification were there in addition to a return ticket to Manitowoc and one $10 and one $20 bill.

Sergeant Freed Of Abuse Charge

FT. DIX, N.J., July 28 (AP)—Sgt. 1.C. Richard J. Witbeck was acquitted today of charges that he inflicted "cruel and unusual mass punishment" on a company of trainees by making them stand at attention for an hour in 92-degree heat.

A three-man court-martial deliberated 40 minutes before freeing the 24-year-old acting first sergeant from Wellington, Ohio.

Several witnesses testified that 225 soldiers were made to stand at attention on June 21 in wilting heat as a disciplinary measure and that those who passed out were doused with cold water.

But the defense contended that Witbeck was not in command of the company at the time of the incident, that he acted on orders of superiors, and that he did not give the orders that water be thrown on the men on his own authority.

1st Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Witbeck's company commander, who was charged with dereliction of duty as a result of the incident, was tried by a court-martial board Friday and freed.

Flanders Says McCarthy Faces "Judgment Day"

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) is a "desperate man" who is likely to lash out at any senator who supports the censure motion Flanders proposes to raise against McCarthy in the Senate Friday.

The Wisconsin senator is "facing his day of judgment," Flanders said in a Senate speech.

"It's a showdown he would like to avoid, and he is likely to lash out in any direction with irrational attacks to divert attention from himself."

Ready For Counterattack

The 73-year-old Vermonter added that he is facing the prospect of a McCarthy counterattack confidently.

Both he and Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) said the Senate should face up to the McCarthy issue no matter in what form it is voted on.

In another speech to the Senate, Lehman accused McCarthy of having "tragically abused and perverted" power given him by the Senate.

McCarthy Unusually Quiet

He has not replied to the latest attacks made on him and has, indeed, been unusually quiet during the course of Flanders' whole campaign. Aside from calling Flanders "senile" and suggesting "they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place," McCarthy has taken virtually no public notice of the campaign against him.

It may be different when the issue comes to the Senate floor.

Majority Leader Knowland of California has announced he will try to kill Flanders' resolution by having it tabled under procedure which does not permit debate. Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) says he will seek to amend the resolution to censure Flanders for unbecoming conduct in attacking another senator.

Move To Bar Dividend Levy Cut Defeated

Senate To Act Today; Compromise Doesn't Change Major Rates

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final House passage today, 315 to 77.

Only Senate approval—scheduled tomorrow—is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The House defeated, 227-169, a last-ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the Senate.

Major Rates Unchanged

The compromise bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

Cuts Effective Last Jan. 1

Most of the tax cuts would take effect as of last Jan. 1 and would show up in returns filed next spring. The revenue reductions would mount in future years. No overall estimates of future effects are available, although some Democrats argue the revenue loss will mount above two billion dollars.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, told the House passage of the program would signal "a green light" for expansion of the national economy.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn), senior Democrat on the tax committee, insisted "it is wrong" to give more favorable tax treatment for dividend income than for workers' income earned in wages and salaries.

Dr. John "Statement" Broadcast By Reds

BERLIN, July 28 (AP)—Communist radio Berlin broadcast tonight another statement it said was by Dr. Otto John, West Germany's missing security chief, calling for reunification of Germany.

"I have followed the voice of my conscience and I am convinced that I have chosen the right way," the statement said.

John, 44, disappeared in Communist East Berlin eight days ago. The Reds later said he went to the East on his own choice. The West German government and the U.S. High Commission have said John was trapped into going.

Hospital Technician Admits Intimacies With Sheppard

CLEVELAND, July 28 (AP)—Susan Hayes, a pretty suntanned girl with a string of freckles across her nose, has admitted intimacies with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and also that she received a number of expensive gifts from him, County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan said today.

In going over a signed statement she gave police, he told newsmen the 24-year-old hospital technician had reported intimacies in "addition" to the ones last March during the handsome osteopath's stay in California.

Her story conflicts with the one Dr. Sheppard gave at a coroner's inquest into the killing of his 31-year-old pregnant wife, Marilyn. He said their relationship was casual.

Contents of letters she told of exchanging with the husband were "behind the Iron Curtain," Cullitan declared in refusing to release them.

The prosecutor said gifts she reported receiving included a gold signet ring, a suede jacket and a wrist watch. The watch was previously mentioned.

Miss Hayes, wearing no makeup except lipstick, flew into Cleveland with two investigators last night. She volunteered to help police who are investigating the death of Mrs. Sheppard, killed by 25 blows on the head in what Coroner Samuel Gerber called a crime of "fury."

Brought up in nearby Rocky River, Miss Hayes once worked at Bay View Hospital where Dr. Sheppard practices in suburban Bay Village. She left there early this year to take a job in Los Angeles.

Byrd Forces Say Mahoney May Cause Absentee Ballot Snag

CENTREVILLE, Md., July 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney's bid for court examination of primary election ballots brought a charge today from H. C. Byrd forces that this would keep the Democratic nominee for governor off absentee ballots in the general election.

Judge William R. Horney promised a decision on Friday.

Mahoney, seeking to upset the Byrd victory, has asked court examination of ballots in Queen Annes County.

Mahoney petitions contend election boards did not follow prescribed rules for rejecting ballots in the recounts of ballots in the June 28 primary to name a Democratic candidate for governor.

Mahoney Declares He'll 'Stand Or Fall' On His Ballot Suits

CENTREVILLE, Md., July 28 (AP)—George P. Mahoney said today he will "stand or fall" on court efforts to throw out ballots in Queen Annes and Talbot counties and upset H. C. Byrd's Democratic nomination for governor.

Mahoney's statement brought the end of the unprecedented election contest within sight.

In Queen Annes about 500 ballots were challenged and in Talbot the total was about 250.

Mahoney forces hope to have the challenged ballots reviewed in court and thrown out, thus giving demurrer today, said the time necessary for the courts to examine the vote would extend past the Sept. 7 deadline for preparation of absentee ballots.

If the Byrd forces objections to the Mahoney mandamus action are sustained by Judge Horney, Mahoney lawyers say they'll go to the court of appeals.

Court action by Mahoney has held up work of the State Democratic convention. It went into recess Monday after naming a permanent chairman and handling Mahoney both counties and consequently the Democratic nomination.

Attorneys for Byrd, in asking a some other routine business.

Chairman Michael Birmingham said delegates would be asked to reconvene by "the middle of next week" and nominate a candidate for governor.

Big Chunk Of Falls Plunges Into Niagara River Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 28 (AP)—A big chunk of Prospect Point, a favorite spot of honeymooners, roared into the yawning Niagara River gorge today.

Thousands saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The whole point was roped off early this morning when a series of deep cracks opened just upstream from the cataract.

The rock fall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide and 150 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission estimated. About 200 feet of the falls crestline collapsed to a point about 70 feet down the face. At that point, the falls are 160 feet high.

The rockfall, largest since a huge section of the American falls toppled into the gorge Jan. 31, 1931, gave the falls a new look—a deep crevice—along its flank.

The drop, which took nearly 10 minutes, started when crevices widened in the pavement and lawn at Prospect Point. Wire and iron fences along the edge of the escarpment gave way, the point seemed to settle, then broke into huge pieces and crashed into the gorge.

Riverbed sections followed, with tremendous slabs breaking off the crest and tumbling to the mist-shrouded rocks below.

Further but smaller rockfalls were expected. Officials said one piece, with a tree growing on it, would have to be blasted off if it didn't fall.

Ike Urges Enactment Of 'Security' Program

Six Parts Of Legislative Plan Are 'Musts'

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he would be bitterly disappointed should Congress fail to enact six major parts of his legislative program—tax, farm, anti-Communist, housing, Social Security and foreign aid bills.

Their purpose, Eisenhower told a news conference, is to strengthen America at home and increase her security abroad.

He said he also can see no escape from a boost in the 275 billion dollar limit on the public debt. The increase is a necessity, he said, but plans to meet the problem aren't yet ready for announcement.

Red Chinese attacks on British and American planes off the Asiatic coast, Eisenhower said, are at the very least a part of a plan for splitting the Western Allies. The Communists, he said, apologized at once for shooting down a British plane, then took a different attitude when we were involved.

We don't mean to be impulsive and truculent, the President said, but we do mean to defend our rights. The American planes which shot down two attacking Chinese aircraft, he said, were on legitimate business hunting survivors of the downed British plane.

The conference was strictly a question and answer affair, a leisurely, good-humored session punctuated by frequent chuckles and laughter from President and press. And it swept over a wide range of current foreign and domestic issues.

On the domestic side it covered:

Politics — The chief executive said he didn't think he should support anyone in the congressional election campaigns who doesn't believe in his principles, and he makes a bit of a check on the records of those candidates who want their pictures taken with him for campaign purposes. But he said different ideas about different things make democracy, and support of the administration or his own personal views needn't be 100 per cent.

Watch tariff — Eisenhower defended the decision he made yesterday to hike duties on some imported watches as a specialized case to help an industry and preserve skills needed for defense purposes.

Food prices — Asked whether he has evidence of a consumer revolt against them, Eisenhower said he had heard here and there about the high price of food and cost of living. But he said the cost of living index has been about as stable as could possibly be expected the last 18 months.

General Motors Profits Up 36%

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—General Motors Corp., world's biggest manufacturing concern, made 36 per cent more profits in the first half of this year than in the same period last year.

Sales for the six months were down seven per cent from 1953 but GM's tax bill was almost cut in half, due mainly to elimination last Jan. 1 of the 30 per cent excess profits tax.

The quarterly report today showed net income of $425,250,383 or $4.79 a common share compared with $312,845,787 or $3.51 a share for the first half of 1953. Both per share figures were after $6,464,000 in dividends on preferred stocks.

Harlowe H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., board chairman, reported GM business continued at near record levels through the second quarter. Net sales for the first half totalled $5,066,028,511 compared with $5,440,545,856 in the like 1953 period, while second quarter sales were $2,655,870,957 against $2,893,691,134 a year ago.

Crown Jewel Thief Gets 6-Year Sentence

HECHINGEN, Germany, July 28 (AP)—Paul Falk, self - styled Gentleman Thief, was convicted here today of stealing $24,000 of crown jewels from nearby Hohenzollern castle. He was sentenced to six years at hard labor.

Falk, who has spent 20 of his 48 years in prison for robbery, bigamy and passing counterfeit money, told the court he adopted the name Gentleman Thief because he always robbed "upper-crust society."

He left behind a priceless gem-studded crown, last worn by Kaiser Wilhelm, when he raided the castle's treasure chamber last year. Falk told the court "I had too much reverence for royalty to take it."

Sen. McClellan Apparently Wins In Ark. Primary

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 28 (AP)—Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark) apparently won renomination to a third term by a thin majority in Tuesday's Arkansas primary but his bitter political foe — ex-Gov. Sid McMath—refused to concede.

With only 25 of the state's 2,302 precincts unreported, McClellan had an unofficial 4,421 margin over the combined vote of his three competitors. Democratic nomination in Arkansas virtually assures the winner of election in November.

Ellender Wins In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, July 28 (AP)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender and eight Louisiana congressional incumbents were swept back into office today with most candidates winning new terms by overwhelming margins.

Ellender, ranking minority member on the Senate Agriculture Committee and a veteran of 16 years in the Senate, polled a 100,000-vote plurality over two opponents in a bid for a fourth straight term.

Gary Oklahoma Victor

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 28 (AP)—Raymond Gary, yesterday's runoff winner over William O. Coe for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Oklahoma, acted today in an attempt to close party ranks for the November general election.

Gary, who beat Coe by an unofficial vote of 251,133 to 233,812 based on returns from 3,150 of the state's 3,154 precincts, faces Republican Rueben K. Sparks Nov. 2. Sparks won nomination in the first primary July 6.

"Rally with me this fall," Gary said, appealing to Coe supporters.

Adapting Armed Forces To Atom, U. S. Tells U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., July 28 (AP)—The United States told the U.N. today tha. it is adapting its armed forces to atomic weapons and will continue to do so as long as Communist aggression continues.

The U.S. delegate to the 12-member U.N. Disarmament Commission, Morehead Patterson, stated the U.S. position in commenting on a complaint by Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin that the United States is doing this and asked: "Does Mr. Tsarapkin wish to leave the impression that the Soviet Union is not doing the same thing?"

Runaway Girl, 15, Resentful Of Foster Parents, Found

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)—A rebellious 15-year-old girl, voicing caustic resentment of her wealthy foster parents, today was found in a slum district trying to elude a police search underway since Sunday.

Trim-figured, blonde Prudence Platt's anger at being discovered even flustered her father so much that he had to admit he wasn't sure it was his own daughter.

"I'm not your daughter. I dont' even know you," Prudence bitterly cried when confronted by Henry Platt of suburban Evanston, vice president of a coal company.

Platt, taken aback, adjusted his glasses, and said: "It certainly looks like her, but I don't know." Then he assured himself it was Prudence by finding a small scar on her left leg.

"I don't want any part of them. I don't get along with them. That's final!"

Mrs. Platt, weeping told newsmen, "I don't know why she's doing this to us."

The search for Prudence began Sunday after she failed to come home from a picnic of teen-agers.

Dressed in a T-shirt, denim slacks and sandals, the sun-tanned girl was picked up in a predominantly Negro district on the South Side, a long way from the pleasant North Shore suburb where she grew up.

Police said passersby recognized her from newspaper pictures and notified them.

At first, she claimed she was 17 and from Wayne, Mich. She said she had been "kicked out" of a boy friend's car after he drove her to Chicago.

Cabinet Shakeup Hints Churchill Will Not Retire

LONDON, July 28 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill replaced two of his cabinet ministers today in a government shakeup that indicated he intends to stay on as Prime Minister. A third minister offered his resignation tonight but there was no indication it had been accepted.

Churchill, 79 and under heavy pressure from his doctors and his wife to retire, filled two cabinet jobs vacated by resignations and reshuffled his junior aides in an obvious ministerial patch up effort.

Alan Lennox-Boyd 49, minister of transport and civil aviation, was moved up to Cabinet rank and appointed colonial secretary. He replaces Oliver Lyttelton, who resigned tonight for personal reasons.

Derek Heathcoat Amory, 54, minister of state at the Board of Trade, was named to replace Sir Thomas Dugdale as agriculture minister. This post also is of Cabinet rank.

John Boy Carpenter, financial secretary to the Treasury, replaces Lennox-Boyd as minister of transport, a non-cabinet job.

Shortly after these changes were made, Atty. Gen. Sir Lionel Heald told a Conservative garden party at suburban Virginia Water that he, too, had placed his resignation in Churchill's hands. There was no hint, however, as to what might happen in his case.

Heald has made it plain for some time he would like to quit the government and return to his law business. The fact that his name was not included in tonight's reshuffle, even though his resignation was on Churchill's desk, strengthened the conviction that Churchill plans to leave any drastic remodeling of the government to his successor.

Fight Waged To Save Victim Of Navy Diving Tank Mishap

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)— A battery of Navy doctors, stripped down to their shorts, worked round-the-clock today inside a decompression chamber in a fight for the life of a young Navy diver who collapsed mysteriously inside a diving tank.

The victim of the mishap, described as the first of its kind in the 27-year history of the Navy Deep Sea Diving School, was Arthur L. Appleton, 24, machinist's mate from Carbondale, Ill.

Lt. Comdr. W. A. Wilson, who heads the diving school, said he was at a loss to understand the ailment. Appleton's condition was rated as "serious."

The deep sea dives are simulated in a special tank at the Naval Gun Factory here. It permits pressures equal to as great as those at a depth of 300 feet. When Appleton collapsed, shortly before noon yesterday, he was on a 15-minute routine dive in 10 feet of water with pressures equal to 100 feet.

Reginald Shepard, boatswain's mate from Salt Lake City, another student who was with Appleton in the tank, reported his companion was suffering from dizziness and asked to be brought back to the surface.

Appleton was whisked to the surface and taken through a series of tunnels into a decompression chamber where Albert W. Holmes, hospitalman, Groton, Conn., went to work on him.

They were joined shortly afterwards by Cmdr. Moffett K. Holler, medical officer at the school. Both Holler and Holmes have been "riding it out" — in Wilson's words—ever since. Food was sent to them through the connecting tunnels.

Martin Gets It Right Third Time

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) had a little trouble explaining to Congress today who Syngman Rhee is.

He told the Senate and House assembled in joint session, that it was about to hear "the president of India."

Then he quickly corrected himself and said "the president of Indiana."

China Hits U. S. "Intervention"

TOKYO, Thursday, July 29 (AP)—Peiping radio asserted today the United States was "intervening" in the case of the shot down British airliner "to create tension so as to drive a wedge between China and Britain, whose relations are being improved."

Peiping radio broadcast an editorial from Peoples Daily, organ of the Chinese Communist party, denouncing the shooting down Sunday of two Red planes by U.S. carrier planes as a "savage act of aggression."

The editorial made no mention of two protests to Peiping from the U.S. State Department. One protested the shooting down of the airliner off Hainan Island Friday. Three of six Americans aboard are missing and presumed dead. The other note charged the two Red fighters had attacked U.S. planes engaged in a search for survivors.

Peoples Daily complained the United States had stepped up activity of its 7th fleet and had sent part of the 1st fleet to Far East waters, adding that "this lawlessness of American imperialism" was "seriously endangering China's security."

U. S. Blood For Irish

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 28 (AP)—Three hundred members of the U.S. naval force making a courtesy call at Dublin today volunteered as donors for the Irish blood transfusion service. A medical team will be ferried out to the cruiser Worcester tomorrow to collect the blood.

Plans For Seven-State Atom Drill Prepared

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28 (AP) — Plans for a full-scale rescue operation to cope with an imaginary atom bomb attack in seven states were to be drawn up today.

The exercise, scheduled to be held next October, will test the efficiency of mobile rescue teams recently organized by state civil defense agencies.

The plans are being made by directors of civil defense of Kentucky, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, who are ending a two-day meeting.

The first telephone exchange in Ohio was opened in 1877 in Cincinnati.

Authorities Believe Aging Could Be Happier Process

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—Concerned about growing old?

If you are, you aren't alone. As a matter of fact, 600 leading medical and scientific authorities have just completed a week-long conference here on that subject. They want to make growing old a happier process, and a few are even talking of reversing life's laws and helping old people grow young again.

Doctors, research experts and social workers from 40 nations met here for an international conference on gerontology—the scientific study of aging. The conference, third of its kind since World War II, produced some startling ideas.

Take, for example, Dr. Alcide Fraschini, a vigorous 57-year-old from Milan, Italy. He claimed that with his "biological revigoration" system he has in effect reversed the process of aging in more than 1,300 patients. He extracts vital substances from wheat and young bulls and injects them into elderly patients.

The results, Fraschini said, are good in the majority of cases and harmless in others.

Dr. William Kounz of the Washington University Medical School at St. Louis came up with something along the same line, in experiments with injections of hormones and thyroid extract. The experiments produced a marked physical and mental improvement in elderly men, Kounz said, with blood tests and other examinations showing they were in effect younger than before.

Apart from these and similar reports, the conference went thoroughly over the whole way of life of old people.

An English social worker, Geoffrey Evans, was especially concerned with the needs of old people in their homes. The three biggest needs, he said, are help with meals, laundry and their feet.

Youngsters in the 16-20 year age group are involved in five times as many fatal accidents as drivers in the 45-60 age category.

Authorities Believe Aging Could Be Happier Process

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—Concerned about growing old?

If you are, you aren't alone. As a matter of fact, 600 leading medical and scientific authorities have just completed a week-long conference here on that subject. They want to make growing old a happier process, and a few are even talking of reversing life's laws and helping old people grow young again.

Doctors, research experts and social workers from 40 nations met here for an international conference on gerontology—the scientific study of aging. The conference, third of its kind since World War II, produced some startling ideas.

Take, for example, Dr. Alcide Fraschini, a vigorous 57-year-old from Milan, Italy. He claimed that with his "biological revigoration" system he has in effect reversed the process of aging in more than 1,300 patients. He extracts vital substances from wheat and young bulls and injects them into elderly patients.

The results, Fraschini said, are good in the majority of cases and harmless in others.

Dr. William Kounz of the Washington University Medical School at St. Louis came up with something along the same line, in experiments with injections of hormones and thyroid extract. The experiments produced a marked physical and mental improvement in elderly men, Kounz said, with blood tests and other examinations showing they were in effect younger than before.

Apart from these and similar reports, the conference went thoroughly over the whole way of life of old people.

An English social worker, Geoffrey Evans, was especially concerned with the needs of old people in their homes. The three biggest needs, he said, are help with meals, laundry and their feet.

Youngsters in the 16-20 year age group are involved in five times as many fatal accidents as drivers in the 45-60 age category.

French Premier Real Egghead

Mendes-France, With Indochina War Stopped, Embarks On Other Phases Of Broad Program

PARIS, July 28 (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France, the man who stopped the war in Indochina, is a political egghead from way back.

In France, that's no insult. But, even in France, Mendes - France is sometimes criticized as "too brilliant."

What Americans call eggheads, the French call an intellectual. They're admired more in France, but they don't often get to run the government.

He's no compromiser. He wants to get to the root of things. He is a dogged worker, with a passion for detail and a flair for the personal touch.

Some believe he is trying in his first 50 days in office to make as deep changes in French political thinking as Franklin D. Roosevelt wrought in the United States in his first 100 days as president. To emphasize the comparison, some of his friends like to call him "P.M.F." in seeming imitation of the American fashion of calling prominent politicians by their initials.

Mendes-France has a simple political axiom: "To govern is to choose."

Priority ratings must be set, he says, for the problems that face his country. He made his choice and set his ratings when he took office.

Indochina was No. 1.

No. 2 is putting the country's economic house in order.

No. 3 a decision on rearming Germany—either within the plan for a six-nation European army, or some modified version.

He made his peace in Indochina. He acknowledged the cost was great, the terms hard. But an overwhelming majority of Frenchmen clearly wanted to end the fighting. If he didn't end it by July 20, he had said, he would quit. He was about three hours late but no one seemed to mind.

He has promised to give the National Assembly his program of economic reform this week. His main idea is to reconvert French industry from war production to items that can be sold abroad to replace the U.S. aid dollars that France will lose with the end of the Indochina War.

Before Parliament goes on vacation about mid-August he has promised to submit a project for rearming Germans that can get approval from the National Assembly.

In the midst of all this, he has to worry about calming passions in North Africa, where Frecnhman and Nationalist Arabs are killing each other every day, and getting through a constitutional reform to make it easier to find a new premier in the recurrent French political crises.

This is a formidable program, but Mendes-France is used to tough jobs, and when he does anything, he does it hard.

When still in his teens, he was working at both law and political science at the same time—something like trying for two advanced degrees simultaneously at an American university. He became the youngest lawyer in France, the youngest deputy in Parliament, one of the youngest Cabinet members in French history and—according to experts—the worst skier in Europe, but one of the most determined.

If he finds he can't do what he wants, he probably will quit. He has done it before. That was right after the liberation, when France was really on the economic rocks. The way to get afloat, he said, was the British way—rationing, a wage - and - price freeze, a crackdown on the black market. But France, tired of enforced austerity under the German occupation, was in no mood for that. He turned in his resignation as minister of national economy.

So long as he is in office, though, he has made clear he will do his best to upset the political habits of generations.

Each Saturday evening since taking over, he has made a fireside radio talk to the nation—just at 8 p.m. the dinner hour. The talks are short, simple and direct. They contain no hint of self-praise no effort to make political capital. The stress in each is on what was done in the past week, with general reference to the future.

In his first talk, he said:

"It would be comforting, encouraging and promising to both of us if a kind of affectionate—if I may say so—intimacy were established between the government which is the representative of the country, and public opinion."

Plainly, it's not glory he's after. Not now, anyway.

When he came back from Geneva, he had his car take a roundabout route into Paris from the airport because he had heard someone was organizing groups to cheer him along the road.

This may be political wisdom as well as personal taste. Since Napoleon caused all that trouble, the French have been suspicious of political leaders with great personal popularity and Parliament is doubly suspicious of a strong man. A French politico who shows signs of getting uppity soon finds himself in a shower of acid French wit.

W.Va.Studies Forest Setup

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 28 (AP)—The State Conservation Department launched today efforts to strengthen its forestry division from the grass-roots level up as an improved weapon for firefighting and woodland development.

Director Carl J. Johnson and the department's forestry personnel wound up two days of meetings with others on what steps might be taken for a more efficient organization.

"Our objective, looking toward the next Legislature in January, is at least to build in the way of revisions and reorganization," Johnson said.

Those taking part in detailed discussions of the problem included A. C. Beck, head of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company's wood department, Luke, Md., and forester James Amos of that company, located at Salem.

The conference, held against the background of two disastrous fall forest fire seasons and amid conditions pointing to it all, took the present forestry division apart, level by level.

Jesse James and Mark Twain

Hawthorn and bluebirds, the state flower and bird, abound in the Ozark region which is also the source of some of America's finest folk literature. The famous Missouri outlaws—the James Brothers—are another source of legends in song and story.

Missouri is also a baseball-minded state. Every schoolboy, old or young, has heard of Stan Musial and other great St. Louis ball players.

Missouri has contributed its share to the artistic development of the United States by producing a number of famous writers and artists. Mark Twain immortalized the state in his writings, especially in his classics of American boyhood "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn." Novelists Winston Churchill and Harold Bell Wright claim Missouri as their native state and the latter wrote many of his works about the Ozark section of the state. Poets Eugene Field and T. S. Eliot are also native Missourians.

The home of such noted artists as Thomas Hart Benton and Charles M. Russell, Missouri has two nationally known art collections—the Nelson Art Gallery in Kansas City, and the St. Louis Art Museum. Included among other famous citizens of the state is John J. Pershing, World War I commander.

Jefferson City is the capital of the Show Me State, and its two leading industrial cities are St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Library owns and recommends the following books dealing with Missouri: "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" and "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," both by Mark Twain; "River Boy," the life story of Mark Twain, by Isabel Proudfit; "Missouri—A Guide to the Show Me State"; "The Missouri River" by Stanley Vestal; "We Always Lie to Strangers," tall tales from the Ozarks by Vance Randolph.

Northern Division Dominates Rec Cage Tournament

The championships of the City Recreation Department's three-man basketball tournament were dominated completely by the Northern Division in playoff games staged Tuesday night at Thomas Post Playground.

In Junior Division play, West Side was also returned the winner over Pine Avenue, 42-10. James Deremer, Kenneth Johnson, and Ronald Bruce were the West Side cagers, with Richard Powell, LeRoy Beckward, and Ernest Green the Pine Avenue participants.

Dorothy Meagher, Sally Conrad, and Nancy Deffenbaugh led the Columbia Street girls to a 24-20 victory over Pine Avenue, in the Pigtail Division finals. Players on the Pine Avenue team were Nancy Beckwith, Jojacqueline Peck, Ennis Simms, Betty Smith, Etta Beard, and Joan Leith.

Announcement was also made of the number of points compiled by each of the city's playgrounds toward the Playground Banner. The banner, which is presented at the end of the playground season, is awarded on a basis of points compiled in competitive activities conducted by the Recreation Department.

The playgrounds, listed in the order of their standing and with the number of points compiled, are East Side, 64; Lamont Street, 60; Centre Street, 48; Johnson Heights, 46; North End, 40; Pine Avenue, 34; West Side, 30; Columbia Street, 28; Carver, 22; Thomas Post, 14; Mapleside, 10; and Penn Avenue, 8.

Gephart, Mt. Royal, Ridgedale, and Virginia Avenue have failed to register a point in intra-city competition.

Eight Persons Are Injured In Auto Accidents

A 38-year-old motorist suffered serious injuries Tuesday night when his car careened from State Route 42, one-quarter mile east of Friendsville, and crashed against a large rock.

Floyd G. Friend, of Friendsville, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland with severe lacerations of the face and scalp and possible rib fractures. His condition was reported improved last night.

State Police said Friend, headed west, lost control of the vehicle and hit the rock. Trooper Glen D. Folk blamed excessive speed for the mishap about 10 p. m.

Friend was riding alone. Investigation is continuing.

A two-car collision Tuesday night on Route 30, about four miles east of Bedford, sent seven persons to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with extensive injuries. Hurt were:

According to Pennsylvania State Police, the crash occurred at 6:15 p. m. (EST) in front of the hospital when Yoder, traveling east toward Everett, turned across the road ahead of Wallace. Total damage was estimated at $2,000.

School Board To Open Bids On Two Projects

Waves To Celebrate Twelfth Anniversary

Friday will mark the 12th anniversary of the founding of the Waves, the woman's branch of the United States Navy. Parties celebrating the event are being planned at naval bases throughout the country and at shore stations overseas, Chief Edward J. Carey, local navy recruiter, said yesterday.

Because there are few Waves stationed here, however, no special celebrations are planned in Cumberland, Carey said, while extending his congratulations to the women in the naval service.

Md. Employment Shows Increase Since Mid-May

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — The State Department of Employment Security estimated today about 791,000 were at work on non-farm jobs in Maryland at the middle of June, or about 6,800 more than at mid May.

Summer-time increases in the canning business and in the ice cream and soft drink industries were mostly responsible for the higher employment figures, the department said.

"But," it reported "small gains were recorded in all the durable goods manufacturing categories except ship and boat building."

The most important gains were in the metal fabricating industry. Some furloughed employes were called back and the production of tin cans stepped up to handle the packing of food.

Employment in the non-durable goods field picked up by 3,600 jobs, with 3,400 of them accounted for in the canning, ice cream and soft drink industries.

Employment in retail trade rose by 700 in the month between mid-May and mid-June to a total of 126,900. Service and miscellaneous industries gained by 900 as parks and seasonal recreation facilities opened for the season.

Employment in the construction industry rose from 60,500 to 62,500, in line with seasonal trends but still about 2 per cent below 1953.

A loss of 1,700 jobs was reported in government employment, with most of it at the state and local level and a large part of it attributed to the summer layoff of janitors and other non-teaching personnel in the schools.

Average weekly earnings in the period were $68.66, or $1.07 higher. Production workers averaged a 40.2-hour work week, compared with 39.7 a month earlier, and hourly earnings average half a cent higher.

French Premier Real Egghead

Mendes-France, With Indochina War Stopped, Embarks On Other Phases Of Broad Program

PARIS, July 28 (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France, the man who stopped the war in Indochina, is a political egghead from way back.

In France, that's no insult. But, even in France, Mendes - France is sometimes criticized as "too brilliant."

What Americans call eggheads, the French call an intellectual. They're admired more in France, but they don't often get to run the government.

He's no compromiser. He wants to get to the root of things. He is a dogged worker, with a passion for detail and a flair for the personal touch.

Some believe he is trying in his first 50 days in office to make as deep changes in French political thinking as Franklin D. Roosevelt wrought in the United States in his first 100 days as president. To emphasize the comparison, some of his friends like to call him "P.M.F." in seeming imitation of the American fashion of calling prominent politicians by their initials.

Mendes-France has a simple political axiom: "To govern is to choose."

Priority ratings must be set, he says, for the problems that face his country. He made his choice and set his ratings when he took office.

Indochina was No. 1.

No. 2 is putting the country's economic house in order.

No. 3 a decision on rearming Germany—either within the plan for a six-nation European army, or some modified version.

He made his peace in Indochina. He acknowledged the cost was great, the terms hard. But an overwhelming majority of Frenchmen clearly wanted to end the fighting. If he didn't end it by July 20, he had said, he would quit. He was about three hours late but no one seemed to mind.

He has promised to give the National Assembly his program of economic reform this week. His main idea is to reconvert French industry from war production to items that can be sold abroad to replace the U.S. aid dollars that France will lose with the end of the Indochina War.

Before Parliament goes on vacation about mid-August he has promised to submit a project for rearming Germans that can get approval from the National Assembly.

In the midst of all this, he has to worry about calming passions in North Africa, where Frecnhman and Nationalist Arabs are killing each other every day, and getting through a constitutional reform to make it easier to find a new premier in the recurrent French political crises.

This is a formidable program, but Mendes-France is used to tough jobs, and when he does anything, he does it hard.

When still in his teens, he was working at both law and political science at the same time—something like trying for two advanced degrees simultaneously at an American university. He became the youngest lawyer in France, the youngest deputy in Parliament, one of the youngest Cabinet members in French history and—according to experts—the worst skier in Europe, but one of the most determined.

If he finds he can't do what he wants, he probably will quit. He has done it before. That was right after the liberation, when France was really on the economic rocks. The way to get afloat, he said, was the British way—rationing, a wage - and - price freeze, a crackdown on the black market. But France, tired of enforced austerity under the German occupation, was in no mood for that. He turned in his resignation as minister of national economy.

So long as he is in office, though, he has made clear he will do his best to upset the political habits of generations.

Each Saturday evening since taking over, he has made a fireside radio talk to the nation—just at 8 p.m. the dinner hour. The talks are short, simple and direct. They contain no hint of self-praise no effort to make political capital. The stress in each is on what was done in the past week, with general reference to the future.

In his first talk, he said:

"It would be comforting, encouraging and promising to both of us if a kind of affectionate—if I may say so—intimacy were established between the government which is the representative of the country, and public opinion."

Plainly, it's not glory he's after. Not now, anyway.

When he came back from Geneva, he had his car take a roundabout route into Paris from the airport because he had heard someone was organizing groups to cheer him along the road.

This may be political wisdom as well as personal taste. Since Napoleon caused all that trouble, the French have been suspicious of political leaders with great personal popularity and Parliament is doubly suspicious of a strong man. A French politico who shows signs of getting uppity soon finds himself in a shower of acid French wit.

W.Va. Studies Forest Setup

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 28 (AP)—The State Conservation Department launched today efforts to strengthen its forestry division from the grass-roots level up as an improved weapon for firefighting and woodland development.

Director Carl J. Johnson and the department's forestry personnel wound up two days of meetings with others on what steps might be taken for a more efficient organization.

"Our objective, looking toward the next Legislature in January, is at least to build in the way of revisions and reorganization," Johnson said.

Those taking part in detailed discussions of the problem included A. C. Beck, head of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company's wood department, Luke, Md., and forester James Amos of that company, located at Salem.

The conference, held against the background of two disastrous fall forest fire seasons and amid conditions pointing to it all, took the present forestry division apart, level by level.

Missouri, 'Show Me'

Jesse James and Mark Twain

Hawthorn and bluebirds, the state flower and bird, abound in the Ozark region which is also the source of some of America's finest folk literature. The famous Missouri outlaws—the James Brothers—are another source of legends in song and story.

Missouri is also a baseball-minded state. Every schoolboy, old or young, has heard of Stan Musial and other great St. Louis ball players.

Missouri has contributed its share to the artistic development of the United States by producing a number of famous writers and artists. Mark Twain immortalized the state in his writings, especially in his classics of American boyhood "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn." Novelists Winston Churchill and Harold Bell Wright claim Missouri as their native state and the latter wrote many of his works about the Ozark section of the state. Poets Eugene Field and T. S. Eliot are also native Missourians.

The home of such noted artists as Thomas Hart Benton and Charles M. Russell, Missouri has two nationally known art collections—the Nelson Art Gallery in Kansas City, and the St. Louis Art Museum. Included among other famous citizens of the state is John J. Pershing, World War I commander.

Jefferson City is the capital of the Show Me State, and its two leading industrial cities are St. Louis and Kansas City.

The Library owns and recommends the following books dealing with Missouri: "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" and "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," both by Mark Twain; "River Boy," the life story of Mark Twain, by Isabel Proudfit; "Missouri—A Guide to the Show Me State"; "The Missouri River" by Stanley Vestal; "We Always Lie to Strangers," tall tales from the Ozarks by Vance Randolph.

Northern Division Dominates Rec Cage Tournament

The championships of the City Recreation Department's three-man basketball tournament were dominated completely by the Northern Division in playoff games staged Tuesday night at Thomas Post Playground.

In Junior Division play, West Side was also returned the winner over Pine Avenue, 42-10. James Deremer, Kenneth Johnson, and Ronald Bruce were the West Side cagers, with Richard Powell, LeRoy Beckward, and Ernest Green the Pine Avenue participants.

Dorothy Meagher, Sally Conrad, and Nancy Deffenbaugh led the Columbia Street girls to a 24-20 victory over Pine Avenue, in the Pigtail Division finals. Players on the Pine Avenue team were Nancy Beckwith, Jojacqueline Peck, Ennis Simms, Betty Smith, Etta Beard, and Joan Leith.

Announcement was also made of the number of points compiled by each of the city's playgrounds toward the Playground Banner. The banner, which is presented at the end of the playground season, is awarded on a basis of points compiled in competitive activities conducted by the Recreation Department.

The playgrounds, listed in the order of their standing and with the number of points compiled, are East Side, 64; Lamont Street, 60; Centre Street, 48; Johnson Heights, 46; North End, 40; Pine Avenue, 34; West Side, 30; Columbia Street, 28; Carver, 22; Thomas Post, 14; Mapleside, 10; and Penn Avenue, 8.

Gephart, Mt. Royal, Ridgedale, and Virginia Avenue have failed to register a point in intra-city competition.

Eight Persons Are Injured In Auto Accidents

A 38-year-old motorist suffered serious injuries Tuesday night when his car careened from State Route 42, one-quarter mile east of Friendsville, and crashed against a large rock.

Floyd G. Friend, of Friendsville, was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland with severe lacerations of the face and scalp and possible rib fractures. His condition was reported improved last night.

State Police said Friend, headed west, lost control of the vehicle and hit the rock. Trooper Glen D. Folk blamed excessive speed for the mishap about 10 p. m.

Friend was riding alone. Investigation is continuing.

A two-car collision Tuesday night on Route 30, about four miles east of Bedford, sent seven persons to Bedford County Memorial Hospital with extensive injuries. Hurt were:

According to Pennsylvania State Police, the crash occurred at 6:15 p. m. (EST) in front of the hospital when Yoder, traveling east toward Everett, turned across the road ahead of Wallace. Total damage was estimated at $2,000.

School Board To Open Bids On Two Projects

This afternoon the opening of bids for two separate projects at Oldtown High School will be held at the Board of Education office, 108 Washington Street.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County Schools, said opening of bids for the supplying and installing of cafeteria equipment at the school will be held at 3 p. m., while bids on construction of the sewage disposal plant at the school will be opened at 4 p. m.

Waves To Celebrate Twelfth Anniversary

Friday will mark the 12th anniversary of the founding of the Waves, the woman's branch of the United States Navy. Parties celebrating the event are being planned at naval bases throughout the country and at shore stations overseas, Chief Edward J. Carey, local navy recruiter, said yesterday.

Because there are few Waves stationed here, however, no special celebrations are planned in Cumberland, Carey said, while extending his congratulations to the women in the naval service.

Md. Employment Shows Increase Since Mid-May

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — The State Department of Employment Security estimated today about 791,000 were at work on non-farm jobs in Maryland at the middle of June, or about 6,800 more than at mid May.

Summer-time increases in the canning business and in the ice cream and soft drink industries were mostly responsible for the higher employment figures, the department said.

"But," it reported "small gains were recorded in all the durable goods manufacturing categories except ship and boat building."

The most important gains were in the metal fabricating industry. Some furloughed employes were called back and the production of tin cans stepped up to handle the packing of food.

Employment in the non-durable goods field picked up by 3,600 jobs, with 3,400 of them accounted for in the canning, ice cream and soft drink industries.

Employment in retail trade rose by 700 in the month between mid-May and mid-June to a total of 126,900. Service and miscellaneous industries gained by 900 as parks and seasonal recreation facilities opened for the season.

Employment in the construction industry rose from 60,500 to 62,500, in line with seasonal trends but still about 2 per cent below 1953.

A loss of 1,700 jobs was reported in government employment, with most of it at the state and local level and a large part of it attributed to the summer layoff of janitors and other non-teaching personnel in the schools.

Average weekly earnings in the period were $68.66, or $1.07 higher. Production workers averaged a 40.2-hour work week, compared with 39.7 a month earlier, and hourly earnings average half a cent higher.

Man Who Killed His Wife For Prowler Gets Lie Test

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — Authorities prepared today to give a lie detector test to a man who told them he shot his wife accidentally, believing she was a prowler.

Killed was Mrs. Myrtle Eller, 37, wife of George W. Eller, 49, of nearby Parkville an assistant manager of a trailer company.

Lt. Charles Scheper said Eller told them he shot his wife accidentally with a 22 caliber rifle after mistaking her for a burglar.

A lie detector was being obtained from Delaware State Police. State's Attorney John E. Raine Jr. described the test as routine.

Authorities said it would be the first time a detector had been used in the county.

Police said Eller told them his wife awakened him about 1 a.m., saying she thought she heard noises in the kitchen.

Eller went to investigate, taking the rifle with him.

The husband said there are two approaches to the kitchen. He took one and apparently his wife took the other.

He told police when he reached the corner of the kitchen and dining room the rifle hit "something soft." Eller said he shouted "Who's there?" and when he got no answer he pulled the trigger."

In United States Navy slang, a depth charge is referred to as an "ash can."

Two Arrested For Burglaries

HAGERSTOWN, July 28 (AP) — Police here today held two Bellwood, Pa., men and said they would be turned over to Pennsylvania authorities for prosecution on burglary charges at Greencastle and other points.

They were listed as Frank W. Fisher, and Marvin Kagarise, both 21.

Hagerstown city police caught them early today on a tip from a Greencastle filling station operator who said he had seen them break into a cold drink vending machine outside his station. He gave a description of their car and said they were heading down U. S. 11 toward Hagerstown.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce Spickler said the two admitted similar burglaries several places in Pennsylvania and two in Maryland between Hagerstown and the Pennsylvania line.

Officers said Fisher and Kagarise had agreed to forego their right to a hearing when they are brought into circuit court tomorrow on proceedings for their removal to Pennsylvania.

Spickler said the two men had about $20 in nickels and dimes and admitted they had stolen a new battery and other automobile accessories found in their car.

Mahoney Primary Expenses $26,234

TOWSON, Md., July 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney spent $26,234 in his primary election battle with Dr. H. C. Byrd for the Democratic nomination for governor, he said in a statement filed today with the clerk of the Baltimore County Circuit Court.

The outcome of the contest still is being disputed by Mahoney, apparent loser by a close margin.

The statement said all campaign expenses had been paid and the principal payments were for advertising, sound equipment, printing, mailing, pictures, and tickets to bull roasts.

Two of the larger items were $6,145 for postage and $602 for telephone calls.

Mission churches of 17th century New Mexico were founded among large Indian populations.

Baltimore Transit Fare Boost Granted

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — The Service Commission gave the Baltimore Transit Co. a fare boost and a berating today, saying it has to improve service.

The basic fare went up a cent, to 18 cents. Suburban Zone fares, along with those for children and students, went up two cents, to a dime. It was the fourth increase granted the BTC since 1945.

The company had asked a base fare of 20 cents. The PSC answered no, saying "the quality of service being provided and its value to the riding public" does not warrant more.

The PSC listed many deficiencies about which it said "innumerable" complaints had been received.

Two Navy Men Are Indicted For Murder By Grand Jury

LEONARDTOWN, Md., July 28 (AP)—An indictment charging murder was returned here today against Carl Willis Strickland, 21-year-old Navy airman from Rocky Mount, N. C., accused of slaying an enlisted Wave he toured some night spots with on May 29.

The victim was Irene Marian Conole, 26, a former Rochester, N. Y., telephone operator who had planned to leave the service in a few weeks and marry another sailor then at sea aboard an aircraft carrier.

The same St. Mary's County grand jury also returned a murder indictment against William Edward Rudd, 37-year-old Navy enlisted man from Winslow, Ariz., and Alameda, Calif., accused of slaying the wife of his best friend at the Navy's big Patuxent River Air Test Center near here.

The victim in this case was Mrs. James Edward Davis, 22, of Roanoke, W. Va., who was beaten to death April 3 in the apartment she and her husband occupied in a housing development just outside the naval base.

The two murder cases caused sensations last spring at the Navy base, where all those involved were stationed.

Miss Conole's body was found soon after daylight on a Saturday morning in the shallow water just off the shore at Hayes Beach, a resort at Point Lookout, where the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay meet.

She had been beaten terribly with a soft drink bottle but drowning was the actual cause of death. Sheriff Willard B. Long and other investigators found bloody blankets and more empty soft drink bottles on the beach.

Strickland was traced to his home at Rocky Mount after he had picked up his wife at the trailer camp where they lived near Great Mills, Md., and driven south. He was arrested later the same day.

Her husband had gone on duty at the air base when Rudd, who had been in on the party, returned the next morning intent on drinking some beer that had been left over.

Mrs. Davis died of head wounds after she had been bludgeoned, apparently with a metalsmith's hammer.

Motorist Cleared In Farmer's Death

HAGERSTOWN, July 28 (AP) — A Hagerstown woman today was absolved of blame for an accident in which Charles L. Hull, 69-year-old Greencastle, Pa., farmer was killed when her car hit the horse he was riding.

Mrs. Grace T. Dorsey, 34, had been charged with reckless driving.

Frederick Woman Gets Customs Post

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Mrs. Lorene W. Bowlus, president of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women, today was nominated by President Eisenhower to be comptroller of customs at Baltimore.

The Frederick woman, who operates a gift shop, was named to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Russell P. Smith last August. She is 44.

Her husband, Emmert R. Bowlus, is chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Frederick County. He is a widely-known auctioneer at Frederick.

Mrs. Bowlus was a Frederick County delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1952.

Frederick County Farm Queen Named

FREDERICK, July 28 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl who wants to stay down on the farm, Sarah Ann Ramsburg, today won the Frederick County Associated Farm Bureau Women's farm queen contest.

She was chosen from 14 entries at the annual picnic of the county farm bureau and Pomona Grange. When asked her ambition, Sarah Ann said she wants to remain on the farm "because the opportunities . . . are so much greater than elsewhere."

4-Year-Old Girl Drowns

ESSEX, Md., July 28 (AP)—Four-year-old Karen Susan Rada waded into the water to watch a swimming class today and drowned in Bird River off Harewood Park Community Beach in Baltimore County.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rada, of Harewood Park.

The United States was the first nation of the western hemisphere to become a republic.

Ex-Boxer Defeats Bear But Circus Almost Wrecked

CORDOBA, Argentina, July 28 (AP)—Francisco Escribano, a retired professional boxer, defeated a 7-foot, 550-pound circus bear at catch-as-catch-can wrestling the other night, but it almost wrecked the circus.

The circus had offered a prize of $700 to anybody who could throw the bear three times. Escribano tried once and failed. He said he would try again another night, this time for an offer of only $140.

A crtwd was on hand to see the match. Escribano got a half-nelson lock on the bear, flopped him on his back and pinned his shoulders to the ground six times. Then the winner asked for his money. The circus management declined to pay, whereupon the crowd started tearing down the tent.

Escribano persuaded the crowd to stop the damage and next day filed suit for his prize.

Man Who Killed His Wife For Prowler Gets Lie Test

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — Authorities prepared today to give a lie detector test to a man who told them he shot his wife accidentally, believing she was a prowler.

Killed was Mrs. Myrtle Eller, 37, wife of George W. Eller, 49, of nearby Parkville an assistant manager of a trailer company.

Lt. Charles Scheper said Eller told them he shot his wife accidentally with a 22 caliber rifle after mistaking her for a burglar.

A lie detector was being obtained from Delaware State Police. State's Attorney John E. Raine Jr. described the test as routine.

Authorities said it would be the first time a detector had been used in the county.

Police said Eller told them his wife awakened him about 1 a.m., saying she thought she heard noises in the kitchen.

Eller went to investigate, taking the rifle with him.

The husband said there are two approaches to the kitchen. He took one and apparently his wife took the other.

He told police when he reached the corner of the kitchen and dining room the rifle hit "something soft." Eller said he shouted "Who's there?" and when he got no answer he pulled the trigger."

His wife shouted "George, you've shot me," police said Eller told them.

Two Arrested For Burglaries

HAGERSTOWN, July 28 (AP) — Police here today held two Bellwood, Pa., men and said they would be turned over to Pennsylvania authorities for prosecution on burglary charges at Greencastle and other points.

They were listed as Frank W. Fisher, and Marvin Kagarise, both 21.

Hagerstown city police caught them early today on a tip from a Greencastle filling station operator who said he had seen them break into a cold drink vending machine outside his station. He gave a description of their car and said they were heading down U. S. 11 toward Hagerstown.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce Spickler said the two admitted similar burglaries several places in Pennsylvania and two in Maryland between Hagerstown and the Pennsylvania line.

Officers said Fisher and Kagarise had agreed to forego their right to a hearing when they are brought into circuit court tomorrow on proceedings for their removal to Pennsylvania.

Spickler said the two men had about $20 in nickels and dimes and admitted they had stolen a new battery and other automobile accessories found in their car.

Mahoney Primary Expenses $26,234

TOWSON, Md., July 28 (AP) — George P. Mahoney spent $26,234 in his primary election battle with Dr. H. C. Byrd for the Democratic nomination for governor, he said in a statement filed today with the clerk of the Baltimore County Circuit Court.

The outcome of the contest still is being disputed by Mahoney, apparent loser by a close margin.

The statement said all campaign expenses had been paid and the principal payments were for advertising, sound equipment, printing, mailing, pictures, and tickets to bull roasts.

Two of the larger items were $6,145 for postage and $602 for telephone calls.

Mission churches of 17th century New Mexico were founded among large Indian populations.

Baltimore Transit Fare Boost Granted

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP) — The Service Commission gave the Baltimore Transit Co. a fare boost and a berating today, saying it has to improve service.

The basic fare went up a cent, to 18 cents. Suburban Zone fares, along with those for children and students, went up two cents, to a dime. It was the fourth increase granted the BTC since 1945.

The company had asked a base fare of 20 cents. The PSC answered no, saying "the quality of service being provided and its value to the riding public" does not warrant more.

The PSC listed many deficiencies about which it said "innumerable" complaints had been received.

Judge Refuses To Erase Swim Segregation Ban

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP)—Federal Judge Rozel C. Thomsen held yesterday that "separate but equal" public swimming facilities in Maryland do not violate the Constitution.

He said the recent Supreme Court opinion that "separate but equal" public school facilities are unconstitutional does not apply to State and municipal recreation facilities.

Judge Thomsen denied prelimination motions for immediate lifting of segregation bans at Sandy Point State Park, the Ft. Smallwood beach operated by Baltimore City and municipally operated swimming pools.

The plaintiffs argued facilities for Negroes at the State's only bayside park were not equal to those available to white persons. And they alleged they were denied admission to facilities reserved for white persons solely because of their race or color.

Judge Thomsen, in a 31-page opinion, said facilities at Sandy Point and Ft. Smallwood were equal but he said further hearings must be held on the equality of white and Negro swimming pools in Baltimore.

Suits against the State Commissioners of Forests and Parks and the superintendent of the State's only bayside park were filed by a group of adult and minor Negroes in August, 1952.

The City of Baltimore was named in May, 1952, in a suit seeking to restrain it from operating the municipal park at Ft. Smallwood on a segregated basis, and in September, 1953, to end a ban against Negroes using municipal swimming pools reserved for white persons.

Motions for preliminary judgments to lift the bans in all three cases were filed a few days after the Supreme Court's opinion last May abolishing segregation in public schools.

Arguments on the motions were heard by Judge Thomsen last month.

Carnegie Grant Discloses 'Radio Astronomy' Project

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP) — A major new project in "radio astronomy," a science with someday may allow navigation of airplanes, ships and even guided missiles by means of invisible "stars," is to be launched in Australia, it was disclosed today.

"Radio astronomy" is the comparatively new art of detecting and studying celestial objects, including some that cannot be seen even with the most powerful telescopes, by means of radiowaves they emit.

Disclosure of the Australian effort—erection of a giant radar antenna to "tune in" on known radio sources in space and perhaps find entirely new ones—was made in an announcement by the Carnegie Institution of Washington (CIW).

President Vannevar Bush of CIW said that the Carnegie Corp. of New York had awarded a $250,000 grant to the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Organization (CSIO) in Australia to provide "part of the costs" of constructing the huge "radio eye."

It will be a parabolic or bowl-shaped antenna, 250 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep.

And it will share, with a similar-size device now under construction in Great Britain, the distinction of being the world's largest and theoretically most versatile instrument in this field of research. There are about 20 "radio telescopes" throughout the world.

No figures were immediately available on the total cost of the Australian instrument, which will require about three years to build. The British "radio eye" is expected to cost around $1,120,000.

"Ever since plans for the British 'dish' were announced about two years ago," said the Carnegie announcement, "scientists have hoped for a similar unit that would make it possible to explore the stars in the Southern Hemisphere, particularly the Magellanic clouds formation, with the same thoroughness that the (British) equipment will make possible in the Northern Hemisphere. The proposed installation in Australia may be the answer to their prayer."

The Australian instrument has been designed by the Radiophysics Laboratory of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization.

Stated purpose of the Australian Research is to advance man's knowledge of the universe.

But various scientists interested in "radio astronomy" say that aside from the primary objective of enhancing knowledge of the universe, the fledgling new science conceivably could contribute to: (1) improved weather forecasting; (2) improved methods of terrestrial radio communication; and (3) improved safeguards to aerial and maritime navigation during periods of storm or fog when ordinary celestial navigation is impossible.

These scientists say, too, that guided missiles, such as rockets—some of which can now be guided by radiation from visible stars—conceivably could be guided by radiowaves from unseen "stars" at times when the ordinarily visible ones were clouded from view.

Two new nurses have recently been added to the staff of the Washington County Health Department.

They are Mrs. Leila Vandergrift, a graduate of Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, who was formerly a public health nurse in Allegany County; and Mrs. Alma Morgan, a graduate of Church Home Hospital, Baltimore, who formerly served on the staff of the Garrett County Health Department.

Two Navy Men Are Indicted For Murder By Grand Jury

LEONARDTOWN, Md., July 28 (AP)—An indictment charging murder was returned here today against Carl Willis Strickland, 21-year-old Navy airman from Rocky Mount, N. C., accused of slaying an enlisted Wave he toured some night spots with on May 29.

The victim was Irene Marian Conole, 26, a former Rochester, N. Y., telephone operator who had planned to leave the service in a few weeks and marry another sailor then at sea aboard an aircraft carrier.

The same St. Mary's County grand jury also returned a murder indictment against William Edward Rudd, 37-year-old Navy enlisted man from Winslow, Ariz., and Alameda, Calif., accused of slaying the wife of his best friend at the Navy's big Patuxent River Air Test Center near here.

The victim in this case was Mrs. James Edward Davis, 22, of Roanoke, W. Va., who was beaten to death April 3 in the apartment she and her husband occupied in a housing development just outside the naval base.

The two murder cases caused sensations last spring at the Navy base, where all those involved were stationed.

Miss Conole's body was found soon after daylight on a Saturday morning in the shallow water just off the shore at Hayes Beach, a resort at Point Lookout, where the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay meet.

She had been beaten terribly with a soft drink bottle but drowning was the actual cause of death. Sheriff Willard B. Long and other investigators found bloody blankets and more empty soft drink bottles on the beach.

Strickland was traced to his home at Rocky Mount after he had picked up his wife at the trailer camp where they lived near Great Mills, Md., and driven south. He was arrested later the same day.

Her husband had gone on duty at the air base when Rudd, who had been in on the party, returned the next morning intent on drinking some beer that had been left over.

Mrs. Davis died of head wounds after she had been bludgeoned, apparently with a metalsmith's hammer.

Motorist Cleared In Farmer's Death

HAGERSTOWN, July 28 (AP) — A Hagerstown woman today was absolved of blame for an accident in which Charles L. Hull, 69-year-old Greencastle, Pa., farmer was killed when her car hit the horse he was riding.

The accident was on July 9 on Maryland 58, a roller-coaster secondary road northwest from Hagerstown to the Pennsylvania line.

Mrs. Grace T. Dorsey, 34, had been charged with reckless driving.

Frederick Woman Gets Customs Post

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Mrs. Lorene W. Bowlus, president of the Maryland Federation of Republican Women, today was nominated by President Eisenhower to be comptroller of customs at Baltimore.

The Frederick woman, who operates a gift shop, was named to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Russell P. Smith last August. She is 44.

Her husband, Emmert R. Bowlus, is chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Frederick County. He is a widely-known auctioneer at Frederick.

Mrs. Bowlus was a Frederick County delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1952.

Frederick County Farm Queen Named

FREDERICK, July 28 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl who wants to stay down on the farm, Sarah Ann Ramsburg, today won the Frederick County Associated Farm Bureau Women's farm queen contest.

She was chosen from 14 entries at the annual picnic of the county farm bureau and Pomona Grange. When asked her ambition, Sarah Ann said she wants to remain on the farm "because the opportunities . . . are so much greater than elsewhere."

4-Year-Old Girl Drowns

ESSEX, Md., July 28 (AP)—Four-year-old Karen Susan Rada waded into the water to watch a swimming class today and drowned in Bird River off Harewood Park Community Beach in Baltimore County.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rada, of Harewood Park.

Ex-Boxer Defeats Bear But Circus Almost Wrecked

CORDOBA, Argentina, July 28 (AP)—Francisco Escribano, a retired professional boxer, defeated a 7-foot, 550-pound circus bear at catch-as-catch-can wrestling the other night, but it almost wrecked the circus.

The circus had offered a prize of $700 to anybody who could throw the bear three times. Escribano tried once and failed. He said he would try again another night, this time for an offer of only $140.

A crtwd was on hand to see the match. Escribano got a half-nelson lock on the bear, flopped him on his back and pinned his shoulders to the ground six times. Then the winner asked for his money. The circus management declined to pay, whereupon the crowd started tearing down the tent.

Escribano persuaded the crowd to stop the damage and next day filed suit for his prize.

Dr. Arthur Jones Takes Garrett Health Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Arthur Ford Jones, 50-year-old physician who has been practicing at Cumberland since 1932, yesterday was named Garrett County's health officer.

When he goes to work on Monday, the county will have a full time health officer for the first time since 1951, when Dr. Thomas B. Dunn was called into the military service.

Dr. Jones is a native of Cumberland and received his medical degree at the University of Maryland in 1931 after pre-medical schooling at the University of Virginia and Johns Hopkins.

He was an Army doctor from 1942 through 1945, serving overseas in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

At Cumberland he has served from time to time in several of the clinics operated by the Allegany County Health Department and has been medical consultant to the county commissioners for the jail and the infirmary at the county home.

Dr. Jones and his family expect to move to Oakland, the Garrett County seat.

Eleven Registrants Will Be Inducted

Local draft boards will send 11 registrants to Fairmont (W. Va.) August 12 for induction into the armed forces.

Slated for military service are five men in Board 27, two from Board 28 and four in Board 29. The contingent will travel via Blue Ridge bus.

County Ranks Eighth In Blood Donations

A report presented at a recent meeting of the center's coordinating committee revealed residents of Allegany County had contributed 2,983 pints of blood during the 12-month period for a quota percentage of 106.5.

Although this rating was the eighth highest among the chapters, the amount contributed was the fourth highest, being exceeded only by Cambria, Blair and Westmoreland County chapters (all in Pennsylvania).

Have Lower Quotas

It was noted also that the seven chapters which attained higher percentage ratings all had much lower quotas than that alloted to Allegany County. In view of its successful appeal last year, the quota for the present fiscal year has been placed at 3,600 pints.

Only one visit was made to Allegany County this month, that being held on July 6 when 155½ pints were donated at the Eagles Home here. No other county visit was made since it was thought that the weekend July 4 holiday would interfere with donations. The amount contributed exceeded the one-day quota by 5½ pints.

Red Cross officials have scheduled four visits during August, explaining that none will be made in September, again anticipating the usual low number of contributors which respond to appeals following a holiday weekend—Labor Day.

First Stop August 2

The first county stop will be made Monday, August 2, at Lonaconing. The mobile unit will be at the Eagles Home here on the following day, and at the same site on Monday, August 30. The last county visit will be made August 31 in Frostburg. County Red Cross officials have asked all persons scheduled to make a special attempt to keep appointments since the supply on hand at the blood center has been depleted.

It was also brought out at the coordinating committee meeting that neighboring Garrett County had contributed 468 pints from towards a quota of 512 pints for a rating of 91.4 per cent. This rating placed Garrett County sixteenth among the center's 30 chapters.

Most For Civilians

Arthur Koster, administrator of the Johnstown Center, pointed out that the 28,160 pints of blood collected last year was 90.9 per cent of its quota of 42,000 pints. In a further breakdown of the annual report, Koster explained that 6,687 pints of blood had been sent for use by the Defense Department and that 31,473 pints had been expended for civilian use. The original budget, he said, was to provide 30,000 pints for civilian use.

The quota for the current fiscal year, Koster stated, has been established at 39,800 pints. This figure, he continued, was arrived at by estimating civilian use at 32,800 pints and a request for 7,000 pints by the Defense Department. The Defense Department request is part of a national goal of a million pints, Koster stated.

Firemen's Association To Meet Tomorrow

The fair committee of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. with officials of the Cumberland Fair Association to complete plans for the observance of Firemen's Day at the Cumberland Fair.

The meeting, originally scheduled last Monday evening, was postponed due to the death of Edgar Reynolds, general manager of the fair association.

Judge Refuses To Erase Swim Segregation Ban

BALTIMORE, July 28 (AP)—Federal Judge Rozel C. Thomsen held yesterday that "separate but equal" public swimming facilities in Maryland do not violate the Constitution.

He said the recent Supreme Court opinion that "separate but equal" public school facilities are unconstitutional does not apply to State and municipal recreation facilities.

Judge Thomsen denied prelimination motions for immediate lifting of segregation bans at Sandy Point State Park, the Ft. Smallwood beach operated by Baltimore City and municipally operated swimming pools.

The plaintiffs argued facilities for Negroes at the State's only bayside park were not equal to those available to white persons. And they alleged they were denied admission to facilities reserved for white persons solely because of their race or color.

Judge Thomsen, in a 31-page opinion, said facilities at Sandy Point and Ft. Smallwood were equal but he said further hearings must be held on the equality of white and Negro swimming pools in Baltimore.

Suits against the State Commissioners of Forests and Parks and the superintendent of the State's only bayside park were filed by a group of adult and minor Negroes in August, 1952.

The City of Baltimore was named in May, 1952, in a suit seeking to restrain it from operating the municipal park at Ft. Smallwood on a segregated basis, and in September, 1953, to end a ban against Negroes using municipal swimming pools reserved for white persons.

Motions for preliminary judgments to lift the bans in all three cases were filed a few days after the Supreme Court's opinion last May abolishing segregation in public schools.

Arguments on the motions were heard by Judge Thomsen last month.

Carnegie Grant Discloses 'Radio Astronomy' Project

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP) — A major new project in "radio astronomy," a science with someday may allow navigation of airplanes, ships and even guided missiles by means of invisible "stars," is to be launched in Australia, it was disclosed today.

"Radio astronomy" is the comparatively new art of detecting and studying celestial objects, including some that cannot be seen even with the most powerful telescopes, by means of radiowaves they emit.

Disclosure of the Australian effort—erection of a giant radar antenna to "tune in" on known radio sources in space and perhaps find entirely new ones—was made in an announcement by the Carnegie Institution of Washington (CIW).

President Vannevar Bush of CIW said that the Carnegie Corp. of New York had awarded a $250,000 grant to the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Organization (CSIO) in Australia to provide "part of the costs" of constructing the huge "radio eye."

It will be a parabolic or bowl-shaped antenna, 250 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep.

And it will share, with a similar-size device now under construction in Great Britain, the distinction of being the world's largest and theoretically most versatile instrument in this field of research. There are about 20 "radio telescopes" throughout the world.

No figures were immediately available on the total cost of the Australian instrument, which will require about three years to build. The British "radio eye" is expected to cost around $1,120,000.

"Ever since plans for the British 'dish' were announced about two years ago," said the Carnegie announcement, "scientists have hoped for a similar unit that would make it possible to explore the stars in the Southern Hemisphere, particularly the Magellanic clouds formation, with the same thoroughness that the (British) equipment will make possible in the Northern Hemisphere. The proposed installation in Australia may be the answer to their prayer."

The Australian instrument has been designed by the Radiophysics Laboratory of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization.

Stated purpose of the Australian Research is to advance man's knowledge of the universe.

But various scientists interested in "radio astronomy" say that aside from the primary objective of enhancing knowledge of the universe, the fledgling new science conceivably could contribute to: (1) improved weather forecasting; (2) improved methods of terrestrial radio communication; and (3) improved safeguards to aerial and maritime navigation during periods of storm or fog when ordinary celestial navigation is impossible.

These scientists say, too, that guided missiles, such as rockets—some of which can now be guided by radiation from visible stars—conceivably could be guided by radiowaves from unseen "stars" at times when the ordinarily visible ones were clouded from view.

Health Nurses Named

Two new nurses have recently been added to the staff of the Washington County Health Department.

They are Mrs. Leila Vandergrift, a graduate of Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, who was formerly a public health nurse in Allegany County; and Mrs. Alma Morgan, a graduate of Church Home Hospital, Baltimore, who formerly served on the staff of the Garrett County Health Department.

Bids Asked On Garage Work

The State Roads Commission terday asked for bids August n the grading and surfacing of ntrance and garage lot for its intenance depot near the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Maryland 49, west of Cumberland.

The commission also asked for bids by August 17 on the overhaul of a 3.6-mile section of U. S. 113 between Snow Hill and Berlin in Worcester County.

The project includes widening, improved drainage, relocations to eliminate bad curves, and resurfacing. The stretch runs from Basket Switch northeast toward Berlin.

The commission also asked for bids by Aug. 17 on an elaborate interchange to carry the Washington National Pike over a relocated section of the Browns Station Road and under the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in Montgomery County.

Bids will be opened at the same time for the overhaul of a 3.7-mile section of Maryland 27 from U. S. 240 at Brink northeast toward Damascus in Montgomery County.

Aug. 17 also was set as the date for opening bids on the widening, relocating and resurfacing of a 5-mile section of Maryland 175 from U. S. 1 at Waterloo northwest to its intersection with Maryland 103 below Ellicott City. The route, which passes Ft. Meade and connects with U. S. 301, is much used as a by-pass between the area south of Baltimore and U. S. 40 on the west.

West Virginia Orchards In Need Of Precipitation

Maryland peach and apple orchards in this end of the state are faring well from the standpoint of rain, but 25 miles to the south in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle growers are crying for need for precipitation.

Henry Miller Jr., vice president and general manage of Consolidated Orchards, Paw Paw, said his firm's orchards on Martin's and Irons mountains in Allegany County have received more than adequate rainfall.

But Consolidated holdings in Morgan and Hampshire County need rain badly at this time, he said.

Better Than Last Year

R. L. Sumner, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales Inc., Romney, a large cooperative, also cited the condition in Hampshire County.

Sumner said orchards in the Hampshire fruit belt need rain badly so that the fruit can size properly. A good shower in the next few days would work wonders, he added.

However, the orchards are in better shape from a moisture standpoint than they were last year at this time, he observed.

Early apples and peaches from this section have found good markets. The Red Haven and Jubilee varieties of peaches are being picked and shipped, while Rambos are the major shippers of the early apples.

Peaches last week were bringing about $3.50 a bushel FOB for two inch fruit and up, Sumner reported.

Sent To Markets

Most of the peaches from this section are sent to the Pittsburgh and Cleveland market areas.

Peach prices dropped this week from 50 to 75 cents a bushel as this is the peak time for the southern orchards.

Miller said earlier this season Consolidated found an attractive market in Canada for early apples. This outlet has been closed as the early Canadian trees are beginning to bear.

Under the International Trade Agreement between Canada and United States, a tariff is placed on U. S. early apples when the Canadian trees begin to bear in quantity, Miller observed.

Sumner said the Hampshire orchards will start to pick Hale Haven peaches next week, hitting the peak for this variety during the week of August 9.

Elbertas, the big Hampshire crop, will start to hit the market about August 16, he added.

Area Men Injured In Auto Accidents

Two area men, James E. Riggleman, 31, of Westernport, and James B. Fazenbaker, of Beryl, W. Va., were injured Tuesday in an auto crash on Route 40 about six miles east of Hancock.

Riggleman sustained fractured ribs and possible internal injuries while Fazenbaker received scalp lacerations. Both were taken to Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown.

State Trooper Albert Heddon said Riggleman, driver of the car, told him he fell asleep while driving toward Hagerstown.

The car hit a guard rail and was totally demolished.

James Uphold, 19, Friendsville, suffered facial lacerations Saturday night in a two-car mishap on Route 40 at the east approach to Great Cacapon bridge, Somerset. He was cited on charges of traveling too fast for conditions. Damage amounted to $1,600

Dr. Arthur Jones Takes Garrett Health Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Arthur Ford Jones, 50-year-old physician who has been practicing at Cumberland since 1932, yesterday was named Garrett County's health officer.

When he goes to work on Monday, the county will have a full time health officer for the first time since 1951, when Dr. Thomas B. Dunn was called into the military service.

Dr. Jones is a native of Cumberland and received his medical degree at the University of Maryland in 1931 after pre-medical schooling at the University of Virginia and Johns Hopkins.

He was an Army doctor from 1942 through 1945, serving overseas in England, France, Belgium and Germany.

At Cumberland he has served from time to time in several of the clinics operated by the Allegany County Health Department and has been medical consultant to the county commissioners for the jail and the infirmary at the county home.

Dr. Jones and his family expect to move to Oakland, the Garrett County seat.

Eleven Registrants Will Be Inducted

Local draft boards will send 11 registrants to Fairmont (W. Va.) August 12 for induction into the armed forces.

Slated for military service are five men in Board 27, two from Board 28 and four in Board 29. The contingent will travel via Blue Ridge bus.

County Ranks Eighth In Blood Donations

A report presented at a recent meeting of the center's coordinating committee revealed residents of Allegany County had contributed 2,980 pints of blood during the 12-month period for a quota percentage of 106.5.

Although this rating was the eighth highest among the chapters, the amount contributed was the fourth highest, being exceeded only by Cambria, Blair and Westmoreland County chapters (all in Pennsylvania).

Have Lower Quotas

It was noted also that the seven chapters which attained higher percentage ratings all had much lower quotas than that alloted to Allegany County. In view of its successful appeal last year, the quota for the present fiscal year has been placed at 3,600 pints.

Only one visit was made to Allegany County this month, that being held on July 6 when 155½ pints were donated at the Eagles Home here. No other county visit was made since it was thought that the weekend July 4 holiday would interfere with donations. The amount contributed exceeded the one-day quota by 5½ pints.

Red Cross officials have scheduled four visits during August, explaining that none will be made in September, again anticipating the usual low number of contributors which respond to appeals following a holiday weekend—Labor Day.

First Stop August 2

The first county stop will be made Monday, August 2, at Lonaconing. The mobile unit will be at the Eagles Home here on the following day, and at the same site on Monday, August 30. The last county visit will be made August 31 in Frostburg. County Red Cross officials have asked all persons scheduled to make a special attempt to keep appointments since the supply on hand at the blood center has been depleted.

It was also brought out at the coordinating committee meeting that neighboring Garrett County had contributed 468 pints from towards a quota of 512 pints for a rating of 91.4 per cent. This rating placed Garrett County sixteenth among the center's 30 chapters.

Most For Civilians

Arthur Koster, administrator of the Johnstown Center, pointed out that the 28,160 pints of blood collected last year was 90.9 per cent of its quota of 42,000 pints. In a further breakdown of the annual report, Koster explained that 6,687 pints of blood had been sent for use by the Defense Department and that 31,473 pints had been expended for civilian use. The original budget, he said, was to provide 30,000 pints for civilian use.

The quota for the current fiscal year, Koster stated, has been established at 39,800 pints. This figure, he continued, was arrived at by estimating civilian use at 32,800 pints and a request for 7,000 pints by the Defense Department. The Defense Department request is part of a national goal of a million pints, Koster stated.

Firemen's Association To Meet Tomorrow

The fair committee of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. with officials of the Cumberland Fair Association to complete plans for the observance of Firemen's Day at the Cumberland Fair.

The meeting, originally scheduled last Monday evening, was postponed due to the death of Edgar Reynolds, general manager of the fair association.

Some 80 per cent of automobiles wrecked at railroad crossings are driven by persons who live in the immediate neighborhood.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You simply cannot neglect your skin for weeks and months, then buy a magic charm to produce beauty overnight. Lovely skin does not result from spasmodic attention any more than a good figure comes from eating sensibly one day of every month.

Your skin is an organ, the largest organ of the body. It must be treated scientifically. It thrives on daily care . . . correct diet, cleanliness, stimulation, protection.

The skin consultant on my staff points out that a good complexion is built largely from within. She believes that everyone should follow the Powers Girls' health program that includes sleeping eight hours a night with a window open in the bedroom; relaxation periods to prevent nervous tension which causes lines and wrinkles; drinking eight glasses of water every day; exercising briskly, out-of-doors; eating nourishing food, and eating regularly.

Outward Care

Since even the healthiest complexion needs care, you're wise if you aid nature by cleansing and lubricating your skin every single day. Such outward care will be reflected in better tone and fewer blemishes.

Clean your face gently but thoroughly every morning. Use a dry-skin cleanser if your skin is inherently dry, an oily-skin cleanser if it is oily. After using an oily-skin cleanser, go a step further — follow cleansing with a good washing with mild soap and water.

Be sure to remove all soap film, for residue of soap dehydrates the skin, causing roughness, and in some cases, extreme irritation. Soap film left on the skin is also responsible for those tiny underneath-the-surface blemishes. So rinse and rinse and rinse!

At night (and during the day before refreshing your makeup) remove makeup with cleanser and tissues; if necessary, use the soap-and-water treatment. Again, a thorough rinsing!

Every Day

For toning, use a skin lotion. This removes excess oil and gently stimulates the skin while closing the pores. For lubrication, a regular night cream or oil is the thing. Smooth it gently into the skin with upward and outward motions.

Night and morning care — every night, every morning — will help to keep your skin young and fresh, just the way you want it to be.

Tomorrow — Take a breath!

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

WIFE PRESERVERS

One way to use leftovers of meat and mashed potatoes is to line a baking dish with mashed potatoes, fill the center with chopped, cooked meat or stew. Cover with mashed potatoes, and bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) until hot through and brown on top. If you have only a little potato, make only the upper crust of it.

Mental Examination Is Sought For Davis

The court-appointed attorney for a 27-year-old man charged with raping a nine-year-old girl has petitioned Allegany County Circuit Court for a mental examination to be given the accused.

Estel C. Kelley, said he filed the papers in the office of Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden yesterday morning in behalf of Lester W. Davis.

Davis was arrested June 8 by City Police in Constitution Park on the charge of raping the little girl there on that date.

He has been detained in the County Jail since his apprehension.

Bids Asked On Garage Work

The State Roads Commission terday asked for bids August n the grading and surfacing of ntrance and garage lot for its intenance depot near the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Maryland 49, west of Cumberland.

The commission also asked for bids by August 17 on the overhaul of a 3.6-mile section of U. S. 113 between Snow Hill and Berlin in Worcester County.

The project includes widening, improved drainage, relocations to eliminate bad curves, and resurfacing. The stretch runs from Basket Switch northeast toward Berlin.

The commission also asked for bids by Aug. 17 on an elaborate interchange to carry the Washington National Pike over a relocated section of the Browns Station Road and under the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in Montgomery County.

Bids will be opened at the same time for the overhaul of a 3.7-mile section of Maryland 27 from U. S. 240 at Brink northeast toward Damascus in Montgomery County.

Aug. 17 also was set as the date for opening bids on the widening, relocating and resurfacing of a 5-mile section of Maryland 175 from U. S. 1 at Waterloo northwest to its intersection with Maryland 103 below Ellicott City. The route, which passes Ft. Meade and connects with U. S. 301, is much used as a by-pass between the area south of Baltimore and U. S. 40 on the west.

West Virginia Orchards In Need Of Precipitation

Maryland peach and apple orchards in this end of the state are faring well from the standpoint of rain, but 25 miles to the south in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle growers are crying for need for precipitation.

Henry Miller Jr., vice president and general manage of Consolidated Orchards, Paw Paw, said his firm's orchards on Martin's and Irons mountains in Allegany County have received more than adequate rainfall.

But Consolidated holdings in Morgan and Hampshire County need rain badly at this time, he said.

Better Than Last Year

R. L. Sumner, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales Inc., Romney, a large cooperative, also cited the condition in Hampshire County.

Sumner said orchards in the Hampshire fruit belt need rain badly so that the fruit can size properly. A good shower in the next few days would work wonders, he added.

However, the orchards are in better shape from a moisture standpoint than they were last year at this time, he observed.

Early apples and peaches from this section have found good markets. The Red Haven and Jubilee varieties of peaches are being picked and shipped, while Rambos are the major shippers of the early apples.

Peaches last week were bringing about $3.50 a bushel FOB for two inch fruit and up, Sumner reported.

Sent To Markets

Peach prices dropped this week from 50 to 75 cents a bushel as this is the peak time for the southern orchards.

Miller said earlier this season Consolidated found an attractive market in Canada for early apples. This outlet has been closed as the early Canadian trees are beginning to bear.

Under the International Trade Agreement between Canada and United States, a tariff is placed on U. S. early apples when the Canadian trees begin to bear in quantity, Miller observed.

Sumner said the Hampshire orchards will start to pick Hale Haven peaches next week, hitting the peak for this variety during the week of August 9.

Elbertas, the big Hampshire crop, will start to hit the market about August 16, he added.

Area Men Injured In Auto Accidents

Two area men, James E. Riggleman, 31, of Westernport, and James B. Fazenbaker, of Beryl, W. Va., were injured Tuesday in an auto crash on Route 40 about six miles east of Hancock.

Riggleman sustained fractured ribs and possible internal injuries while Fazenbaker received scalp lacerations. Both were taken to Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown.

State Trooper Albert Heddon said Riggleman, driver of the car, told him he fell asleep while driving toward Hagerstown.

The car hit a guard rail and was totally demolished.

James Uphold, 19, Friendsville, suffered facial lacerations Saturday night in a two-car mishap on Route 40 at the east approach to Great Cacapon bridge, Somerset. He was cited on charges of traveling too fast for conditions. Damage amounted to $1,600

H-Bomb Threat Poses Problem

There was a time when the thinking among top civil defense officials was that a great proportion of the civilian population of our large cities could be saved from sudden death, or even a lingering death by radiation, through "duck and cover tactics." The experience of Hiroshima clearly showed that there were ways to cheat death, even if a person were caught close to the core of the atomic explosion, or "ground zero" as it is called.

With the advent of the hydrogen bomb, the defense planners quickly disabused themselves of this type of thinking.

Right now, the CD hierarchy and the National Security Council are facing the awful equation of survival posed by the H-bomb. The answer, as phrased by Val Peterson, the federal CD administrator, comes down to this: Dig, get out—or die.

The digging process, which entails creating great underground caverns 100 feet or more below ground is too expensive and takes too long to accomplish, so the prospect of evacuating the millions of people living and working in the populous East, and around the fringes of the larger American cities, must be faced.

"We are working on it," Mr. Peterson says, and he submits figures to show how Spokane, Houston, and Mobile have tried evacuation of groups of various sizes, and the result is nothing to be optimistic about. The city of Milwaukee is to become a pilot city for evacuation in the near future, with some 800,000 people taking part. The key, of course, is the time which would elapse between the alert and the actual bombing. At present, heartland cities might have as much as an hour and a half warning. In the Northeast, the upper Midwest, and on the West Coast, the best which can be expected is 15 minutes to a half hour. The capability for making the attack is there, and it might come today, next week, or next month.

The encouraging factors of the top level estimates are that the warning system is being steadily improved, and so is the interception system. These are military responsibilities, and the most staggering problem of all, that of teaching people to "get out," is just being attacked. Other problems, national, municipal, and personal, appear miniscule alongside this need for preparation for survival. But for the first time the public is being told the scope of the problem.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Silver City, N. M.

When we think of radical movements in this country, the big cities, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and such places come to mind. It has seldom been that way. The Populist Movement, perhaps the most successful of radical efforts, came out of the Midwest, centering in Kansas; the "Appeal to Reason," the most potent of radical newspapers, was published in Girard, Kas.; the IWW, perhaps better remembered as the Wobblies, an anarcho-syndicalist movement, witnessed its greatest growth in the lumber camps of Oregon and Washington; Eugene V. Debs was born in Terre Haute, Ind., and Earl Browder in Wichita, Kas.

So now we turn to Silver City, Grant County, N. M., where the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Works cuts a wide swath. This is a Communist union, expelled from the CIO for being just that. In this mining center, the unskilled workers are completely dominated by this union.

It was in the environs of Silver City that the motion picture, "Salt of the Earth," was filmed, produced and directed by some who were affiliated with the Hollywood Ten. They could not work in Hollywood; so they established themselves in Silver City which annoyed the local chamber of commerce no end.

It so happens that more than 95 per cent of the unskilled labor in the Silver City mining industry are of Mexican descent. The Communists in the union and among the motion picture folks devoted themselves unceasingly to the jolly business of stirring up racial discontent. A quiet town suddenly found itself embroiled in much unpleasantness.

This year, the chamber of commerce, whose manager, Harold Welsh, used to be the editor of the "Silver City Enterprise," advocated that the Fourth of July would be an excellent time for a city-wide reaffirmation of their belief in democracy. A committee was appointed which included interesting personalities, such as Greg Mesa, local president of the League of United Latin American Citizens, and Morris Rudick, local theater manager who refused to let the "Salt of the Earth" producers use his theater.

The event united the town. Among the speakers were Roy Brewer, the Hollywood labor leader and president of the Motion Picture Alliance; Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Santa Fe; and Pedro Gonzales-Gonzales, representing the Screen Actors Guild. Forty-three organizations joined in the parade, which had eight marshals, seven of whom were of Mexican nationality.

Roy Brewer, who is now running for the presidency of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, said:

"Hollywood and Silver City have something in common today because we have both been victimized by the American Communist party. And while this experience has been an unpleasant one, I am sure that both of these communities will be better able to face the problems of the future by reason of the experiences through which we have passed. For there is nothing that the world today needs so much in this gigantic struggle for the very survival of our civilization as we need to understand the real nature of the Communist menace with which we are faced and those of us who have faced it in a realistic fashion, such as our two communities have, are going to have an advantage over the others in the struggles to come . . . it is clearly evident that there are many good people who do not realize that American communism can be as deadly as Asiatic or European communism."

Ann Doran, of the Screen Actors Guild, made a little speech on this sound note:

". . . This kind of gathering refutes the Communist line better than anything else. Their feeling is to divide, to make you look at your neighbor with suspicion and hate, but when we gather, just nice, normal average people, that work, that live, that have fried eggs for breakfast; when we gather like this, we are no longer—although we may be very proud of our ancestry—we are no longer Irish or Jewish, or French or Mexican. We're just plain old Apple Pie Americans."

So a good time was had by all at what seems to me to be the best kind of Fourth of July celebration. I give this account rather belatedly in the hope that next year, other communities might try to make the Fourth fit the local scene as perfectly as this one did.

Molotov's Last Stand

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, overwhelmingly renominated in Texas last week, has put himself in the paradoxical position of quietly going round among his Senate colleagues getting promises that they will vote for him as Senate leader next year.

On the surface this would seem strange indeed. But to insiders who watched the strained relations between the handsome Senate Democratic leader and the Democratic senators he is supposed to lead, it was not strange at all.

After Senator Sparkman of Alabama, vice presidential nominee in 1952 and one of the recognized national leaders of the Democratic party, indirectly complained on the Senate floor about Johnson's minus-quantity leadership last week, Lyndon was livid. First he went over to Sparkman's desk and remonstrated. Sparkman, however, didn't budge an inch.

He had stated publicly that Knowland had failed to consult with the Democrats who were really leading the Senate and he meant it. Johnson had been sitting on the sidelines and refusing to cooperate in the debate on a bill which will govern American factories and power plants in future generations.

Failing to budge Sparkman, Johnson then tried to get the Senate floor to defend his leadership. But Senator Humphrey of Minnesota refused to yield.

"I am not going to yield for an attack on those who have been carrying on this fight," he told Johnson.

It was at this point that Johnson began making his deal with Senator Knowland of California to end the debate.

Delegation Waits

Late next day, when Democrats heard what Lyndon was up to, it was decided to send a delegation to see him. So five Democrats approached Johnson on the Senate floor—Hill of Alabama, Anderson of New Mexico, a former member of the cabinet; Stennis of Mississippi, Gore of Tennessee and Jackson of Washington.

Johnson suggested that they come up to his office. They did so. He was courteous but cool. Hill then started to argue against Johnson's proposed statement against his fellow Democrats which they said merely played into Knowland's hands.

"You would be surprised," remarked Johnson, "at some of your Southern colleagues who plan to vote for cloture."

The five senators were certain this was not so, that no Southern senators would vote to cut off debate. (In the end only one—Holland of Florida—did.) But before they could argue much, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson brought a note in to her husband. He read it and said he would have to go back to the Senate floor at once. Johnson did not explain what the note said, but his colleagues suspected it came from GOP Leader Knowland.

For Johnson immediately delivered a speech, aimed at breaking the record atom filibuster which Knowland had battled so hard to defeat.

Plaudits For Lyndon

Shortly after that a perculiar thing happened. As Johnson took his seat in the front row, Senator Goldwater of Arizona, great friend of Senator McCarthy, got up and read a speech praising Johnson and his renomination in Texas. Goldwater had his speech written out. It was not a spur-of-the-moment burst of enthusiasm.

Then Knowland followed with another tribute to Johnson. His eloquence made them appear buddies, not opponents. Then Cordon of Oregon, another Republican, paid tribute. Then all Republicans on the floor rose and applauded, following which they walked over to Johnson to congratulate him.

Finally, Smathers of Florida rose and reminded the Republicans that this was a Democratic victory, not a Republican one, and pointed to a Democratic trend.

Embarrassed at the lack of Democratic congratulations, Johnson walked over to the last seat near the door which senators have to pass as they exit. There he made it a point of shaking hands with Democratic senators as they departed.

That's why the versatile Lyndon is already corralling votes for fear he won't be Democratic leader when the Senate comes back in January.

Vote On McCarthy

Many readers have asked this newsman for predictions on how individual senators will vote on Senator McCarthy when the Flanders resolution of censure comes up this week. In brief, it can be reported that McCarthy will get the hard core of about 19 consistent supporters, most of them Republicans. There will also be about 30 Democrats definitely voting against him.

The balance of the Senate largely hangs in the balance and will be partly swayed by the position of Senator McClellan of Arkansas, hitherto a McCarthy man, but who tangled with McCarthy during the Army hearings. If McClellan makes a strong statement against his former friend, a great many conservative Democrats will follow him.

Meanwhile, here is the line-up of Democrats who are either planning to vote for McCarthy or are leaning toward him: Maybank, S. C.; Byrd and Robertson, Va., despite McCarthy's unfair speech about their friend, Gen. George Marshall; Lennon, N. C.; Eastland, Miss.; Johnson and Daniel of Texas; Kennedy, Mass.; Frear, Del.

Middle-of-the-road Republicans leaning toward McCarthy include: Saltonstall, Mass.; Ferguson, Mich.; Bush and Purtell, Conn.; Cordon, Ore.; Kuchel, Calif.; Martin, Pa.; Dworshak, Idaho, Carlson, Kans.; Bennett, Utah; Hickenlooper, Iowa.

NOTE—Senator Knowland is going to do his best to prevent any vote at all on the Flanders resolution. He has been buttonholing senators urging them to block all debate and vote only on a motion to table the Flanders resolution—despite the fact that he previously gave his word to Flanders that he would permit the resolution to be voted on.

Renewal Of Tension In Far East Should Be Warning

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The sudden renewal of tension in the Far East ought to serve as a warning. If the warning is taken, which it probably will not be, the country will begin to object to the high percentage of fraud in our foreign and defense policy-making.

High officials are not knowingly lying to the country about the national situation, as they did in the period of the Truman-Louis Johnson disarmament that led to the Korean War. All the same, the country is being outrageously bamboozled about the national situation.

So far as one can judge, the leaders of this administration are bamboozling the country because they have achieved a happy state of self-bamboozlement. They do not want to believe that efforts must be made, money must be spent and risks must be run. By a kind of official Coueism, made possible by concealing all the basic facts from the country, most of the policy-makers have ended by concealing the basic facts from themselves.

The main point about which the great men of the National Security Council have so wonderfully bamboozled themselves is their own inevitable reaction to a time of total peril.

Two events of the last 12 months insure that the time of total peril for America is now not very far away. The Soviet hydrogen bomb and the new Soviet long range jet bombers radically change the whole picture. The danger to this country is no longer to be calculated in terms of a slowly accumulating Soviet atomic stockpile, and a Soviet Strategic Air Army equipped with slow, rather short-range TU-4s.

Soviet Moving Ahead

The big, economy-sized H-bomb with lithium hydride cores can be turned out rather rapidly. The new Soviet bombers, the TU-37 and TU-39, are already in quantity production. We have no air defense, and we are building no air defense, to protect this country against the Kremlin's modernized strategic air power and hydrogen bombs.

Thus the moment is fairly near—the official estimates vary from 18 to 36 months—when the NSC planning papers will begin with the sentence:

"Assumed that the Soviet Union has the capability to destroy the United States."

The key question is, very simply, how our highest policy-makers will behave when they see that ugly sentence in official black and white. In the abstract, they know already that they are going to see it fairly soon. But the facts have been hidden from the country. There is no public pressure on the policy-makers to think about the facts. So they have shoved the whole ugly problem under the rug.

Meanwhile the key question has already been answered, not in Washington but in London. Last December, one of these reporters passed through London on the way home from Indochina. At that time, the leaders of the British government plainly understood the uncontainable dangers of a Far Eastern Munich. And they were ready to take great risks to prevent it, if this country would only give the lead.

Instead, this spring, the British leaders rejected our tentative lead, and actively worked to bring about a Far Eastern Munich. The reason was simple. Between December and March, the British government had suddenly become aware of the total peril of the British Isles.

How this happened is a curious but long story. It is enough to say that two trivial accidents—a speech by Rep. Sterling Cole and the hydrogen bomb fall-out on the Japanese fishing boat, "Fortunate Dragon"—suddenly waked up the British Cabinet.

Peril Paralyzes Policy

They too had closed their ears to the experts. They too had shoved the problem of their peril under the rug. But when they abruptly faced the fact that the Soviet could quite literally destroy the British Isles—which is already the case—they went all out for appeasement at any cost. Thus, their peril paralyzed their policy.

It may be unmannerly to say so; but there is no reason in the record to believe that President Eisenhower and the members of his cabinet are much braver and tougher than Prime Minister Churchill and his colleagues. Hence there is every reason to expect that the specter of total peril, when it is upon us, will have the same paralyzing effect on American policy as it has already produced in Britain.

Meanwhile it is already clear that even a partial paralysis of American policy is going to be desperately dangerous. The ink was hardly dry on the Indochinese treaty, when Ho Chi-minh announced his determination to grab the rest of Indochina for communism. If there is no push in Indochina, there will be a push somewhere else in Asia; and if not in Asia, then somewhere in the Middle East or in Europe.

And what will the American policy-makers do, if the push comes after the beginning of the time of total peril? Will they say, "Yes, we are willing to risk the destruction of the United States for the Burmans, or the Berliners, or whoever it may be?" Or will they duck the challenge, and so permit the Kremlin to begin gobbling up the free world on a piecemeal system?

There are other ways of phrasing the key question. Whether the idea of "massive retaliation" is a serious answer to this question, deserves careful study in a subsequent report.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

That candidatial spinster Stevenson is coaching the White House how to mind the baby.

Adlai was out in Oregon weeping 48-caliber tears over the melancholy state of the incarcerated incumbents.

Steevey went to the Northwest for a better look at the Southeast. For the first time in forty years there is danger of Oregon sending a Democratic senator to Washington. Now you know why Adlai gave his sobbing muscles a work-out.

Senator Wayne Morse is in the Senate but he is polishing no Hood River apples. He runs as independent as hair on the back of the neck.

Steevey claimed Morse was a Republican as long as he could stand it. But he doesn't explain why Morse never became a Democrat. The switch has been made by politicians in the prime of their ambitions.

The problems in Oregon are tidewater oil reserves, natural resources, hydro-electric power, Snake River dam, irrigation, low level dams, too much starch in neck-bands and squatters sovereignty in drugstore telephone booths.

He also mentioned that Harry Truman had an ear for music critics, the administration for double-parking tea-wagons at five o'clock, said the greatest surplus was Republican campaign promises and drove off in a four-wheeled huff.

The Passing Show

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Passing show—

Two thoughts come to mind in the wake of the shooting down by our Navy fliers of two Red Chinese planes that tried to interfere with the Navy's search for survivors of a shotdown British airliner in the South China Sea.

1.—The reaction in Congress and through the country indicates that there has seldom been more wholehearted and widespread approval of an act of retaliation. The news was a heartening reassurance to many that Uncle Samson still has muscles, though slow to anger.

2.—Why didn't the British send warships to the area? It was a British plane that was brutally shot down, not an American—though six of the 18 passengers and crewmen were American. An Anglo-American show of force might have done more good in that part of the world than a dozen high-level diplomatic meetings in Washington and London.

Ireland (pop. 4,000,000) has conducted a searching study of its "complex and disturbing" population problems. Findings: "While the population of most other countries has increased, the population of Ireland, which is now only half of what it was 100 years ago, has remained stable over the past three decades.

"The marriage rate in Ireland is one of the lowest in the world and about a quarter of the population never marry at all—a proportion which is far higher than that for any other country.

"Yet Ireland, which has a relatively small stable population, maintains an emigration rate comparable to that of such overpopulated countries as Italy."

The study shows that the population decline began with the "Great Famine" of 1846-47. A further decline emerged from the crop failure in 1879-80. The loss of population between 1911 and 1926, the study decided, was "probably due to the First World War and the political changes of the 1920's." The Irish population has not changed since 1926.

The Irish census of 1940 showed that the number of persons of Irish origin (born in Ireland or with at least one parent born in Ireland) in the United States was 2,788,187. Most of these had lived in the rural sections of Ireland, but 90 per cent of them lived in U. S. Urban centers. The great loss of population in Ireland has been in the rural areas.

My friend Rex Smith of American Airlines was not impressed by the gripe from a Miami commercial airline pilot printed here the other day. He writes:

"The recent pilot dispute concerned only nonstop pilots. We repeat: They fly 85 hours a month. They work 10 days and they have 20 days off. Our nonstop pilots average 22 hours between each leg of their flights . . . The pilot who wrote you seems like a hard-luck fellow to me. I think he's wrong in claiming that the pilots' association is solely responsible for the current safety regulations. These regulations were instituted by pilots, the government, the companies and the manufacturers. Everybody."

Recently wrote a little piece about a child of ours whose daily postcard from his camp invariably read, "Dear Mom and Pop, I am having a nice time at camp. I hope you are having a nice time not here. Your loving son, Dennis."

Dennis doesn't read me. But another boy took the piece to him. I gather Dennis didn't like it. He has made a radical change in his cards. They now read, "Dear Mom, I am having a nice time at camp. I hope you are having a nice time not here. Your loving son, Dennis."

The Reader Writes About An Uncommunicative Doctor

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Last month we received a short letter from a reader that began: "My doctor is good but uncommunicative." This woman was getting well but her physician never discussed her problem or explained what was wrong. We had to tell her that some physicians talk and some don't. Furthermore, not all are blessed with a bedside manner as well as ability. It is this combination that makes one medico stand head and shoulders above another. On the other hand, when we are forced to make a choice, the physician with ability is the best bet.

Another reader had heard about a blood test for cancer of the prostate and wondered if it would detect other cancers. The acid phosphatase blood test is used for prostatic cancer but is of no value in diagnosing other malignancies. Some authorities doubt if a general test for all cancers ever will be discovered.

Dr. Edward J. Walaszek did a cancer detection study with tagged (radioactive) colchicine. The drug, derived from the autumn crocus, was grown in airtight greenhouses containing radioactive carbon 14 in the form of carbon dioxide. According to a report in the Journal of Medical Education, a difference was observed in the excretion of this substance when administered to cancer patients and to normal individuals. In the former, 0.2 to six per cent of the colchicine was excreted whereas a normal group eliminated 15 to 50 per cent. It is too early to pass judgment on this test but it sounds encouraging.

From time to time we are asked how a room should be lighted when viewing TV. Mr. Leonard V. James of LaGrange, Ill., believes that "soft general lighting in the room is desirable, as in a movie theater, to avoid too great contrasts or variations in brightness in the field of vision." He also says it usually is sufficient to illuminate the room surfaces behind or beyond the set.

"No direct or strong light should fall on the picture, or its details will suffer. The source of light should be concealed, perhaps by a fairly dense shade. One good way is to hide this source behind the TV cabinet. In general, the brightness of the room surfaces as seen around the set should be one-tenth to one-third of the average for the pictures; the lower limit to assure comfort, the upper limit to avoid distraction."

A Bronx, N. Y., reader makes the following suggestions concerning my article of several years ago on irritating materials found in shoes: "Certain health standards should be established for footgear as there are for foods; all footgear ought to be labeled as to construction, materials used, and chemical content."

While some individuals are sensitive to ingredients used in shoe manufacture, and many rashes blamed on ringworm stem from this source, I'm not certain that listing the ingredients will help avoid this situation. It is more important to know whether the rash is due to ringworm or contact dermatitis.

TOMORROW: Preventing keloids.

CONTRACTED FINGERS

R. E. writes: Is Dupuytren's contracture inherited? My father had it and now I'm beginning to have trouble with my two end fingers; they don't want to uncurl.

REPLY

This condition "runs in families" and usually begins about middle life. The small and ring fingers curl toward the palm of the hand as a result of this contracture. Best results are attained through surgery.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Despite the fact that several happy-go-lucky players on the team had repeatedly broken training, a boisterous baseball team managed to win the pennant with a great last-month drive. The day the World Series ended (the team, having played the Yankees, was trimmed of course) the owner came into the clubhouse and said, "Boys, you went a lot further than I thought you would, anyhow. How about some whiskys and soda?" "Guess we might as well," said one player. "No sense stopping now that the season is over."

A young lady whose dress made Marlene Dietrich's famous Las Vegas costume look like an eskimo reindeer robe ankled into a doctor's office and said, "Doc, vaccinate me somewhere so it doesn't show." He gave her a quick once-over and opined, "The only suggestion I can offer is that you swallow the vaccine."

George Burns recalls that he once had a menial job at a race-track, adding, "You know, one of those places where the windows clean people."

Lovely skin is the result of daily care . . . . don't expect wonders from "now and then" attention!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

You simply cannot neglect your skin for weeks and months, then buy a magic charm to produce beauty overnight. Lovely skin does not result from spasmodic attention any more than a good figure comes from eating sensibly one day of every month.

Your skin is an organ, the largest organ of the body. It must be treated scientifically. It thrives on daily care . . . correct diet, cleanliness, stimulation, protection.

The skin consultant on my staff points out that a good complexion is built largely from within. She believes that everyone should follow the Powers Girls' health program that includes sleeping eight hours a night with a window open in the bedroom; relaxation periods to prevent nervous tension which causes lines and wrinkles; drinking eight glasses of water every day; exercising briskly, out-of-doors; eating nourishing food, and eating regularly.

Outward Care

Since even the healthiest complexion needs care, you're wise if you aid nature by cleansing and lubricating your skin every single day. Such outward care will be reflected in better tone and fewer blemishes.

Clean your face gently but thoroughly every morning. Use a dry-skin cleanser if your skin is inherently dry, an oily-skin cleanser if it is oily. After using an oily-skin cleanser, go a step further — follow cleansing with a good washing with mild soap and water.

Be sure to remove all soap film, for residue of soap dehydrates the skin, causing roughness, and in some cases, extreme irritation. Soap film left on the skin is also responsible for those tiny underneath-the-surface blemishes. So rinse and rinse and rinse!

At night (and during the day before refreshing your makeup) remove makeup with cleanser and tissues; if necessary, use the soap-and-water treatment. Again, a thorough rinsing!

Every Day

For toning, use a skin lotion. This removes excess oil and gently stimulates the skin while closing the pores. For lubrication, a regular night cream or oil is the thing. Smooth it gently into the skin with upward and outward motions.

Night and morning care — every night, every morning — will help to keep your skin young and fresh, just the way you want it to be.

Tomorrow — Take a breath!

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Mental Examination Is Sought For Davis

The court-appointed attorney for a 27-year-old man charged with raping a nine-year-old girl has petitioned Allegany County Circuit Court for a mental examination to be given the accused.

Estel C. Kelley, said he filed the papers in the office of Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden yesterday morning in behalf of Lester W. Davis.

Davis was arrested June 8 by City Police in Constitution Park on the charge of raping the little girl there on that date.

He has been detained in the County Jail since his apprehension.

Tax Assessment Hearing Asked

A petition was filed in Mineral County Circuit Court in Keyser, W. Va., yesterday by the Western Maryland Railroad Company requesting a hearing on its appeal from the assessment of its property in West Virginia by the Board of Public Works.

The petition, filed by Attorney James H. Swadley Jr., Keyser, for the Western Maryland and General Counsel William C. Purnell claims the railroad's property in West Virginia has been assessed too high. It requests that a hearing date be set on the appeal.

Judge Ernest A. See granted the petition, but has not yet set a date for a hearing.

The Board of Public Works this year assessed the Western Maryland property in West Virginia at $11,250,000. At a similar hearing in 1951 Judge See found the value of the railroad's property to be $9,366,000.

The reason the petition was filed in Keyser is because the largest assessment of the Western Maryland's property in West Virginia is in Mineral County.

H-Bomb Threat Poses Problem

There was a time when the thinking among top civil defense officials was that a great proportion of the civilian population of our large cities could be saved from sudden death, or even a lingering death by radiation, through "duck and cover tactics." The experience of Hiroshima clearly showed that there were ways to cheat death, even if a person were caught close to the core of the atomic explosion, or "ground zero" as it is called.

With the advent of the hydrogen bomb, the defense planners quickly disabused themselves of this type of thinking.

Right now, the CD hierarchy and the National Security Council are facing the awful equation of survival posed by the H-bomb. The answer, as phrased by Val Peterson, the federal CD administrator, comes down to this: Dig, get out—or die.

The digging process, which entails creating great underground caverns 100 feet or more below ground is too expensive and takes too long to accomplish, so the prospect of evacuating the millions of people living and working in the populous East, and around the fringes of the larger American cities, must be faced.

"We are working on it," Mr. Peterson says, and he submits figures to show how Spokane, Houston, and Mobile have tried evacuation of groups of various sizes, and the result is nothing to be optimistic about. The city of Milwaukee is to become a pilot city for evacuation in the near future, with some 800,000 people taking part. The key, of course, is the time which would elapse between the alert and the actual bombing. At present, heartland cities might have as much as an hour and a half warning. In the Northeast, the upper Midwest, and on the West Coast, the best which can be expected is 15 minutes to a half hour. The capability for making the attack is there, and it might come today, next week, or next month.

The encouraging factors of the top level estimates are that the warning system is being steadily improved, and so is the interception system. These are military responsibilities, and the most staggering problem of all, that of teaching people to "get out," is just being attacked. Other problems, national, municipal, and personal, appear miniscule alongside this need for preparation for survival. But for the first time the public is being told the scope of the problem.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Silver City, N. M.

When we think of radical movements in this country, the big cities, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and such places come to mind. It has seldom been that way. The Populist Movement, perhaps the most successful of radical efforts, came out of the Midwest, centering in Kansas; the "Appeal to Reason," the most potent of radical newspapers, was published in Girard, Kas.; the IWW, perhaps better remembered as the Wobblies, an anarcho-syndicalist movement, witnessed its greatest growth in the lumber camps of Oregon and Washington; Eugene V. Debs was born in Terre Haute, Ind., and Earl Browder in Wichita, Kas.

So now we turn to Silver City, Grant County, N. M., where the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Works cuts a wide swath. This is a Communist union, expelled from the CIO for being just that. In this mining center, the unskilled workers are completely dominated by this union.

It was in the environs of Silver City that the motion picture, "Salt of the Earth," was filmed, produced and directed by some who were affiliated with the Hollywood Ten. They could not work in Hollywood; so they established themselves in Silver City which annoyed the local chamber of commerce no end.

It so happens that more than 95 per cent of the unskilled labor in the Silver City mining industry are of Mexican descent. The Communists in the union and among the motion picture folks devoted themselves unceasingly to the jolly business of stirring up racial discontent. A quiet town suddenly found itself embroiled in much unpleasantness.

This year, the chamber of commerce, whose manager, Harold Welsh, used to be the editor of the "Silver City Enterprise," advocated that the Fourth of July would be an excellent time for a city-wide reaffirmation of their belief in democracy. A committee was appointed which included interesting personalities, such as Greg Mesa, local president of the League of United Latin American Citizens, and Morris Rudick, local theater manager who refused to let the "Salt of the Earth" producers use his theater.

The event united the town. Among the speakers were Roy Brewer, the Hollywood labor leader and president of the Motion Picture Alliance; Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Santa Fe; and Pedro Gonzales-Gonzales, representing the Screen Actors Guild. Forty-three organizations joined in the parade, which had eight marshals, seven of whom were of Mexican nationality.

Roy Brewer, who is now running for the presidency of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, said:

"Hollywood and Silver City have something in common today because we have both been victimized by the American Communist party. And while this experience has been an unpleasant one, I am sure that both of these communities will be better able to face the problems of the future by reason of the experiences through which we have passed. For there is nothing that the world today needs so much in this gigantic struggle for the very survival of our civilization as we need to understand the real nature of the Communist menace with which we are faced and those of us who have faced it in a realistic fashion, such as our two communities have, are going to have an advantage over the others in the struggles to come . . . it is clearly evident that there are many good people who do not realize that American communism can be as deadly as Asiatic or European communism."

Ann Doran, of the Screen Actors Guild, made a little speech on this sound note:

". . . This kind of gathering refutes the Communist line better than anything else. Their feeling is to divide, to make you look at your neighbor with suspicion and hate, but when we gather, just nice, normal average people, that work, that live, that have fried eggs for breakfast; when we gather like this, we are no longer—although we may be very proud of our ancestry—we are no longer Irish or Jewish, or French or Mexican. We're just plain old Apple Pie Americans."

So a good time was had by all at what seems to me to be the best kind of Fourth of July celebration. I give this account rather belatedly in the hope that next year, other communities might try to make the Fourth fit the local scene as perfectly as this one did.

Molotov's Last Stand

Renewal Of Tension In Far East Should Be Warning

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The sudden renewal of tension in the Far East ought to serve as a warning. If the warning is taken, which it probably will not be, the country will begin to object to the high percentage of fraud in our foreign and defense policy-making.

High officials are not knowingly lying to the country about the national situation, as they did in the period of the Truman-Louis Johnson disarmament that led to the Korean War. All the same, the country is being outrageously bamboozled about the national situation.

So far as one can judge, the leaders of this administration are bamboozling the country because they have achieved a happy state of self-bamboozlement. They do not want to believe that efforts must be made, money must be spent and risks must be run. By a kind of official Coueism, made possible by concealing all the basic facts from the country, most of the policy-makers have ended by concealing the basic facts from themselves.

The main point about which the great men of the National Security Council have so wonderfully bamboozled themselves is their own inevitable reaction to a time of total peril.

Two events of the last 12 months insure that the time of total peril for America is now not very far away. The Soviet hydrogen bomb and the new Soviet long range jet bombers radically change the whole picture. The danger to this country is no longer to be calculated in terms of a slowly accumulating Soviet atomic stockpile, and a Soviet Strategic Air Army equipped with slow, rather short-range TU-4s.

Soviet Moving Ahead

The big, economy-sized H-bomb with lithium hydride cores can be turned out rather rapidly. The new Soviet bombers, the TU-37 and TU-39, are already in quantity production. We have no air defense, and we are building no air defense, to protect this country against the Kremlin's modernized strategic air power and hydrogen bombs.

Thus the moment is fairly near—the official estimates vary from 18 to 36 months—when the NSC planning papers will begin with the sentence:

"Assumed that the Soviet Union has the capability to destroy the United States."

The key question is, very simply, how our highest policy-makers will behave when they see that ugly sentence in official black and white. In the abstract, they know already that they are going to see it fairly soon. But the facts have been hidden from the country. There is no public pressure on the policy-makers to think about the facts. So they have shoved the whole ugly problem under the rug.

Meanwhile the key question has already been answered, not in Washington but in London. Last December, one of these reporters passed through London on the way home from Indochina. At that time, the leaders of the British government plainly understood the uncontainable dangers of a Far Eastern Munich. And they were ready to take great risks to prevent it, if this country would only give the lead.

Instead, this spring, the British leaders rejected our tentative lead, and actively worked to bring about a Far Eastern Munich. The reason was simple. Between December and March, the British government had suddenly become aware of the total peril of the British Isles.

How this happened is a curious but long story. It is enough to say that two trivial accidents—a speech by Rep. Sterling Cole and the hydrogen bomb fall-out on the Japanese fishing boat, "Fortunate Dragon"—suddenly waked up the British Cabinet.

Peril Paralyzes Policy

They too had closed their ears to the experts. They too had shoved the problem of their peril under the rug. But when they abruptly faced the fact that the Soviet could quite literally destroy the British Isles—which is already the case—they went all out for appeasement at any cost. Thus, their peril paralyzed their policy.

It may be unmannerly to say so; but there is no reason in the record to believe that President Eisenhower and the members of his cabinet are much braver and tougher than Prime Minister Churchill and his colleagues. Hence there is every reason to expect that the specter of total peril, when it is upon us, will have the same paralyzing effect on American policy as it has already produced in Britain.

Meanwhile it is already clear that even a partial paralysis of American policy is going to be desperately dangerous. The ink was hardly dry on the Indochinese treaty, when Ho Chi-minh announced his determination to grab the rest of Indochina for communism. If there is no push in Indochina, there will be a push somewhere else in Asia; and if not in Asia, then somewhere in the Middle East or in Europe.

And what will the American policy-makers do, if the push comes after the beginning of the time of total peril? Will they say, "Yes, we are willing to risk the destruction of the United States for the Burmans, or the Berliners, or whoever it may be?" Or will they duck the challenge, and so permit the Kremlin to begin gobbling up the free world on a piecemeal system?

There are other ways of phrasing the key question. Whether the idea of "massive retaliation" is a serious answer to this question, deserves careful study in a subsequent report.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

That candidatial spinster Stevenson is coaching the White House how to mind the baby.

Adlai was out in Oregon weeping 48-caliber tears over the melancholy state of the incarcerated incumbents.

Steevey went to the Northwest for a better look at the Southeast. For the first time in forty years there is danger of Oregon sending a Democratic senator to Washington. Now you know why Adlai gave his sobbing muscles a work-out.

Senator Wayne Morse is in the Senate but he is polishing no Hood River apples. He runs as independent as hair on the back of the neck.

Steevey claimed Morse was a Republican as long as he could stand it. But he doesn't explain why Morse never became a Democrat. The switch has been made by politicians in the prime of their ambitions.

The problems in Oregon are tidewater oil reserves, natural resources, hydro-electric power, Snake River dam, irrigation, low level dams, too much starch in neck-bands and squatters sovereignty in drugstore telephone booths.

He also mentioned that Harry Truman had an ear for music critics, the administration for double-parking tea-wagons at five o'clock, said the greatest surplus was Republican campaign promises and drove off in a four-wheeled huff.

The Reader Writes About An Uncommunicative Doctor

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Last month we received a short letter from a reader that began: "My doctor is good but uncommunicative." This woman was getting well but her physician never discussed her problem or explained what was wrong. We had to tell her that some physicians talk and some don't. Furthermore, not all are blessed with a bedside manner as well as ability. It is this combination that makes one medico stand head and shoulders above another. On the other hand, when we are forced to make a choice, the physician with ability is the best bet.

Another reader had heard about a blood test for cancer of the prostate and wondered if it would detect other cancers. The acid phosphatase blood test is used for prostatic cancer but is of no value in diagnosing other malignancies. Some authorities doubt if a general test for all cancers ever will be discovered.

Dr. Edward J. Walaszek did a cancer detection study with tagged (radioactive) colchicine. The drug, derived from the autumn crocus, was grown in airtight greenhouses containing radioactive carbon 14 in the form of carbon dioxide. According to a report in the Journal of Medical Education, a difference was observed in the excretion of this substance when administered to cancer patients and to normal individuals. In the former, 0.2 to six per cent of the colchicine was excreted whereas a normal group eliminated 15 to 50 per cent. It is too early to pass judgment on this test but it sounds encouraging.

From time to time we are asked how a room should be lighted when viewing TV. Mr. Leonard V. James of LaGrange, Ill., believes that "soft general lighting in the room is desirable, as in a movie theater, to avoid too great contrasts or variations in brightness in the field of vision." He also says it usually is sufficient to illuminate the room surfaces behind or beyond the set.

"No direct or strong light should fall on the picture, or its details will suffer. The source of light should be concealed, perhaps by a fairly dense shade. One good way is to hide this source behind the TV cabinet. In general, the brightness of the room surfaces as seen around the set should be one-tenth to one-third of the average for the pictures; the lower limit to assure comfort, the upper limit to avoid distraction."

A Bronx, N. Y., reader makes the following suggestions concerning my article of several years ago on irritating materials found in shoes: "Certain health standards should be established for footgear as there are for foods; all footgear ought to be labeled as to construction, materials used, and chemical content."

While some individuals are sensitive to ingredients used in shoe manufacture, and many rashes blamed on ringworm stem from this source, I'm not certain that listing the ingredients will help avoid this situation. It is more important to know whether the rash is due to ringworm or contact dermatitis.

TOMORROW: Preventing keloids.

CONTRACTED FINGERS

R. E. writes: Is Dupuytren's contracture inherited? My father had it and now I'm beginning to have trouble with my two end fingers; they don't want to uncurl.

REPLY

This condition "runs in families" and usually begins about middle life. The small and ring fingers curl toward the palm of the hand as a result of this contracture. Best results are attained through surgery.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Despite the fact that several happy-go-lucky players on the team had repeatedly broken training, a boisterous baseball team managed to win the pennant with a great last-month drive. The day the World Series ended (the team, having played the Yankees, was trimmed of course) the owner came into the clubhouse and said, "Boys, you went a lot further than I thought you would, anyhow. How about some whiskys and soda?" "Guess we might as well," said one player. "No sense stopping now that the season is over."

A young lady whose dress made Marlene Dietrich's famous Las Vegas costume look like an eskimo reindeer robe ankled into a doctor's office and said, "Doc, vaccinate me somewhere so it doesn't show." He gave her a quick once-over and opined, "The only suggestion I can offer is that you swallow the vaccine."

George Burns recalls that he once had a menial job at a racetrack, adding, "You know, one of those places where the windows clean people."

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, overwhelmingly renominated in Texas last week, has put himself in the paradoxical position of quietly going round among his Senate colleagues getting promises that they will vote for him as Senate leader next year.

On the surface this would seem strange indeed. But to insiders who watched the strained relations between the handsome Senate Democratic leader and the Democratic senators he is supposed to lead, it was not strange at all.

After Senator Sparkman of Alabama, vice presidential nominee in 1952 and one of the recognized national leaders of the Democratic party, indirectly complained on the Senate floor about Johnson's minus-quantity leadership last week, Lyndon was livid. First he went over to Sparkman's desk and remonstrated. Sparkman, however, didn't budge an inch.

He had stated publicly that Knowland had failed to consult with the Democrats who were really leading the Senate and he meant it. Johnson had been sitting on the sidelines and refusing to cooperate in the debate on a bill which will govern American factories and power plants in future generations.

Failing to budge Sparkman, Johnson then tried to get the Senate floor to defend his leadership. But Senator Humphrey of Minnesota refused to yield.

"I am not going to yield for an attack on those who have been carrying on this fight," he told Johnson.

It was at this point that Johnson began making his deal with Senator Knowland of California to end the debate.

Delegation Waits

Late next day, when Democrats heard what Lyndon was up to, it was decided to send a delegation to see him. So five Democrats approached Johnson on the Senate floor—Hill of Alabama, Anderson of New Mexico, a former member of the cabinet; Stennis of Mississippi, Gore of Tennessee and Jackson of Washington.

Johnson suggested that they come up to his office. They did so. He was courteous but cool. Hill then started to argue against Johnson's proposed statement against his fellow Democrats which they said merely played into Knowland's hands.

"You would be surprised," remarked Johnson, "at some of your Southern colleagues who plan to vote for cloture."

The five senators were certain this was not so, that no Southern senators would vote to cut off debate. (In the end only one—Holland of Florida—did.) But before they could argue much, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson brought a note in to her husband. He read it and said he would have to go back to the Senate floor at once. Johnson did not explain what the note said, but his colleagues suspected it came from GOP Leader Knowland.

For Johnson immediately delivered a speech, aimed at breaking the record atom filibuster which Knowland had battled so hard to defeat.

Plaudits For Lyndon

Shortly after that a perculiar thing happened. As Johnson took his seat in the front row, Senator Goldwater of Arizona, great friend of Senator McCarthy, got up and read a speech praising Johnson and his renomination in Texas. Goldwater had his speech written out. It was not a spur-of-the-moment burst of enthusiasm.

Then Knowland followed with another tribute to Johnson. His eloquence made them appear buddies, not opponents. Then Cordon of Oregon, another Republican, paid tribute. Then all Republicans on the floor rose and applauded, following which they walked over to Johnson to congratulate him.

Finally, Smathers of Florida rose and reminded the Republicans that this was a Democratic victory, not a Republican one, and pointed to a Democratic trend.

Embarrassed at the lack of Democratic congratulations, Johnson walked over to the last seat near the door which senators have to pass as they exit. There he made it a point of shaking hands with Democratic senators as they departed.

That's why the versatile Lyndon is already corralling votes for fear he won't be Democratic leader when the Senate comes back in January.

Vote On McCarthy

Many readers have asked this newsman for predictions on how individual senators will vote on Senator McCarthy when the Flanders resolution of censure comes up this week. In brief, it can be reported that McCarthy will get the hard core of about 19 consistent supporters, most of them Republicans. There will also be about 30 Democrats definitely voting against him.

The balance of the Senate largely hangs in the balance and will be partly swayed by the position of Senator McClellan of Arkansas, hitherto a McCarthy man, but who tangled with McCarthy during the Army hearings. If McClellan makes a strong statement against his former friend, a great many conservative Democrats will follow him.

Meanwhile, here is the line-up of Democrats who are either planning to vote for McCarthy or are leaning toward him: Maybank, S. C.; Byrd and Robertson, Va., despite McCarthy's unfair speech about their friend, Gen. George Marshall; Lennon, N. C.; Eastland, Miss.; Johnson and Daniel of Texas; Kennedy, Mass.; Frear, Del.

NOTE—Senator Knowland is going to do his best to prevent any vote at all on the Flanders resolution. He has been buttonholing senators urging them to block all debate and vote only on a motion to table the Flanders resolution—despite the fact that he previously gave his word to Flanders that he would permit the resolution to be voted on.

The Passing Show

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—The Passing show—

Two thoughts come to mind in the wake of the shooting down by our Navy fliers of two Red Chinese planes that tried to interfere with the Navy's search for survivors of a shotdown British airliner in the South China Sea.

1.—The reaction in Congress and through the country indicates that there has seldom been more wholehearted and widespread approval of an act of retaliation. The news was a heartening reassurance to many that Uncle Samson still has muscles, though slow to anger.

2.—Why didn't the British send warships to the area? It was a British plane that was brutally shot down, not an American—though six of the 18 passengers and crewmen were American. An Anglo-American show of force might have done more good in that part of the world than a dozen high-level diplomatic meetings in Washington and London.

Ireland (pop. 4,000,000) has conducted a searching study of its "complex and disturbing" population problems. Findings: "While the population of most other countries has increased, the population of Ireland, which is now only half of what it was 100 years ago, has remained stable over the past three decades.

"The marriage rate in Ireland is one of the lowest in the world and about a quarter of the population never marry at all—a proportion which is far higher than that for any other country.

"Yet Ireland, which has a relatively small stable population, maintains an emigration rate comparable to that of such overpopulated countries as Italy."

The study shows that the population decline began with the "Great Famine" of 1846-47. A further decline emerged from the crop failure in 1879-80. The loss of population between 1911 and 1926, the study decided, was "probably due to the First World War and the political changes of the 1920's." The Irish population has not changed since 1926.

The Irish census of 1940 showed that the number of persons of Irish origin (born in Ireland or with at least one parent born in Ireland) in the United States was 2,788,187. Most of these had lived in the rural sections of Ireland, but 90 per cent of them lived in U. S. Urban centers. The great loss of population in Ireland has been in the rural areas.

My friend Rex Smith of American Airlines was not impressed by the gripe from a Miami commercial airline pilot printed here the other day. He writes:

"The recent pilot dispute concerned only nonstop pilots. We repeat: They fly 85 hours a month. They work 10 days and they have 20 days off. Our nonstop pilots average 22 hours between each leg of their flights . . . The pilot who wrote you seems like a hard-luck fellow to me. I think he's wrong in claiming that the pilots' association is solely responsible for the current safety regulations. These regulations were instituted by pilots, the government, the companies and the manufacturers. Everybody."

Recently wrote a little piece about a child of ours whose daily postcard from his camp invariably read, "Dear Mom and Pop, I am having a nice time at camp. I hope you are having a nice time not here. Your loving son, Dennis."

Dennis doesn't read me. But another boy took the piece to him. I gather Dennis didn't like it. He has made a radical change in his cards. They now read, "Dear Mom, I am having a nice time at camp. I hope you are having a nice time not here. Your loving son, Dennis."

Tax Assessment Hearing Asked

A petition was filed in Mineral County Circuit Court in Keyser, W. Va., yesterday by the Western Maryland Railroad Company requesting a hearing on its appeal from the assessment of its property in West Virginia by the Board of Public Works.

The petition, filed by Attorney James H. Swadley Jr., Keyser, for the Western Maryland and General Counsel William C. Purnell claims the railroad's property in West Virginia has been assessed too high. It requests that a hearing date be set on the appeal.

Judge Ernest A. See granted the petition, but has not yet set a date for a hearing.

The Board of Public Works this year assessed the Western Maryland property in West Virginia at $11,250,000. At a similar hearing in 1951 Judge See found the value of the railroad's property to be $9,366,000.

The reason the petition was filed in Keyser is because the largest assessment of the Western Maryland's property in West Virginia is in Mineral County.

Rev. Roland Railbe, OFM, Cap., also a former pastor here, will take over duties as business manager of the Catholic Home Journal.

Police Caution Motorists To Have Auto Inspection

State and city police yesterday advised vacationing motorists to "take it easy and live a little longer."

Warnings by Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of the Maryland State Police, and Chief R. Emmett Flynn of the Cumberland Police Department, were the result of a message from Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of Maryland.

The following precaution was suggested:

"Contact your auto dealers, garage or serviceman by phone and make arrangements to take your car for a voluntary safety inspection.

"When this is done and your car is returned you will, at least, feel that you have taken precautionary measures to help ward off unnecessary delays in your motoring trips or possibly an accident that could have been avoided.

"Let's call this plan a voluntary motor vehicle inspection program. The checkup would include examining the brakes, steering mechanism, all lights, windshield wipers, horn and tires."

Mudd strongly urged all motor vehicle owners to have machines inspected for mechanical defects before taking either long or short driving trips.

"The slight inconveniences of driving your car in for a safety checkup may be the means of preventing a serious accident that could bring permanent injury to some member of your family," he said.

Signs Will State Tax Levy On Each Gallon Of Gasoline

Gasoline pumps throughout Cumberland and the state will display small permanent signs telling motorists the total gasoline tax paid on each gallon they purchase.

The message on the signs, one inch wide and seven and one-half inches long, will read "Price Includes 8c Tax On Each Gallon."

A local spokesman said six cents is for state tax and two cents for federal. The signs are being distributed by the Maryland Petroleum Industries Committee.

The committee chairman, C. A. Newland, Baltimore, said oilmen are posting the gas tax reminders on service station pumps because they believe the public needs to be reminded about the gasoline tax.

"Modern computing pumps, which mix the tax right in with the price of gasoline, may cause motorists to overlook or forget about the size of that tax," he asserted. "But with gas tax reminders posted on all pumps, motorists will have their attention called to this tax every time they buy gasoline."

Newland explained that oilmen approved the principle of a reasonable state tax on gasoline as a fair means of paying a just share of road costs. However, they believe that the right to tax gasoline should be reserved exclusively to the states, and that the federal government should withdraw from this field, he added.

He further declared that "regardless of how anyone might feel about the gasoline tax, no one can dispute the right of motorists to know how much it costs them.

Youth Is Sentenced

Arrested in connection with three theft cases, a 15-year-old South End youth was sentenced yesterday morning in Juvenile Court to the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the youth admitted taking $4 from the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, July 18.

Also stolen were $27 from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, 708 North Mechanic Street, and $23 from the wallet of Mrs. William Miles, 222 Glenn Street.

The youth and another teenager were turned over to their parents after they signed statements and made restitution to the printing firm. Then the other two thefts occurred.

Lt. Van said the boy was sentenced as a delinquent minor.

Large Cistern Filled With Concrete Here

The well was 11 feet in diameter and over 20 feet deep. Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, said the contractor, the John I. Vandegrift Company, dug down 20 feet for its bearing wall foundation, and there was evidence the cistern was still deeper.

Tons of concrete had to be poured into it so that the foundation could have proper support, Webster said.

It was probably a community cistern for houses of that neighborhood years ago, observers theorized.

The contractor also found a number of house foundations that were below the present level of Frederick Street.

Only Two Stimulation Cases Reported Among Total 51,624 Starters

Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, today announced that during the first six months of 1954 there was only 2 cases of stimulation at the 39TRA tracks.

The period covered, January 1 through June 30, included 717 racing days during which approximately 5,736 races involving an estimated 51,624 starters were run.

"As a major racing problem the doping and stimulation of race horses is a thing of the past," Drayton said. "Alert supervision, improved laboratory tests and the educational effect on horsemen of the continuing campaign against stimulation have all brought about the desired result. In 1946 there were 38 cases and there has been a continual decrease ever since."

Police Caution Motorists To Have Auto Inspection

State and city police yesterday advised vacationing motorists to "take it easy and live a little longer."

Warnings by Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of the Maryland State Police, and Chief R. Emmett Flynn of the Cumberland Police Department, were the result of a message from Thomas B. R. Mudd, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of Maryland.

The following precaution was suggested:

"Contact your auto dealers, garage or serviceman by phone and make arrangements to take your car for a voluntary safety inspection.

"When this is done and your car is returned you will, at least, feel that you have taken precautionary measures to help ward off unnecessary delays in your motoring trips or possibly an accident that could have been avoided.

"Let's call this plan a voluntary motor vehicle inspection program. The checkup would include examining the brakes, steering mechanism, all lights, windshield wipers, horn and tires."

Mudd strongly urged all motor vehicle owners to have machines inspected for mechanical defects before taking either long or short driving trips.

"The slight inconveniences of driving your car in for a safety checkup may be the means of preventing a serious accident that could bring permanent injury to some member of your family," he said.

Signs Will State Tax Levy On Each Gallon Of Gasoline

Gasoline pumps throughout Cumberland and the state will display small permanent signs telling motorists the total gasoline tax paid on each gallon they purchase.

The message on the signs, one inch wide and seven and one-half inches long, will read "Price Includes 8c Tax On Each Gallon."

A local spokesman said six cents is for state tax and two cents for federal. The signs are being distributed by the Maryland Petroleum Industries Committee.

The committee chairman, C. A. Newland, Baltimore, said oilmen are posting the gas tax reminders on service station pumps because they believe the public needs to be reminded about the gasoline tax.

"Modern computing pumps, which mix the tax right in with the price of gasoline, may cause motorists to overlook or forget about the size of that tax," he asserted. "But with gas tax reminders posted on all pumps, motorists will have their attention called to this tax every time they buy gasoline."

Newland explained that oilmen approved the principle of a reasonable state tax on gasoline as a fair means of paying a just share of road costs. However, they believe that the right to tax gasoline should be reserved exclusively to the states, and that the federal government should withdraw from this field, he added.

He further declared that "regardless of how anyone might feel about the gasoline tax, no one can dispute the right of motorists to know how much it costs them.

Youth Is Sentenced

Arrested in connection with three theft cases, a 15-year-old South End youth was sentenced yesterday morning in Juvenile Court to the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Detective Lt. James E. Van said the youth admitted taking $4 from the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, July 18.

Also stolen were $27 from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, 708 North Mechanic Street, and $23 from the wallet of Mrs. William Miles, 222 Glenn Street.

The youth and another teenager were turned over to their parents after they signed statements and made restitution to the printing firm. Then the other two thefts occurred.

Lt. Van said the boy was sentenced as a delinquent minor.

Large Cistern Filled With Concrete Here

The well was 11 feet in diameter and over 20 feet deep. Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County schools, said the contractor, the John I. Vandegrift Company, dug down 20 feet for its bearing wall foundation, and there was evidence the cistern was still deeper.

Tons of concrete had to be poured into it so that the foundation could have proper support, Webster said.

It was probably a community cistern for houses of that neighborhood years ago, observers theorized.

The contractor also found a number of house foundations that were below the present level of Frederick Street.

Giants Beat St. Louis, 10-0; Yankees And Cleveland Also Win

Rhodes Clouts Three Homers Against Cards

New York Breaks Its 6-Game Loss Skein, Antonelli Wins 15th

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP) — Jim (Dusty) Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 36th homer of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals today.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats. It was the 10th straight victory for the young lefthander who has not been beaten since May 21 when he dropped a decision to Philadelphia's Robin Roberts, the only other 15-game winner thus far in the season.

The victory gave the pace-setting Giants a temporary 2½ game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were scheduled to meet the Chicago Cubs tonight.

Rhodes, in the lineup only because Manager Leo Durocher had decided to bench Monte Irvin, drove in four runs with his trio of homers. He also contributed a specular backhanded catch in left field.

It was the second time in his brief major league career that Rhodes had hit three homers in one game. The slugging outfielder rapped three last August 26, also against the Cardinals.

Dusty's first homer today came off starter and loser Tom Poholsky in the second inning. His second came in the sixth, off southpaw Alpha Brazle. It came on the heels of a tremendous 450-foot smash by Mays over the visiting team's bullpen in the deepest left field corner. Rhodes' third homer came in the eighth, off Royce Lint, another lefty.

Dodgers Defeat Chicago Behind Russ Meyer, 3-1

Hughes Saves Contest By Fine Relief Work

BROOKLYN, July 28 (AP)— Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, tonight, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base. The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Jim Hughes took over from Meyer with men on first and third and one out in the ninth. He struck out Ernie Banks and then also breezed a third strike past catcher Clyde McCullough.

Tribe Edges Boston, 2-1

Cleveland Maintains Lead Over New York

CLEVELAND, July 28 (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox tonight for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American League's first place by two and a half games. Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

The Tribe's winning runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Avila singled to left and scored on Al Rosen's two-base clout to center field. Then Vic Wertz singled to right, scoring Rosen.

Until the sixth inning, Kemmerer held the Tribe scoreless with only two hits. The Boston rookie now has two losses against one victory, which was a one-hitter against Baltimore in his major league debut.

The Red Sox tallied their lone run in the fifth inning on singles by Bill Consolo, Jim Piersall and Ted Williams.

Mantle Socks Homer In 9th To Edge Sox

Hit Comes With Two On For 7-5 Victory; Rain Delayed Game

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP) — Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed one hour 8 minutes by rain, to give the New York Yankees an uphill 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

Mantle's blast into the center field stands, his 21st homer of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shennanigans by rival managers, who used a total of 39 players—only three short of the major league record set by the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies May 4. The American League record is 41.

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week day count in Comiskey Park history — sat through the contest that was finished under the lights and lasted 4 hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sanded, the infield was extremely slippery.

Mantle slammed the clincher off Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had led off the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by rightfielder Jim Rivera that nearly nipped Noren at third.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled a three-run Yankee uprising behind fine relief hurling of Harry Dorish who retired the side with the tying run on second to preserve a 5-4 Chicago lead. Then the big interruption by rain came.

Johnson Gets Decision Over Jones

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP) — Busy George Johnson used a stinging jab and a chopping right tonight to win a unanimous decision over slugging Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., the 8 to 5 favorite, in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Jones weighed 157, Johnson 154.

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut.

Only Two Stimulation Cases Reported Among Total 51,624 Starters

Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, today announced that during the first six months of 1954 there was only 2 cases of stimulation at the 39TRA tracks.

The period covered, January 1 through June 30, included 717 racing days during which approximately 5,736 races involving an estimated 51,624 starters were run.

"As a major racing problem the doping and stimulation of race horses is a thing of the past," Drayton said. "Alert supervision, improved laboratory tests and the educational effect on horsemen of the continuing campaign against stimulation have all brought about the desired result. In 1946 there were 38 cases and there has been a continual decrease ever since."

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 28 (INS) — Horace Stoneham, genial checkgrabber of the New York Giants, has often been tabbed as playboy who was letting his club go to ruin.

What his ever-ready critics always overlook is the fact that while he may be a playboy in the evenings he is a smart, shrewd business man in his working hours.

Starting from scratch he has built up a sound farm system that is beginning to show results.

And where other clubs have been spending fortunes for ball players he has a league-leading club that cost comparative peanuts.

A few years ago the Pittsburgh Pirates gave a reported $100,000 bonus to Paul Pettit, a high school boy, who never did pan out as a pitcher.

Stoneham's critics wanted to know why he didn't land Pettit. Stoneham said nothing.

Meanwhile, Stoneham kept building up a club, some of whom cost comparatively nothing, but if thrown on the open market would bring far more than Pettit cost the Pirates.

The fabulous Willie Mays cost Stoneham only $10,000 and the boy can attract more than enough in one week to pay that tab. One of Stoneham's scouts was hunting a first baseman when he discovered Mays and Stoneham told him to forget the first baseman and get the kid.

Sal Maglie, one of the Giants' pitching aces, cost something less than $5,000 when he was landed in a draft from the Elmira, N.Y. club.

Stoneham acquired big Jim Hearn from the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price and he got his star relief artist, Marv Grissom on waivers from the American League for $15,000.

He bought his slugging outfielder, Monte Irvin and his equally hard-hitting third baseman, Hank Thompson, from Negro teams for little more than car fare.

And he signed Ruben Gomez, who should be a great pitcher for many years to come, as a free agent for $15,000.

A few $100 bills landed Hoyt Wilhelm, his knuckle-ball specialist, from a Class D league.

First baseman Whitey Lockman, outfielder Don Mueller and his No. 1 catcher, Wes Westrum, cost nothing. They were developed on Giant farms.

As for pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, Stoneham actually got a little cash with them when he sent Bobby Thomson to Milwaukee in a trade. And he got many years of great service out of Thomson who cost him very little.

Al Dark and Eddie Stanky came to the Giants in a deal for some players who have long since disappeared from the majors.

Only Davey Williams and Dusty Rhodes cost a large amount. Atlanta got $65,000 for Williams and Nashville $25,000 for Rhodes.

In other words, Stoneham got almost a whole ball club for what Pettit cost the Pirates. Some playboy is Stoneham.

Marker Is Too Late

MORGANTOWN, W. Va — Bill Marker, West Virginia end during the 1953 season and a June graduate, missed out of playing in the annual College All-Star Football Game in Chicago next month by a few hours. The stalwart end from Uniontown, Penn., was supposed to notify officials of his acceptance by 11 one night last week, but taking his girl to the Pittsburgh Light Opera, it slipped his mind until the next day. When he called, it was too late. The officials were sorry, but they had accepted someone else.

New York Breaks Its 6-Game Loss Skein, Antonelli Wins 15th

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP) — Jim (Dusty) Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 36th homer of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals today.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats. It was the 10th straight victory for the young lefthander who has not been beaten since May 21 when he dropped a decision to Philadelphia's Robin Roberts, the only other 15-game winner thus far in the season.

The victory gave the pace-setting Giants a temporary 2½ game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were scheduled to meet the Chicago Cubs tonight.

Rhodes, in the lineup only because Manager Leo Durocher had decided to bench Monte Irvin, drove in four runs with his trio of homers. He also contributed a specular backhanded catch in left field.

It was the second time in his brief major league career that Rhodes had hit three homers in one game. The slugging outfielder rapped three last August 26, also against the Cardinals.

Dusty's first homer today came off starter and loser Tom Poholsky in the second inning. His second came in the sixth, off southpaw Alpha Brazle. It came on the heels of a tremendous 450-foot smash by Mays over the visiting team's bullpen in the deepest left field corner. Rhodes' third homer came in the eighth, off Royce Lint, another lefty.

Dodgers Defeat Chicago Behind Russ Meyer, 3-1

Hughes Saves Contest By Fine Relief Work

BROOKLYN, July 28 (AP)— Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, tonight, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base. The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Jim Hughes took over from Meyer with men on first and third and one out in the ninth. He struck out Ernie Banks and then also breezed a third strike past catcher Clyde McCullough.

Tribe Edges Boston, 2-1

Cleveland Maintains Lead Over New York

CLEVELAND, July 28 (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox tonight for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American League's first place by two and a half games. Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

The Tribe's winning runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Avila singled to left and scored on Al Rosen's two-base clout to center field. Then Vic Wertz singled to right, scoring Rosen.

Until the sixth inning, Kemmerer held the Tribe scoreless with only two hits. The Boston rookie now has two losses against one victory, which was a one-hitter against Baltimore in his major league debut.

The Red Sox tallied their lone run in the fifth inning on singles by Bill Consolo, Jim Piersall and Ted Williams.

Mantle Socks Homer In 9th To Edge Sox

Hit Comes With Two On For 7-5 Victory; Rain Delayed Game

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP) — Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed one hour 8 minutes by rain, to give the New York Yankees an uphill 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

Mantle's blast into the center field stands, his 21st homer of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shennanigans by rival managers, who used a total of 39 players—only three short of the major league record set by the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies May 4. The American League record is 41.

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week day count in Comiskey Park history — sat through the contest that was finished under the lights and lasted 4 hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sanded, the infield was extremely slippery.

Mantle slammed the clincher off Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had led off the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by rightfielder Jim Rivera that nearly nipped Noren at third.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled a three-run Yankee uprising behind fine relief hurling of Harry Dorish who retired the side with the tying run on second to preserve a 5-4 Chicago lead. Then the big interruption by rain came.

Johnson Gets Decision Over Jones

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut.

The Old Germans notched their 15th win of the campaign yesterday in the City Softball League by defeating Gehauf's Amoco, 7-3, at Stitcher Field.

Behind the four-hit pitching of Wayne Lewis, who chalked up his fifth win of the year, the Old Germans made it five victories in their last seven starts.

Lewis, settling down after a shaky start, permitted only one hit in the last six innings and threw the third strike past nine Amoco batters.

Don Basilio paced the third place Germans with a double and two singles and Bob Mattingly collected a three-bagger and single. Bill Bratt also had two one-base knocks for the winners, the trio accounting for seven of the nine hits collected by the Old Germans off the slants of two Amoco hurlers. The score:

Misses Doran, Lesser Win In 2nd Round

Miss Doran had little trouble in defeating Mrs. Dorothy Ellis Balch of Indianapolis, former Indiana amateur titlist, 7 and 5. Miss Lesser, down one at the end of nine holes, found her par-busting stride on the back nine to defeat Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla., 3 and 2.

In another match, Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, eliminated Mrs. Nancy K. Stumpp of Wheeling, W. Va., 3 and 2, and Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Rutland, Vt., defeated Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 1 up.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Cpl. Billy Maxwell, the former national amateur champion, captured medalist honors today and paced a field of 22 players into tomorrow's third round of the All Army Golf Championship, with 71-70—141.

Rickey Names Baseball's Greats By Use Of Mathematical Formula

Ignores Such Hitters As Terry And Sisler

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Branch Rickey has reduced the evaluation of a whole baseball team and an individual player to a mathematical equation.

The general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has worked out a revolutionary formula which shows why pennant winning teams during the last 35 years have been successful.

In a bylined story in Life magazine, the 70-odd-year-old father of the farm system, names his 25 greatest hitters and 12 top pitchers since 1920, and attempts to prove why through a complicated mathematical formula.

Rickey's findings are mostly expected but some are bound to be shockers. For instance, Ty Cobb, regarded by many as the greatest of all batters, ranks only 23rd according to the Rickey formula. Babe Ruth, voted the No. 1 player of all time in the Associated Press' half century poll several years ago, is ranked at the top.

Ignores Hall Of Famers

Rickey also rates Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' southpaw of the 1920s and '30s, as the greatest pitcher since 1920, above such illustrious hurlers as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Dizzy Dean. Johnson, of course, had his best years before 1920.

The formula, as applied to the gauging and analyzing of team performance, is simple enough, even with the bizarre use of symbols and equations Rickey uses. It boils down to this—the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant. According to Rickey, this theory has proved 96.2 per cent correct when applied to the final major league standings over the last 20 years.

The formula as applied to the rating of individual players, however, is bound to evoke a great deal of dissent. It deals solely with offense, with accent on power. It nullifies fielding efficiency completely.

"Fielding averages?" scoffs Rickey. "Utterly worthless as a yardstick. They are not only misleading but deceiving."

The three basic, measurable ingredients Rickey uses for offense are 1) on base average, 2) extra base power and 3) clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

Using his method, Rickey rates Ted Williams second to Ruth among the greatest players since 1920. Lou Gehrig is third followed in order by Jimmy Foxx, Rogers Hornsby, Hank Greenberg, Ralph Kiner, Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Mel Ott.

In his rating of pitchers, Rickey uses the present method of earned run average. This is the number of runs, exclusive of those scored because of errors, that are chargeable to a pitcher. He admits he hasn't been able to come up with a better method.

Dark, Thompson Try To Break Slumps

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Shortstop Alvin Dark and third baseman Hank Thompson of the New York Giants remained at the ball park after today's games to take extra batting practice in an effort to snap out of protracted batting slumps.

Both players spent over an hour hitting at the offerings of a couple of unidentified volunteer pitchers.

DIFFERENT YEAR

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Last season Peanuts Lowrey of the Cardinals batted .356 in his pinch-hitting roles. This year he failed to get a base hit in 24 consecutive times as a substitute batter. He broke the skein with a pinch triple against the Giants. But the Redbirds lost 8 to 5.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 28 (INS) — Horace Stoneham, genial check-grabber of the New York Giants, has often been tabbed as playboy who was letting his club go to ruin.

What his ever-ready critics always overlook is the fact that while he may be a playboy in the evenings he is a smart, shrewd business man in his working hours.

Starting from scratch he has built up a sound farm system that is beginning to show results.

And where other clubs have been spending fortunes for ball players he has a league-leading club that cost comparative peanuts.

A few years ago the Pittsburgh Pirates gave a reported $100,000 bonus to Paul Pettit, a high school boy, who never did pan out as a pitcher.

Stoneham's critics wanted to know why he didn't land Pettit. Stoneham said nothing.

Meanwhile, Stoneham kept building up a club, some of whom cost comparatively nothing, but if thrown on the open market would bring far more than Pettit cost the Pirates.

The fabulous Willie Mays cost Stoneham only $10,000 and the boy can attract more than enough in one week to pay that tab. One of Stoneham's scouts was hunting a first baseman when he discovered Mays and Stoneham told him to forget the first baseman and get the kid.

Sal Maglie, one of the Giants' pitching aces, cost something less than $5,000 when he was landed in a dratt from the Elmira, N.Y. club.

Stoneham acquired big Jim Hearn from the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price and he got his star relief artist, Marv Grissom on waivers from the American League for $15,000.

He bought his slugging outfielder, Monte Irvin and his equally hard-hitting third baseman, Hank Thompson, from Negro teams for little more than car fare.

And he signed Ruben Gomez, who should be a great pitcher for many years to come, as a free agent for $15,000.

A few $100 bills landed Hoyt Wilhelm, his knuckle-ball specialist, from a Class D league.

First baseman Whitey Lockman, outfielder Don Mueller and his No. 1 catcher, Wes Westrum, cost nothing. They were developed on Giant farms.

As for pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, Stoneham actually got a little cash with them when he sent Bobby Thomson to Milwaukee in a trade. And he got many years of great service out of Thomson who cost him very little.

Al Dark and Eddie Stanky came to the Giants in a deal for some players who have long since disappeared from the majors.

Only Davey Williams and Dusty Rhodes cost a large amount. Atlanta got $65,000 for Williams and Nashville $25,000 for Rhodes.

Marker Is Too Late

MORGANTOWN, W. Va — Bill Marker, West Virginia end during the 1953 season and a June graduate, missed out of playing in the annual College All-Star Football Game in Chicago next month by a few hours. The stalwart end from Uniontown, Penn., was supposed to notify officials of his acceptance by 11 one night last week, but taking his girl to the Pittsburgh Light Opera, it slipped his mind until the next day. When he called, it was too late. The officials were sorry, but they had accepted someone else.

Detroit Blasts Athletics, 10-2

Souchock Hits Two Homers For Tigers

DETROIT, July 28 (AP) — Steve Souchock, sidelined for most of the season with a broken left wrist, came off the bench today and hit a pair of three-run homers as the Detroit Tigers rolled up 17 hits for a 10-2 romp over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 35-year-old veteran, who had been to bat only 18 times, connected in the third and sixth innings off loser Alex Kellner—both home runs barely clearing the left field screen.

Souchock, injured while playing in the Cuban winter league, played left field in place of Jim Delsing, who suffered a sprained ankle in Tuesday's doubleheader. His slugging eased Al Aber to his fourth victory against four losses. The Tiger southpaw gave up 10 hits and fanned seven in pitching his first complete game of the season.

Don Basilio paced the third place Germans with a double and two singles and Bob Mattingly collected a three-bagger and single. Bill Bratt also had two one-base knocks for the winners, the trio accounting for seven of the nine hits collected by the Old Germans off the slants of two Amoco hurlers. The score:

Misses Doran, Lesser Win In 2nd Round

Miss Doran had little trouble in defeating Mrs. Dorothy Ellis Balch of Indianapolis, former Indiana amateur titlist, 7 and 5. Miss Lesser, down one at the end of nine holes, found her par-busting stride on the back nine to defeat Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla., 3 and 2.

In another match, Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, eliminated Mrs. Nancy K. Stumpp of Wheeling, W. Va., 3 and 2, and Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Rutland, Vt., defeated Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 1 up.

Maxwell Is Medalist

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Cpl. Billy Maxwell, the former national amateur champion, captured medalist honors today and paced a field of 22 players into tomorrow's third round of the All Army Golf Championship, with 71-70—141.

Rickey Names Baseball's Greats By Use Of Mathematical Formula

Ignores Such Hitters As Terry And Sisler

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Branch Rickey has reduced the evaluation of a whole baseball team and an individual player to a mathematical equation.

The general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has worked out a revolutionary formula which shows why pennant winning teams during the last 35 years have been successful.

In a bylined story in Life magazine, the 70-odd-year-old father of the farm system, names his 25 greatest hitters and 12 top pitchers since 1920, and attempts to prove why through a complicated mathematical formula.

Rickey's findings are mostly expected but some are bound to be shockers. For instance, Ty Cobb, regarded by many as the greatest of all batters, ranks only 23rd according to the Rickey formula. Babe Ruth, voted the No. 1 player of all time in the Associated Press' half century poll several years ago, is ranked at the top.

Ignores Hall Of Famers

Rickey also rates Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' southpaw of the 1920s and '30s, as the greatest pitcher since 1920, above such illustrious hurlers as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Dizzy Dean. Johnson, of course, had his best years before 1920.

The formula, as applied to the gauging and analyzing of team performance, is simple enough, even with the bizarre use of symbols and equations Rickey uses. It boils down to this—the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant. According to Rickey, this theory has proved 96.2 per cent correct when applied to the final major league standings over the last 20 years.

The formula as applied to the rating of individual players, however, is bound to evoke a great deal of dissent. It deals solely with offense, with accent on power. It nullifies fielding efficiency completely.

"Fielding averages?" scoffs Rickey. "Utterly worthless as a yardstick. They are not only misleading but deceiving."

The three basic, measurable ingredients Rickey uses for offense are 1) on base average, 2) extra base power and 3) clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

Using his method, Rickey rates Ted Williams second to Ruth among the greatest players since 1920. Lou Gehrig is third followed in order by Jimmy Foxx, Rogers Hornsby, Hank Greenberg, Ralph Kiner, Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Mel Ott.

In his rating of pitchers, Rickey uses the present method of earned run average. This is the number of runs, exclusive of those scored because of errors, that are chargeable to a pitcher. He admits he hasn't been able to come up with a better method.

Dark, Thompson Try To Break Slumps

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Shortstop Alvin Dark and third baseman Hank Thompson of the New York Giants remained at the ball park after today's games to take extra batting practice in an effort to snap out of protracted batting slumps.

Both players spent over an hour hitting at the offerings of a couple of unidentified volunteer pitchers.

Pen Mar's Little Leaguers Play At Hagerstown Today

Begin District Four Elimination Playoffs

Fourteen players from the Pen Mar Little League, representing Allegany County, will meet the Hagerstown Nationals today in Hagerstown in the beginning of the Maryland District Four elimination playoffs of the National Little League Association.

Herb Mowery, manager, and Ted Femi, assistant pilot, will accompany the 14 youngsters to the Washington County city's ballpark where the game will get underway at 6 p. m.

Eight leagues will be represented in the first round playoffs for the District Four title including three Hagerstown circuits, Frederick, Westminster, Syckesville, Thurmont and the Pen Mar league.

Players making the trip to the Hager Field site of the playoffs will be Don Lowery, Jack Lowery, Richard Lybarger and Royce Waltman of Ellerslie; Bill Wanless, Ted Femi, Mickey Scalletta, and Mike McKenzie of the LaVale Maroons; Ray Fechtner, Jay Bittner and Ray Browning of Hyndman; Leroy Morris and Ronald Emerick of Barrelville and Richard Perdew of Corriganville.

DIFFERENT YEAR

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Last season Peanuts Lowrey of the Cardinals batted .356 in his pinch-hitting roles. This year he failed to get a base hit in 24 consecutive times as a substitute batter. He broke the skein with a pinch triple against the Giants. But the Redbirds lost 8 to 5.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 28 (INS) — Ernest Borgnine, who played the sadistic serg ..nt in "From Here to Eternity," (so tough that Monty Clift killed him) does a complete rightabout face and goes sympathetic and tender as the star of "Marty" when Hecht-Lancaster bring the popular TV series to the screen.

If you've seen the shows you know Marty as a good guy, unattractive but on the level, who hankers for a nice girlfriend.

Perhaps they caught him in his sympathetic playing in "Mrs. McThing" with Helen Hayes on Broadway. Whatever the reason, they've signed Borgnine to a long term contract.

For a young man, 36, and a native of Brooklyn — Mike has a notable list of credits, "Finian's Rainbow," "Can Can," "Knock on Wood" — but for my money he surpassed himself with the but great choreography for "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers."

His work, I believe, is largely responsible for the unexpected success of the MGM musical.

Talked with Donna Reed as soon as she was able to take calls following emergency surgery on her back in the Salt Lake hospital.

She sounded weak — but game. "I'll have to undergo another operation as soon as I get back home," she told me, "this is just minor repair so I won't hold up the company." Donna's on location with the "Blue Horizons" company at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, or she was before being rushed to Salt Lake City.

It's an abscess on her back, still painful, but the Salt Lake doctor assures her she can finish the picture with Fred MacMurray — then home for the major surgery.

No one in Hollywood was closer to Ruth Bryan Rohde than Helen Ferguson, press agent to Bob Taylor, Barbara Stanwick, Donna Reed, Jeanette MacDonald, Bob Stack, Gene Raymond and many other top stars.

Just a few days before the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, and the first woman envoy of the Untied States to a foreign country, died in her beloved Denmark, she wrote Helen:

"This trip through the Dardenelles and through India has seemed like a second honeymoon to Mickey and me. We visited so many places where I served as a nurse in the first war. How changed it all is — how sadly changed."

Many people believe that Helen and Mrs. Rohde were cousins. They were related only by marriage but a blood tie could not have made them closer.

Hollywood in shorts:

Joan Crawford motored home to Brentwood after a month's tour of Oregon and Washington with three of the kids.

Isn't Gene Tierney being too gay about not caring what Aly Khan is doing in urope?

Although divorced, Sam Spiegel has notified his attorney to do everything possible for Lynn Baggett in her serious hit-and-run tragedy in which a child was killed.

Honeymooning Stan Rubin has a bad ear infection, but it seems better when his beautiful bride, Kathleen Hughes, drives him to the doctor's every day.

Ginger Rogers and Jacques Bergerac (didn't know he was back) were at Ciro's to see Sophie Tucker and looking very happy. Ginger's hair is tres short — and tres cute.

That's all.

President Plans Long Weekend At Retreat

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to get in a long weekend of rest at his Catoctin Mountain retreat at Camp David near Thurmont, Md.

The White House announced today the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are planning to leave for the mountains early Friday morning if the chief executive is able to conclude talks tomorrow afternoon with President Syngman Rhee of South Korea. If the talks run over to Friday, the Eisenhowers will leave during the afternoon that day.

They probably will be accompanied by their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, his wife and the three Eisenhower grandchildren.

The President usually returns from his weekend visits at Camp David on Sunday evening, but may stay over this time until Monday morning.

CHRISTIANE MAGONTIER (front) and Christiane de Beauchaine get directions from motorcyle policeman Lee Garvin after they put-putted into San Francisco on the last lap of their 3,000-mile motor scooter trip. The girls, from Bordeaux, France, are nurses at the United Nations in New York. They made the cross-country trip to "see the United States and meet Americans." (International Soundphoto)

India Rebuffs Portugal

NEW DELHI, India, July 28 (AP)—India today rejected Portugal's request for permission to move troops, police and a civilian delegation across Indian territory to Dadra village, a Portuguese Indian settlement occupied by promerger groups since July 22.

In a note to the Portuguese legation, Prime Minister Nehru's government said:

"We do not and cannot permit movement of foreign troops or police on Indian soil and certainly cannot be a party to the suppression of a genuine nationalist movement for freedom from foreign rule in any part of the Portuguese establishments in India."

Detroit Blasts Athletics, 10-2

Souchock Hits Two Homers For Tigers

DETROIT, July 28 (AP) — Steve Souchock, sidelined for most of the season with a broken left wrist, came off the bench today and hit a pair of three-run homers as the Detroit Tigers rolled up 17 hits for a 10-2 romp over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 35-year-old veteran, who had been to bat only 18 times, connected in the third and sixth innings off loser Alex Kellner—both home runs barely clearing the left field screen.

Souchock, injured while playing in the Cuban winter league, played left field in place of Jim Delsing, who suffered a sprained ankle in Tuesday's doubleheader. His slugging eased Al Aber to his fourth victory against four losses. The Tiger southpaw gave up 10 hits and fanned seven in pitching his first complete game of the season.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

TEMPER BAD IN BRIDGE

IT IS not only bad etiqutte, but bad bridge, to let your displeasure with some act by your partner excite your temper so that you make a bid or play you would not otherwise consider. It is equally bad, if you are on the other side, to let the opponent's mannerisms influence what you do. There is a fine point of ethics connected with this, and there is also the additional point that, if your own act was not based on what you considered sound bridge, you may lose rather than gain by your move. After such developments, apologies are in order.

	♠ 9 6 ♥ K Q J 10 9 8 2 ♦ Q 3 ♣ A 6
♠ A Q 7 3 2 ♥ None ♦ 8 6 2 ♣ K Q 7 4 2	N W E S	♠ 10 8 5 4 ♥ 7 5 4 3 ♦ J 10 9 ♣ 5 3
	♠ K J ♥ A 6 ♦ A K 7 5 4 ♣ J 10 9 8

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South

Pass	5 ♥	Pass	6 NT

South was so incensed at his partner's takeout of the 4-Spades business double that he showed it in his manner as he bid 6-No Trumps. If he had put his demeanor into words, it would have said: "I'll teach you to take out my business doubles." West read it that way, and considered South's slam bid a show of temper, which it certainly was. That's the main reason why he doubled it, when the clearly advertised length of the heart suit made the riskiness appear great. He read South's hand as weaker than it was, with one or more of those honors in the East.

Disliking a lead from his major tenace in spades, he led the club K to establish a later trick there. But never was there any such later trick. South won that with dummy's A and proceeded to run seven tricks in hearts and five in diamonds to have his doubled small slam plus a doubled extra trick.

South then was man enough to apologize to North for his display, a courtesy which that worthy happily accepted, in view of the big profit paid. West was quite contrite as he apologized to East, explaining his psychology, but the smile on East's face was not a happy one as he politely accepted the regrets of his mate.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ J 9 7 5 ♥ A 10 6 4 2 ♦ K J 8 3 ♣ None
♠ Q 8 ♥ 7 3 ♦ A Q 10 2 ♣ Q 10 7 5 3	N W E S	♠ 4 2 ♥ K J 9 8 5 ♦ 4 ♣ A J 9 6 2
	♠ A K 10 6 3 ♥ Q ♦ 9 7 6 5 ♣ K 8 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

If only trumps are bid, what is the smartest defense against South's 4-Spades, but how can it be thwarted?

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 28 (INS) — Ernest Borgnine, who played the sadistic serg nt in "From Here to Eternity," (so tough that Monty Clift killed him) does a complete rightabout face and goes sympathetic and tender as the star of "Marty" when Hecht-Lancaster bring the popular TV series to the screen.

If you've seen the shows you know Marty as a good guy, unattractive but on the level, who hankers for a nice girlfriend.

Perhaps they caught him in his sympathetic playing in "Mrs. McThing" with Helen Haye, on Broadway. Whatever the reason, they've signed Borgnine to a long term contract.

For a young man, 36, and a native of Brooklyn — Mike has a notable list of credits, "Finian's Rainbow," "Can Can," "Knock on Wood" — but for my money he surpassed himself with the but great choreography for "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers."

His work, I believe, is largely responsible for the unexpected success of the MGM musical.

Talked with Donna Reed as soon as she was able to take calls following emergency surgery on her back in the Salt Lake hospital.

She sounded weak — but game. "I'll have to undergo another operation as soon as I get back home," she told me, "this is just minor repair so I won't hold up the company." Donna's on location with the "Blue Horizons" company at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, or she was before being rushed to Salt Lake City.

It's an abscess on her back, still painful, but the Salt Lake doctor assures her she can finish the picture with Fred MacMurray — then home for the major surgery.

No one in Hollywood was closer to Ruth Bryan Rohde than Helen Ferguson, press agent to Bob Taylor, Barbara Stanwick, Donna Reed, Jeanette MacDonald, Bob Stack, Gene Raymond and many other top stars.

Just a few days before the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, and the first woman envoy of the Untied States to a foreign country, died in her beloved Denmark, she wrote Helen:

"This trip through the Dardenelles and through India has seemed like a second honeymoon to Mickey and me. We visited so many places where I served as a nurse in the first war. How changed it all is — how sadly changed."

Many people believe that Helen and Mrs. Rohde were cousins. They were related only by marriage but a blood tie could not have made them closer.

Hollywood in shorts:

Joan Crawford motored home to Brentwood after a month's tour of Oregon and Washington with three of the kids.

Isn't Gene Tierney being too gay about not caring what Aly Khan is doing in urope?

Although divorced, Sam Spiegel has notified his attorney to do everything possible for Lynn Baggett in her serious hit-and-run tragedy in which a child was killed.

Honeymooning Stan Rubin has a bad ear infection, but it seems better when his beautiful bride, Kathleen Hughes, drives him to the doctor's every day.

Ginger Rogers and Jacques Bergerac (didn't know he was back) were at Ciro's to see Sophie Tucker and looking very happy. Ginger's hair is tres short — and tres cute.

That's all.

President Plans Long Weekend At Retreat

The White House announced today the President and Mrs. Eisenhower are planning to leave for the mountains early Friday morning if the chief executive is able to conclude talks tomorrow afternoon with President Syngman Rhee of South Korea. If the talks run over to Friday, the Eisenhowers will leave during the afternoon that day.

They probably will be accompanied by their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, his wife and the three Eisenhower grandchildren.

The President usually returns from his weekend visits at Camp David on Sunday evening, but may stay over this time until Monday morning.

CHRISTIANE MAGONTIER (front) and Christiane de Beauchaine get directions from motorcycle policeman Lee Garvin after they put-putted into San Francisco on the last lap of their 3,000-mile motor scooter trip. The girls, from Bordeaux, France, are nurses at the United Nations in New York. They made the cross-country trip to "see the United States and meet Americans." (International Soundphoto)

India Rebuffs Portugal

NEW DELHI, India, July 28 (AP)—India today rejected Portugal's request for permission to move troops, police and a civilian delegation across Indian territory to Dadra village, a Portuguese Indian settlement occupied by promerger groups since July 22.

In a note to the Portuguese legation, Prime Minister Nehru's government said:

"We do not and cannot permit movement of foreign troops or police on Indian soil and certainly cannot be a party to the suppression of a genuine nationalist movement for freedom from foreign rule in any part of the Portuguese establishments in India."

There are more than 45 races in India.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Daily Bridge Lesson

TEMPER BAD IN BRIDGE

IT IS not only bad etiqutte, but bad bridge, to let your displeasure with some act by your partner excite your temper so that you make a bid or play you would not otherwise consider. It is equally bad, if you are on the other side, to let the opponent's mannerisms influence what you do. There is a fine point of ethics connected with this, and there is also the additional point that, if your own act was not based on what you considered sound bridge, you may lose rather than gain by your move. After such developments, apologies are in order.

South was so incensed at his partner's takeout of the 4-Spades business double that he showed it in his manner as he bid 6-No Trumps. If he had put his demeanor into words, it would have said: "I'll teach you to take out my business doubles." West read it that way, and considered South's slam bid a show of temper, which it certainly was. That's the main reason why he doubled it, when the clearly advertised length of the heart suit made the riskiness appear great. He read South's hand as weaker than it was, with one or more of those honors in the East.

Disliking a lead from his major tenace in spades, he led the club K to establish a later trick there. But never was there any such later trick. South won that with dummy's A and proceeded to run seven tricks in hearts and five in diamonds to have his doubled small slam plus a doubled extra trick.

South then was man enough to apologize to North for his display, a courtesy which that worthy happily accepted, in view of the big profit paid. West was quite contrite as he apologized to East, explaining his psychology, but the smile on East's face was not a happy one as he politely accepted the regrets of his mate.

If only trumps are bid, what is the smartest defense against South's 4-Spades, but how can it be thwarted?

DWELLING—PLUS INCOME

Due to owner leaving the City soon, I am offering a well built brick West Side dwelling which readily shows signs of much time and attention given to making a sturdy, tidy and desirable residence, even down to a lovely rear yard.

Owners occupy the 4 room and bath first floor and have a $150 monthly income from 2nd and 3rd floor apartments.

Purchased in 1948 the work and expense of renovating and modernizing has been considerable AND all of this is a gift to you at the $9850 sale price. To one who feels it difficult to acquire and finally pay-out on a home, take this and let it pay for itself. Must be seen to fully appreciate.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity. William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7/25; Josephine Rice—6/25; Catherine G. Shuck—6/25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6/25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Market Advances Despite Trading Cross-Currents

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Fitful cross-currents of trading pushed the Stock Market about irregularly today, but it managed to close with a slight net gain.

Steels were under fire all day and closed down fractions to around a point. The railroads were higher most of the session, and then just before the close several key issues weakened enough to pull the rails down as a group.

Oils were firm. Motors were mixed. Utilities were higher. Most chemicals and electrical equipments were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $132.30. The industrial component of the average advanced 20 cents at a new high of $179.00, and the utilities were up 30 cents at a new high of $63.50, but the railroads stepped back 20 cents. Volume was heavy at 2,740,000 shares.

Avco Mfg. was the day's most active issue up ¼ at 5½ on 40,600 shares. It was followed by Southern Pacific unchanged at 45, General Dynamics up 3 at 58½, National Distillers up ¾ at 20¼, and Central Hudson Gas off ⅜ at 15.

Domestic watch makers scored after President Eisenhower approved a 50 per cent hike in the customs duties on watch imports. Bulova was up 2 at 47, Elgin National Watch up 2 at 14½. Benrus on the American, an importer, lost ½ at 10⅛.

City May Decide On Filter Work Bids Monday

Estimates Exceed Available Funds

A decision on plans for modernizing the 12 old filters at the Lake Gordon filtration plant may be reached by the Mayor and Council on Monday morning.

The city officials held a special meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves to talk over the problem of how to do the work with available funds. All were asked to meet Monday at 9 a.m., prior to the regular Council meeting, to make a definite decision.

When bids on the work were opened on June 15, the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company submitted the low bid of $298,830. Two other firms entered their bids for the construction.

But action on the bids was stymied by the fact that only $243,000 was available.

Could Defer Part

Yesterday, city officials discussed what items in the contract could be deferred without adding additional expense if the contract were to be awarded and completed up to the amount of funds available. This plan would depend upon completing the project with funds made available by the General Assembly when it meets in January.

The other possible action is to reject all of the bids which were submitted in June and then readvertise for the urgent work which could be paid for with available funds.

The deferred items could be advertised after funds are provided by the Legislature.

It is understood there would be some objection to this from the contractors, since the bids were "unit" bids which specified the actual amounts of each phase of the work, and not lump-sum bids.

Discuss Third Dam

There was also a brief discussion on a third dam at the Lake Gordon watershed.

Mayor Eves said that problem should be gone into thoroughly when the two major projects, the crosstown bridge and the rehabilitation of the filter plant are disposed of.

He added the State Health Department believes the city could tap the Potomac River for a future water supply in time, since the water could be used, with filtration, after the river is cleaned up.

Street Workers Speed Clean-Up Of Storm Debris

"Please be patient. We'll get to it as soon as possible."

This is the answer the Street Department is giving to citizens who ask that damage caused by two recent storms be corrected, according to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

The commissioner said hundreds of calls have been received as a result of the storms which hit Cumberland on June 26 and July 14.

The clean-up job, he said, is being done according to the degree of importance, adding that the crews will get the work done as soon as possible.

Buchholtz said the city was just beginning to get cleaned up after the June 26 storm when the second hit here two weeks ago.

He said all available crews have been put on the clean-up task, but that it will take some time yet to complete the job.

The annual street oiling program, which began just before the second storm, has been delayed, and will take several more weeks to complete, Buchholtz added.

The oiling crews are now working in South Cumberland, he said.

Pre-School Bus Inspection Is Set In County

The pre-school inspection of buses and passenger cars used to transport students to and from Allegany County Schools will be held August 25 and 26.

A schedule set up by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation of county schools, is as follows:

Wednesday, August 25: Flintstone, 8:30 a. m.; Piney Plains, 10:30 a. m.; Oldtown, 1 p. m. and Beall High, Frostburg, 3 p. m.

Thursday, August 26, Cumberland, Fort Hill High, 8:30 a. m.; Westernport, Bruce High, 1:15 p. m.; Lonaconing, Valley High, 1:45 p. m., and Mt. Savage, Bus Garage, 3 p. m.

Raymond C. Thompson, newly-appointed school bus inspector from the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles, will assist with the inspections.

The insurance policy for the county buses will become effective Monday, August 9, which will provide over two week's time to permit any and all bus owners to have equipment checked or overhauled at a garage.

Circus Will Present 2 Performances Here

Proceeds Will Aid Crippled Children

The three-ring Kelly-Morris Circus will present a matinee and an evening performance at Community Ball Park Monday, the Cumberland Exchange Club announced yesterday.

The Exchange Club, sponsor for the local showings of the circus, will turn over its share of the proceeds to the brace clinic of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

A matinee performance will be presented at 2 p. m., and the evening showing at 8 p. m.

The circus will move into town Sunday night in trucks, and will immediately begin setting up the Big Top for Monday's performances.

Among the attractions will be members of the Cristiani Family, famed acrobats, aerialists and equestrians who appeared here last year in the Exchange-sponsored King Brothers & Cristiani Circus, which has since disbanded.

Captain Enger, only one-armed lion tamer in the business, will present a demonstration of the expert animal trainer's cool-nerved skill as he puts many of the show's biggest cats through their paces.

The circus also has a great many elephant acts and other standard circus attractions.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Exchange Club, or at any of several local stores and business places. The club will operate its ticket booth at Baltimore and Centre streets again Friday.

Some 2,000 tickets are being distributed through local social work agencies to deserving children, free of charge. The tickets have been bought for the children by local merchants.

The Kelly-Morris Circus, with headquarters in Havana, Ill., and winter quarters in Daytona Beach, Fla., will play here as part of its first tour of the Eastern United States.

Camp Potomac To Get Public Address System

The Cumberland District of Potomas Council Boy Scouts voted at its last meeting to purchase a public address system to be used at Camp Potomac, near Oldtown.

District commissioner William T. Allee discussed the possibility of donating a piece of equipment to the camp and a motion was made and unanimously approved to purchase the speaker system.

The total cost of the system, not to exceed $500, will be paid for out of funds in the district treasury.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said that the system will be used in the camp mess hall and also for events held outdoors. It will include microphonic and phonographic equipment.

The district also voted to hold its next meeting in the form of a picnic at Camp Potomac on August 22, beginning in the afternoon.

Included on the program of the forthcoming district picnic will be a new type of entertainment called Mo-Skeet. This sport is similar to skeet shooting, but much less expensive.

Camp Potomac is now conducting its third week of summer activities, with five groups of Boys Scouts now using the camp facilities.

The troops which are now in camp and their leaders are St. Patrick's Catholic Church Troop 14 and St. Mary's Catholic Church Troop 8, Jasper Morris, provisional leader; First Presbyterian Church Troop 13 and Centre Street Methodist Church Troop 4, Harrison Lewis, provisional leader.

First Methodist Church, Frostburg, Troop 42, Howard Ward and A. J. Dickey, leaders; St. John's Episcopal Church, Frostburg, Troop 48, John L. Dunkle; and Tioga Tribe, Improved Order of Redmen, Midland, Troop 65, Raymond Robertson, leader.

Troop 4 is spending its second week at Camp Potomac, which will be held for two more weeks.

The Weather

Cumberland continued to edge toward another "hot spell" yesterday as the high official temperature surpassed the previous day's high mark by one degree. The official high recording yesterday was 90, the low was 58 and at 6 p. m. the relative humidity registered 43 per cent. Ol' Man Weather will no doubt continue to "bear down" today as the forecast says it will be fair and hot, with the high between 88 and 96.

Thompson To Return To Cumberland Today

Alban C. Thompson, magistrate of Juvenile Court, is expected to return to Cumberland today from Pittsburgh, where he has been recuperating from a recent illness.

It is not known how soon he will resume his duties in Juvenile Court, which he relinquished on May 12.

Pine Avenue Playground Names Queen

Pine Avenue Playground has elected Jojacqueline Peck as its queen. She will represent Pine Avenue in the intra-city playground parade to be held next month.

Her attendants are Frances Louise Smith and Wilma Jean Barnes and the Tiny Tot attendants are Debra Beckward and Rae Wilson.

The theme for Pine Avenue's parade float was also announced last night. "Howdy Doody" will serve as the theme for the float and will be patterned after the children's television program of the same name.

The small playground children will act as puppets, while the older members will portray other roles. Appropriate costumes will be used.

Today is Picnic Day at the playground from 10 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. Swimming races, games, and dancing will be held, with prizes offered to the winners of all contests. Free drinks will be furnished.

Tomorrow at Pine Avenue a what- not show will be held, with prizes being offered for the largest collection, prettiest, most unusual, and smallest entries.

Driver Fined $25, Costs In Hit-Run Case

John A. Sullivan, 214 Columbia Street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on a charge of failure to stop after an accident. Sullivan, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

The accident occurred Tuesday night on Bedford Road after the car being driven by Sullivan struck a hay wagon carrying a group of teen-agers from West Side Playground.

Sullivan was attempting to go around the tractor-pulled wagon and struck the rear end of it. One of the youths on the wagon, Edward Cecil, was knocked unconscious by the impact.

The driver was arrested by Trooper James F. Lewis of the Maryland State Police. Lewis had gone to Sullivan's home to investigate a disturbance there. Sullivan's car fitted the description of the one which struck the hay wagon.

Candidate Urges Changeover To Voting Machines

Commenting upon the recount of ballots in several of Maryland's counties, and deploring the disenfranchisement of some voters as a result of this process, Irvin C. "Irish" Alexander of Lonaconing said he believes voting machines should be made mandatory.

A candidate for the Republican nomination for the House of Delegates in the recent Primary, Alexander has long been interested in politics and civic affairs. Unsuccessful in his bid for his party's nomination, he said, "This does not dampen my interest in the general welfare. If I had been nominated and elected, I would have sponsored legislation to make voting machines mandatory throughout the entire state."

Alexander said he has gone into the idea at some length and has been informed that counties which have voting machines save money and a great amount of time on elections.

Voting machines, he said, are used in Baltimore City and there are 11 counties in Maryland which now have them. These counties include Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Cecil, Dorchester, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Wicomico and Washington.

With voting machines, long recounts of paper ballots are not necessary. It is only necessary to check the machines against the election judges' report, Alexander pointed out.

Long hours of tedious ballot counting are no longer necessary, and results of elections are learned within a matter of a few hours at most.

Alexander said he is writing to George W. Della, president of the State Senate, has talked with some delegates and plans to contact other legislators with his idea.

He thinks the Legislative Council should give immediate consideration to a bill to do away with the paper ballot and substitute voting machines in all parts of Maryland.

Forestry Fire Personnel To Get Special Training

All-Day Program Slated August 2

Some 18 members of the fire personnel section of District 1, Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, will attend a training meeting at New Germany Monday.

William H. Johnson, district forester for Allegany, Garrett, Frederick and Washington counties, yesterday said the purpose of the all-day program will be to drill the men in conjunction with the spotting of fallen aircraft or articles that may be dropped by airplanes.

The men will familiarize themselves with on-the-scene training in order that fallen airplanes or dropped articles can be spotted and located as rapidly as possible.

The training will get under way at 9:30 a.m. and the participants will be divided into teams, Johnson added. At least three of the towers located in the New Germany area will be used and instructions will be given by a forestry worker from each tower, as to the location of the articles.

Compasses and thrust lines will be used in locating the articles. The teams will then go into the wooded areas and attempt to locate the fallen items which during the training program will have been placed before hand.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester from Annapolis, will observe the drill work along with Johnson. The area where the program will take place is about six miles southeast of Grantsville in Garrett County.

Johnson said the ridges in that section are of oak forest land and the valleys of mixed hardwood and pine. Following the drill Buckingham will also discuss other administrative business.

Rawlings Asks Immediate Trial In Assault Case

Oberlin Rawlings, 32, Bloomington, was released under $1,000 bond yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to kill after he reportedly had struck his divorced wife and knocked her to the pavement in a disturbance on Baltimore Street.

Rawlings, who was taken into custody by City Police, had appeared in Juvenile Court yesterday morning on a charge of non-support.

The woman, Mrs. Dorothy Rawlings of Mt. Savage, was examined at Sacred Heart Hospital following the disturbance, in which police said she was knocked to the ground with a right hand blow by her former husband.

Rawlings was first lodged in the City Jail and then was taken to Trial Magistrate's Court.

He was released under $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury in the assault case heard by Mason.

Following the trial, he filed a petition requesting that information be filed for an immediate trial in Circuit Court.

City Hall To Close For Reynolds Rites

City Hall will close at 1 p. m. today so city employes may attend the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reynolds at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The city officials also ordered that the flag at City Hall be flown at half mast in respect for Mr. Reynolds, who served six terms as commissioner of streets and public property.

Employes of the Street Department will attend the funeral service in a unit.

Local Pastor Plans Vacation

When Rev. Frederick J. Eckert, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church, goes on vacation next month four other preachers will fill his pulpit during both 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. services on the various Sundays.

Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, professor at Gettysburg, Pa., College, will conduct the August 8 services and on the following Sunday, Chaplain Edwerth Korte, also of Gettysburg College, will be in charge.

A seminarian, Raymond Hartzell of Silver Spring, will conduct the August 22 services and Rev. Robert Hook, member of St. John's Church, now in mission development work near Washington, will be in charge of the August 29 services. Rev. Eckert and his wife plan to spend part of their vacation on Capon River at Largent, W. Va., and later will travel to Baltimore to visit their relatives.

Once Around The Park

Stanley Louis Cline and Debbie Taylor, making their debuts as equestrians as the North End Playground Festival opened last night, seem perfectly at ease as their mounts pose for the News cameraman. The pony rides are a feature of the three-day festival. Stanley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cline, 308 Piedmont Avenue, and Debbie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Taylor, 406 Davidson Street. The festival will continue tonight and tomorrow.

Missouri, 'Show Me' State, Featured At Public Library

Missouri, the first state west of the Mississippi River to be admitted to the Union, became the Flag's 24th star on August 10, 1821. Mules and a dubious "show me" attitude are perhaps the best-known products of Missouri, currently featured in the United States exhibit at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

According to Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, who compiled information on the state, it is the 18th in area and 11th in population rank among the 48 states.

Missouri is one of the most centrally located states, and is situated halfway between the Atlantic Ocean and the Rocky Mountains and midway between the Canadian Border and the Gulf Coast. This state contains a variety of physical features.

The northern part of the state, called the Prairies Region, is made up of fertile glacial plains and is well suited to the raising of corn and other grains, the chief products of this section. The famous Ozark mountains are the chief physical feature of the south-central part of Missouri, and this highland region takes its name from the mountains and mountaineers of this part of the state. The southeast lowlands region, bordering the Mississippi River, is a rich farming and dairying area.

Almost equally divided between industrial and agricultural employment, Missouri is rich in natural resources. Grains, chiefly corn, are the most important farm products, while meat-packing and its allied manufactures — tanning and the manufacture of boots and shoes—play a key role in the industrial setup. The state is the chief source of barium in the United States, and is also an important source of lead and zinc.

'Old West' History Abounds

Important in the development of the west, Missouri towns provided the jumping-off place for two important western trails and the first transcontinental means of communication.

The old Santa Fe Trail began at Franklin. Independence, currently known for its famous first citizen, former President Harry S. Truman, was the beginning of the Oregon Trail. And St. Joseph marked the eastern terminus for the historic Pony Express, which spanned the West to Sacramento, Calif.

Missouri has played an important part in the history of the United States. Acquired as a part of the Louisiana Purchase, the Missouri territory was explored by Rogers and Clark in their famous western expedition. The Missouri Compromise, by which the state was allowed to enter the Union, marked the beginning of organized attempts to curb slavery in the United States. Bitter border fighting before the Civil War made Missouri a center of interest, and the state was hotly contested by North and South during the war itself.

Famous Missouri "firsts" include the first tax on bachelors. This tax, levied by Missouri on December 20, 1820 and effective January 1, 1821, placed a one-dollar tax on all unmarried men between 21 and 50 years of age. Adding machines, incinerators, twin-engine helicopters, mobile telephones and ice cream cones are among Missouri's contributions to the American way of life.

Another of Missouri's claims to fame was the establishment, in 1908, of the first school of journalism at the University of Missouri. Other educational firsts include the first university to open a school of education, the first manual training school in the world, and the establishment of the first institution of higher learning for Negroes, Lincoln University.

Ownership Of Keyser Radio Station Changes

Potomac State Broadcasting Company has sold Radio Station WKYR at Keyser, W. Va., to WKYR, Inc., for $45,000, according to Broadcasting-Telecasting magazine. The Federal Communications Commission granted assignment of the station license to the new firm.

Walter Patterson is president and secretary of the new corporation, and Robert K. Richards is vice president and treasurer. Patterson and Richards also obtained a transfer of license for Radio Station WHAR at Clarksburg, W. Va., from Mountain State Broadcasting Company to WHAR, Inc., in which they hold similar offices.

The consideration was $90,000.

Glacius G. Merrill is retained as consultant for both stations for eight years. Both transactions took place July 21.

Morals Trial Set Today In Circuit Court

A Barrelville resident, James Bernard Kelley, 33, faces trial in Allegany County Circuit Court this morning on a charge of sodomy, a felony in the state of Maryland.

A criminal information was filed yesterday by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher for an immediate trial, and in a petition filed by Kelley's counsel, Edward J. Ryan, the defendant waived indictment by the grand jury.

Associate Judge George Henderson will preside at the trial at 9:15 a. m. The defendant was arrested on a charge involving a 15-year-old Corriganville youth, who has been committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys following a hearing June 29 in Juvenile Court.

Kelley was taken into custody and lodged in Allegany County Jail June 23, and was released under $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

He was given a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason on June 26.

Two Corriganville brothers, James Porter, 19 and Kenneth Porter, 20, were taken into custody at the same time and following the June 26 hearing were also released under $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

Youth Is Nabbed By Local Police In Purse Theft

A 17-year-old Baltimore youth, who allegedly snatched a purse from a local woman on North Centre Street last night at 9:40 was taken into custody by City Police about 20 minutes later on Henderson Avenue.

Assistant Police Chief J. Frank Gaffney said Mrs. Richard Trexler, rear of 222 Union Street, was pushing a child in a stroller near the L. Bernstein Furniture Company when the youth grabbed her purse and fled up the nearby alley.

A passerby who heard the shouts of the woman went to Baltimore Street and notified Officer Charles Thompson who was on duty just off Centre Street, and gave chase.

Headquarters had been notified and the youth was nabbed on Henderson Avenue near the Route 40 bypass by Officer Thompson, Kenneth W. Morrissey and Detective Joseph Stitcher.

When questioned at headquarters by Gaffney and Stitcher, the youth reportedly admitted taking the purse, which has been recovered.

Local police notified State Police to call Baltimore City Police and check with the youth's parents. Chief Gaffney said the youth reported he left Baltimore yesterday after having had trouble with his family. He drove to Cumberland.

Candidates File Expense Reports

Election expense statements were filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, by two candidates who sought election in the June 28 primary.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, who won renomination on the Republican ticket, had a total expense of $773.24.

This included $512.70 to Joan S. Burke, his campaign treasurer; advertising, $113.60; Barton Job Press, $56.10; matches, $32.95; filing fee, $25; engraving, $13.24; stamps, $12 and Goldfine Studios, $7.65.

Half-Hour Parking Meters Planned For Quick Shopping

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan reported yesterday that half-hour parking meters will be given a trial at strategic shopping points throughout the city.

He said a factory representative of the penny parking meters — which provided 12 minutes of parking time — has arranged to change the heads to allow a longer parking interval for a nickel.

The commissioner said the meters will be used at spots where people want to make quick purchases, and will be installed as soon as possible.

Twelve minutes, he added, provided time enough only when one could be waited upon immediately, but showed the "red ball" if one or two customers were ahead of the motorist.

Kimble Suggests Talks On County Sewage Program

Says State, U. S. And Industries May Help

Citing the possibilities of financial aid from the federal government, state and area industries, Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble suggested recently that additional efforts be made toward a county-wide approach to Cumberland's sewage disposal problem.

Cumberland is ultimately going to have a sewage disposal plant, the senator said in referring to the city's commitment to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company to have the system in operation within two years after the company indicates its intention to locate near here.

He suggested that a joint meeting of all interested parties be held, devoted to working out a plan "to do the job right."

Senator Kimble said the meeting should bring together the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, the Mayor and Council of Cumberland, the mayors of all Allegany County communities and officials of major industries of the area.

Might Be Cheaper

The group, he explained, could explore the feasibility of approaching the project from an area basis and not just a city problem, adding that such a plan might be cheaper for everyone in the long run.

The most compelling reason for an adequate sewage disposal system, Senator Kimble said, is for the protection of public health.

He warned that if Cumberland builds a sewage treatment system and other communities do not, citizens of Cumberland will not be protected from the danger of water-borne diseases.

An official of the Upper Potomac River Board has estimated that untreated sewage from towns having a total population of some 20,000 is in the Potomac River when it reaches Cumberland.

Industries May Aid

Kimble said that if the problem is approached from the county basis, the costs could be spread over the entire area.

There is also a possibility, he said, of securing financial aid from the major industries which are vitally interested in Potomac River water.

Such a plan, he added, might also qualify for government and state financial assistance, since both are deeply interested in cleaning up the Potomac River.

The senator did not elaborate on the mechanics of the plan, but previous discussions on a county-wide sewage treatment system have been based primarily on the use of trunk lines to bring sewage from county communities to the proposed Cumberland treatment plant.

A county plan could be worked out in coming years, since plans for the $2,000,000 Cumberland treatment plant calls for a capacity great enough to meet the need of the area until 1970.

Road Plans Ready

If no agreement can be reached on such a plan, the senator added, Cumberland must "go on its own" in plans for the plant.

He reported that as soon as Pittsburgh Plate says it will build the plant, Governor McKeldin has instructed the Maryland State Roads Commission to proceed with plans for highways leading to the North Branch site.

The work will include the widening of State Route 51 from Evitts Creek and a new highway from Route 51 to North Branch.

This road work, he added, will make from 400 to 500 jobs available for area workers.

Meets With Board

While in Baltimore recently, Mayor Roy W. Eves met with the Maryland Board of Health to brief that group on the status of the sewage disposal plan.

Mayor Eves said the board expressed satisfaction with city plans for proceeding with the project.

He explained that the city cannot begin the work until a bond issue is authorized by the General Assembly, which meets in January.

Mayor Eves explained the city could advertise and secure bids so the contract could be awarded as soon as the money is available.

He reported also that the Cumberland Board of Health is forwarding to the state periodic analyses of water conditions in the Potomac River at North Branch.

Rubber Workers Attend School

Three members of Local 26, URWA (CIO), are back at work at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company after attending the fourth annual United Rubber Workers Summer School at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, last week.

Colbert was elected president of the six-member Student Council, the governing body of the some 50 rubber workers who attended the school.

In addition to the regular courses devoted to issues of 1954 and collective bargaining and union problems, Miller took a special course in contract analysis, Burke in union administration and Colbert in effective speaking.

Instructors were from the staff of the university, the URW and the American Arbitration Association.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity. William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7.25; Josephine Rice—6.25; Catherine G. Shuck—6.25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6.25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Market Advances Despite Trading Cross-Currents

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Fitful cross-currents of trading pushed the Stock Market about irregularly today, but it managed to close with a slight net gain.

Steels were under fire all day and closed down fractions to around a point. The railroads were higher most of the session, and then just before the close several key issues weakened enough to pull the rails down as a group.

Oils were firm. Motors were mixed. Utilities were higher. Most chemicals and electrical equipments were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $132.30. The industrial component of the average advanced 20 cents at a new high of $179.00, and the utilities were up 30 cents at a new high of $63.50, but the railroads stepped back 20 cents. Volume was heavy at 2,740,000 shares.

Avco Mfg. was the day's most active issue up ¼ at 5½ on 40,600 shares. It was followed by Southern Pacific unchanged at 45, General Dynamics up 3 at 58½, National Distillers up ¾ at 20¼, and Central Hudson Gas off ⅜ at 15.

Domestic watch makers scored after President Eisenhower approved a 50 per cent hike in the customs duties on watch imports. Bulova was up 2 at 47, Elgin National Watch up 2 at 14½. Benrus on the American, an importer, lost ½ at 10⅛.

City May Decide On Filter Work Bids Monday

Estimates Exceed Available Funds

A decision on plans for modernizing the 12 old filters at the Lake Gordon filtration plant may be reached by the Mayor and Council on Monday morning.

The city officials held a special meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves to talk over the problem of how to do the work with available funds. All were asked to meet Monday at 9 a.m., prior to the regular Council meeting, to make a definite decision.

When bids on the work were opened on June 15, the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company submitted the low bid of $298,830. Two other firms entered their bids for the construction.

But action on the bids was stymied by the fact that only $243,000 was available.

Could Defer Part

Yesterday, city officials discussed what items in the contract could be deferred without adding additional expense if the contract were to be awarded and completed up to the amount of funds available. This plan would depend upon completing the project with funds made available by the General Assembly when it meets in January.

The other possible action is to reject all of the bids which were submitted in June and then readvertise for the urgent work which could be paid for with available funds.

The deferred items could be advertised after funds are provided by the Legislature.

It is understood there would be some objection to this from the contractors, since the bids were "unit" bids which specified the actual amounts of each phase of the work, and not lump-sum bids.

Discuss Third Dam

There was also a brief discussion on a third dam at the Lake Gordon watershed.

Mayor Eves said that problem should be gone into thoroughly when the two major projects, the crosstown bridge and the rehabilitation of the filter plant are disposed of.

He added the State Health Department believes the city could tap the Potomac River for a future water supply in time, since the water could be used, with filtration, after the river is cleaned up.

Street Workers Speed Clean-Up Of Storm Debris

"Please be patient. We'll get to it as soon as possible."

This is the answer the Street Department is giving to citizens who ask that damage caused by two recent storms be corrected, according to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

The commissioner said hundreds of calls have been received as a result of the storms which hit Cumberland on June 26 and July 14.

The clean-up job, he said, is being done according to the degree of importance, adding that the crews will get the work done as soon as possible.

Buchholtz said the city was just beginning to get cleaned up after the June 26 storm when the second hit here two weeks ago.

He said all available crews have been put on the clean-up task, but that it will take some time yet to complete the job.

The annual street oiling program, which began just before the second storm, has been delayed, and will take several more weeks to complete, Buchholtz added.

The oiling crews are now working in South Cumberland, he said.

Pre-School Bus Inspection Is Set In County

The pre-school inspection of buses and passenger cars used to transport students to and from Allegany County Schools will be held August 25 and 26.

A schedule set up by Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation of county schools, is as follows:

Wednesday, August 25: Flintstone, 8:30 a. m.; Piney Plains, 10:30 a. m.; Oldtown, 1 p. m. and Beall High, Frostburg, 3 p. m.

Thursday, August 26, Cumberland, Fort Hill High, 8:30 a. m.; Westernport, Bruce High, 1:15 p. m.; Lonaconing, Valley High, 1:45 p. m., and Mt. Savage, Bus Garage, 3 p. m.

Contractors are urged to have their buses and passenger cars at the appointed inspection centers at the date and time specified.

Raymond C. Thompson, newly-appointed school bus inspector from the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles, will assist with the inspections.

The insurance policy for the county buses will become effective Monday, August 9, which will provide over two week's time to permit any and all bus owners to have equipment checked or overhauled at a garage.

Circus Will Present 2 Performances Here

Proceeds Will Aid Crippled Children

The three-ring Kelly-Morris Circus will present a matinee and an evening performance at Community Ball Park Monday, the Cumberland Exchange Club announced yesterday.

The Exchange Club, sponsor for the local showings of the circus, will turn over its share of the proceeds to the brace clinic of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

A matinee performance will be presented at 2 p. m., and the evening showing at 8 p. m.

The circus will move into town Sunday night in trucks, and will immediately begin setting up the Big Top for Monday's performances.

Among the attractions will be members of the Cristiani Family, famed acrobats, aerialists and equestrians who appeared here last year in the Exchange-sponsored King Brothers & Cristiani Circus, which has since disbanded.

Captain Enger, only one-armed lion tamer in the business, will present a demonstration of the expert animal trainer's cool-nerved skill as he puts many of the show's biggest cats through their paces.

A full complement of clowns also will appear with the show, featuring an equestrian clown act.

The circus also has a great many elephant acts and other standard circus attractions.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Exchange Club, or at any of several local stores and business places. The club will operate its ticket booth at Baltimore and Centre streets again Friday.

Some 2,000 tickets are being distributed through local social work agencies to deserving children, free of charge. The tickets have been bought for the children by local merchants.

The Kelly-Morris Circus, with headquarters in Havana, Ill., and winter quarters in Daytona Beach, Fla., will play here as part of its first tour of the Eastern United States.

Camp Potomac To Get Public Address System

The Cumberland District of Potomas Council Boy Scouts voted at its last meeting to purchase a public address system to be used at Camp Potomac, near Oldtown.

District commissioner William T. Allee discussed the possibility of donating a piece of equipment to the camp and a motion was made and unanimously approved to purchase the speaker system.

The total cost of the system, not to exceed $500, will be paid for out of funds in the district treasury.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said that the system will be used in the camp mess hall and also for events held outdoors. It will include microphonic and phonographic equipment.

The district also voted to hold its next meeting in the form of a picnic at Camp Potomac on August 22, beginning in the afternoon.

Included on the program of the forthcoming district picnic will be a new type of entertainment called Mo-Skeet. This sport is similar to skeet shooting, but much less expensive.

Camp Potomac is now conducting its third week of summer activities, with five groups of Boys Scouts now using the camp facilities.

The troops which are now in camp and their leaders are St. Patrick's Catholic Church Troop 14 and St. Mary's Catholic Church Troop 8, Jasper Morris, provisional leader; First Presbyterian Church Troop 13 and Centre Street Methodist Church Troop 4, Harrison Lewis, provisional leader.

First Methodist Church, Frostburg, Troop 42, Howard Ward and A. J. Dickey, leaders; St. John's Episcopal Church, Frostburg, Troop 48, John L. Dunkle; and Tioga Tribe, Improved Order of Redmen, Midland, Troop 65, Raymond Robertson, leader.

Troop 4 is spending its second week at Camp Potomac, which will be held for two more weeks.

Driver Fined $25, Costs In Hit-Run Case

John A. Sullivan, 214 Columbia Street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court on a charge of failure to stop after an accident. Sullivan, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

The accident occurred Tuesday night on Bedford Road after the car being driven by Sullivan struck a hay wagon carrying a group of teen-agers from West Side Playground.

Sullivan was attempting to go around the tractor-pulled wagon and struck the rear end of it. One of the youths on the wagon, Edward Cecil, was knocked unconscious by the impact.

The driver was arrested by Trooper James F. Lewis of the Maryland State Police. Lewis had gone to Sullivan's home to investigate a disturbance there. Sullivan's car fitted the description of the one which struck the hay wagon.

Candidate Urges Changeover To Voting Machines

Commenting upon the recount of ballots in several of Maryland's counties, and deploring the disenfranchisement of some voters as a result of this process, Irvin C. "Irish" Alexander of Lonaconing said he believes voting machines should be made mandatory.

A candidate for the Republican nomination for the House of Delegates in the recent Primary, Alexander has long been interested in politics and civic affairs. Unsuccessful in his bid for his party's nomination, he said, "This does not dampen my interest in the general welfare. If I had been nominated and elected, I would have sponsored legislation to make voting machines mandatory throughout the entire state."

Alexander said he has gone into the idea at some length and has been informed that counties which have voting machines save money and a great amount of time on elections.

Voting machines, he said, are used in Baltimore City and there are 11 counties in Maryland which now have them. These counties include Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Cecil, Dorchester, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Wicomico and Washington.

With voting machines, long recounts of paper ballots are not necessary. It is only necessary to check the machines against the election judges' report, Alexander pointed out.

Long hours of tedious ballot counting are no longer necessary, and results of elections are learned within a matter of a few hours at most.

Alexander said he is writing to George W. Della, president of the State Senate, has talked with some delegates and plans to contact other legislators with his idea.

He thinks the Legislative Council should give immediate consideration to a bill to do away with the paper ballot and substitute voting machines in all parts of Maryland.

Forestry Fire Personnel To Get Special Training

All-Day Program Slated August 2

Some 18 members of the fire personnel section of District 1, Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, will attend a training meeting at New Germany Monday.

William H. Johnson, district forester for Allegany, Garrett, Frederick and Washington counties, yesterday said the purpose of the all-day program will be to drill the men in conjunction with the spotting of fallen aircraft or articles that may be dropped by airplanes.

The men will familiarize themselves with on-the-scene training in order that fallen airplanes or dropped articles can be spotted and located as rapidly as possible.

The training will get under way at 9:30 a.m. and the participants will be divided into teams, Johnson added. At least three of the towers located in the New Germany area will be used and instructions will be given by a forestry worker from each tower, as to the location of the articles.

Compasses and thrust lines will be used in locating the articles. The teams will then go into the wooded areas and attempt to locate the fallen items which during the training program will have been placed before hand.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester from Annapolis, will observe the drill work along with Johnson. The area where the program will take place is about six miles southeast of Grantsville in Garrett County.

Johnson said the ridges in that section are of oak forest land and the valleys of mixed hardwood and pine. Following the drill Buckingham will also discuss other administrative business.

Rawlings Asks Immediate Trial In Assault Case

Oberlin Rawlings, 32, Bloomington, was released under $1,000 bond yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to kill after he reportedly had struck his divorced wife and knocked her to the pavement in a disturbance on Baltimore Street.

Rawlings, who was taken into custody by City Police, had appeared in Juvenile Court yesterday morning on a charge of non-support.

The woman, Mrs. Dorothy Rawlings of Mt. Savage, was examined at Sacred Heart Hospital following the disturbance, in which police said she was knocked to the ground with a right hand blow by her former husband.

Rawlings was first lodged in the City Jail and then was taken to Trial Magistrate's Court.

He was released under $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury in the assault case heard by Mason.

Following the trial, he filed a petition requesting that information be filed for an immediate trial in Circuit Court.

City Hall To Close For Reynolds Rites

City Hall will close at 1 p. m. today so city employes may attend the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reynolds at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the Mayor and Council yesterday afternoon.

The city officials also ordered that the flag at City Hall be flown at half mast in respect for Mr. Reynolds, who served six terms as commissioner of streets and public property.

Employes of the Street Department will attend the funeral service in a unit.

Local Pastor Plans Vacation

When Rev. Frederick J. Eckert, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church, goes on vacation next month four other preachers will fill his pulpit during both 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. services on the various Sundays.

Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, professor at Gettysburg, Pa., College, will conduct the August 8 services and on the following Sunday, Chaplain Edwerth Korte, also of Gettysburg College, will be in charge.

A seminarian, Raymond Hartzell of Silver Spring, will conduct the August 22 services and Rev. Robert Hook, member of St. John's Church, now in mission development work near Washington, will be in charge of the August 29 services. Rev. Eckert and his wife plan to spend part of their vacation on Capon River at Largent, W. Va., and later will travel to Baltimore to visit their relatives.

The pony rides are a feature of the three-day festival. Stanley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cline, 308 Piedmont Avenue, and Debbie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William F. Taylor, 406 Davidson Street. The festival will continue tonight and tomorrow.

Missouri, 'Show Me' State, Featured At Public Library

Missouri, the first state west of the Mississippi River to be admitted to the Union, became the Flag's 24th star on August 10, 1821. Mules and a dubious "show me" attitude are perhaps the best-known products of Missouri, currently featured in the United States exhibit at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

According to Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, who compiled information on the state, it is the 18th in area and 11th in population rank among the 48 states.

Missouri is one of the most centrally located states, and is situated halfway between the Atlantic Ocean and the Rocky Mountains and midway between the Canadian Border and the Gulf Coast. This state contains a variety of physical features.

The northern part of the state, called the Prairies Region, is made up of fertile glacial plains and is well suited to the raising of corn and other grains, the chief products of this section. The famous Ozark mountains are the chief physical feature of the south-central part of Missouri, and this highland region takes its name from the mountains and mountaineers of this part of the state. The southeast lowlands region, bordering the Mississippi River, is a rich farming and dairying area.

Almost equally divided between industrial and agricultural employment, Missouri is rich in natural resources. Grains, chiefly corn, are the most important farm products, while meat-packing and its allied manufactures — tanning and the manufacture of boots and shoes—play a key role in the industrial setup. The state is the chief source of barium in the United States, and is also an important source of lead and zinc.

'Old West' History Abounds

Important in the development of the west, Missouri towns provided the jumping-off place for two important western trails and the first transcontinental means of communication.

The old Santa Fe Trail began at Franklin. Independence, currently known for its famous first citizen, former President Harry S. Truman, was the beginning of the Oregon Trail. And St. Joseph marked the eastern terminus for the historic Pony Express, which spanned the West to Sacramento, Calif.

Missouri has played an important part in the history of the United States. Acquired as a part of the Louisiana Purchase, the Missouri territory was explored by Rogers and Clark in their famous western expedition. The Missouri Compromise, by which the state was allowed to enter the Union, marked the beginning of organized attempts to curb slavery in the United States. Bitter border fighting before the Civil War made Missouri a center of interest, and the state was hotly contested by North and South during the war itself.

Famous Missouri "firsts" include the first tax on bachelors. This tax, levied by Missouri on December 20, 1820 and effective January 1, 1821, placed a one-dollar tax on all unmarried men between 21 and 50 years of age. Adding machines, incinerators, twin-engine helicopters, mobile telephones and ice cream cones are among Missouri's contributions to the American way of life.

Another of Missouri's claims to fame was the establishment, in 1908, of the first school of journalism at the University of Missouri. Other educational firsts include the first university to open a school of education, the first manual training school in the world, and the establishment of the first institution of higher learning for Negroes, Lincoln University.

Ownership Of Keyser Radio Station Changes

Potomac State Broadcasting Company has sold Radio Station WKYR at Keyser, W. Va., to WKYR, Inc., for $45,000, according to Broadcasting-Telecasting magazine. The Federal Communications Commission granted assignment of the station license to the new firm.

Walter Patterson is president and secretary of the new corporation, and Robert K. Richards is vice president and treasurer. Patterson and Richards also obtained a transfer of license for Radio Station WHAR at Clarksburg, W. Va., from Mountain State Broadcasting Company to WHAR, Inc., in which they hold similar offices.

The consideration was $90,000.

Glacius G. Merrill is retained as consultant for both stations for eight years. Both transactions took place July 21.

Morals Trial Set Today In Circuit Court

A Barrelville resident, James Bernard Kelley, 33, faces trial in Allegany County Circuit Court this morning on a charge of sodomy, a felony in the state of Maryland.

A criminal information was filed yesterday by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher for an immediate trial, and in a petition filed by Kelley's counsel, Edward J. Ryan, the defendant waived indictment by the grand jury.

Associate Judge George Henderson will preside at the trial at 9:15 a. m. The defendant was arrested on a charge involving a 15-year-old Corriganville youth, who has been committed to the Maryland Training School for Boys following a hearing June 29 in Juvenile Court.

Kelley was taken into custody and lodged in Allegany County Jail June 23, and was released under $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

He was given a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason on June 26.

Two Corriganville brothers, James Porter, 19 and Kenneth Porter, 20, were taken into custody at the same time and following the June 26 hearing were also released under $1,000 bond for action of the October term of the grand jury.

Arresting officer was Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks.

Youth Is Nabbed By Local Police In Purse Theft

A 17-year-old Baltimore youth, who allegedly snatched a purse from a local woman on North Centre Street last night at 9:40 was taken into custody by City Police about 20 minutes later on Henderson Avenue.

Assistant Police Chief J. Frank Gaffney said Mrs. Richard Trexler, rear of 222 Union Street, was pushing a child in a stroller near the L. Bernstein Furniture Company when the youth grabbed her purse and fled up the nearby alley.

A passerby who heard the shouts of the woman went to Baltimore Street and notified Officer Charles Thompson who was on duty just off Centre Street, and gave chase.

Headquarters had been notified and the youth was nabbed on Henderson Avenue near the Route 40 bypass by Officer Thompson, Kenneth W. Morrissey and Detective Joseph Stitcher.

When questioned at headquarters by Gaffney and Stitcher, the youth reportedly admitted taking the purse, which has been recovered.

Local police notified State Police to call Baltimore City Police and check with the youth's parents. Chief Gaffney said the youth reported he left Baltimore yesterday after having had trouble with his family. He drove to Cumberland.

Candidates File Expense Reports

Election expense statements were filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, by two candidates who sought election in the June 28 primary.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher, who won renomination on the Republican ticket, had a total expense of $773.24.

This included $512.70 to Joan S. Burke, his campaign treasurer; advertising, $113.60; Barton Job Press, $56.10; matches, $32.95; filing fee, $25; engraving, $13.24; stamps, $12 and Goldfine Studios, $7.65.

Half-Hour Parking Meters Planned For Quick Shopping

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan reported yesterday that half-hour parking meters will be given a trial at strategic shopping points throughout the city.

He said a factory representative of the penny parking meters — which provided 12 minutes of parking time — has arranged to change the heads to allow a longer parking interval for a nickel.

The commissioner said the meters will be used at spots where people want to make quick purchases, and will be installed as soon as possible.

Twelve minutes, he added, provided time enough only when one could be waited upon immediately, but showed the "red ball" if one or two customers were ahead of the motorist.

Kimble Suggests Talks On County Sewage Program

Says State, U. S. And Industries May Help

Citing the possibilities of financial aid from the federal government, state and area industries, Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble suggested recently that additional efforts be made toward a county-wide approach to Cumberland's sewage disposal problem.

Cumberland is ultimately going to have a sewage disposal plant, the senator said in referring to the city's commitment to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company to have the system in operation within two years after the company indicates its intention to locate near here.

He suggested that a joint meeting of all interested parties be held, devoted to working out a plan "to do the job right."

Senator Kimble said the meeting should bring together the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, the Mayor and Council of Cumberland, the mayors of all Allegany County communities and officials of major industries of the area.

Might Be Cheaper

The group, he explained, could explore the feasibility of approaching the project from an area basis and not just a city problem, adding that such a plan might be cheaper for everyone in the long run.

The most compelling reason for an adequate sewage disposal system, Senator Kimble said, is for the protection of public health.

He warned that if Cumberland builds a sewage treatment system and other communities do not, citizens of Cumberland will not be protected from the danger of water-borne diseases.

An official of the Upper Potomac River Board has estimated that untreated sewage from towns having a total population of some 20,000 is in the Potomac River when it reaches Cumberland.

Industries May Aid

Kimble said that if the problem is approached from the county basis, the costs could be spread over the entire area.

There is also a possibility, he said, of securing financial aid from the major industries which are vitally interested in Potomac River water.

Such a plan, he added, might also qualify for government and state financial assistance, since both are deeply interested in cleaning up the Potomac River.

The senator did not elaborate on the mechanics of the plan, but previous discussions on a county-wide sewage treatment system have been based primarily on the use of trunk lines to bring sewage from county communities to the proposed Cumberland treatment plant.

A county plan could be worked out in coming years, since plans for the $2,000,000 Cumberland treatment plant calls for a capacity great enough to meet the need of the area until 1970.

Road Plans Ready

If no agreement can be reached on such a plan, the senator added, Cumberland must "go on its own" in plans for the plant.

He reported that as soon as Pittsburgh Plate says it will build the plant, Governor McKeldin has instructed the Maryland State Roads Commission to proceed with plans for highways leading to the North Branch site.

The work will include the widening of State Route 51 from Evitts Creek and a new highway from Route 51 to North Branch.

This road work, he added, will make from 400 to 500 jobs available for area workers.

Meets With Board

While in Baltimore recently, Mayor Roy W. Eves met with the Maryland Board of Health to brief that group on the status of the sewage disposal plan.

Mayor Eves said the board expressed satisfaction with city plans for proceeding with the project.

He explained that the city cannot begin the work until a bond issue is authorized by the General Assembly, which meets in January.

Mayor Eves explained the city could advertise and secure bids so the contract could be awarded as soon as the money is available.

He reported also that the Cumberland Board of Health is forwarding to the state periodic analyses of water conditions in the Potomac River at North Branch.

Rubber Workers Attend School

Colbert was elected president of the six-member Student Council, the governing body of the some 50 rubber workers who attended the school.

In addition to the regular courses devoted to issues of 1954 and collective bargaining and union problems, Miller took a special course in contract analysis, Burke in union administration and Colbert in effective speaking.

Instructors were from the staff of the university, the URW and the American Arbitration Association.
